Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence,

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act providing for a referendum to determine the will of the electorate with respect to calling a constitutional convention.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. DENT offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by inserting after the figure "1" the following: "(A)"; Amend Bill, page 3, by inserting after line 2, the following "(B) If the electorate votes in favor of a constitutional convention a constitutional convention shall be held at Harrisburg, Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, in the hall of the House of Representatives beginning on the fifth day of January, one thousand nine hundred fifty-four, at eleven o'clock A. M. and shall conclude its sessions not later than the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred fifty-four

"Section 2. Delegates.—The convention shall consist of three district delegates elected at the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three from each congressional district within the Commonwealth as such districts are constituted at the time of the primary election to be held in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, and twenty delegates elected from the Commonwealth at large.

"Section 3. Delegates at Large.—The respective State committees of all political parties required by law to nominate their candidates for public office at primary elections shall nominate eleven candidates for delegates at large in accordance with the rules of the respective parties for the filling of United States senatorial vacancies.

"Any political body may circulate nomination papers to nominate ten delegates at large. The number of signatures required on said nomination papers shall be the same as are now required by the Pennsylvania Election Code and its amendments, for candidates of political bodies for Statewide officers. The nomination papers must be filed not later than the tenth day of August, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three.

"Any person whose name has been presented as a candidate may cause his or her name to be withdrawn from nomination by request in writing, signed by him or her and acknowledged before an officer qualified to take acknowledgement of deeds, and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth on or before the seventeenth day of August, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three. No name so withdrawn shall be printed upon the ballots.

"Any vacancy occurring in the nomination for delegate at large may be filled by the respective State committees as the rules of such State committee may prescribe for other State-wire vacancies.

"Delegates at large shall be at least twenty-one years of age and shall have been citizens and inhabitants of the Commonwealth for a period of four years.

"Each elector shall vote for not more than nine candates at the municipal election held in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three. The twenty candidates receiving the highest votes shall be delegates at large.

"Vacancies occurring in the office of delegate at large shall be filled by the constitutional convention from the Commonwealth at large.

"Section 4. District Delegates.—Two candidates for delegate from each congressional district shall be nominated from each poitical party in accordance with the rules of the respective political parties for the filling of Congressional vacancies.

"District delegates shall be at least twenty-one years of age, shall have been citizens and inhabitants of the State for four years and inhabitants of their respective districts one year prior to their election.

"Each elector shall vote for two candidates at the municipal election held in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three. The three candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall be the district delegates.

"Vacancies occurring in the office of district delegate shall be filled by the constitutional convention from the congressional district from which the delagate was elected.

"Section 5. Election Procedure.—The County Board of Elections shall certify the returns of the primary election and forward to the Secretary of the Commonwealth copies of the rturns so certified.

"Nominations, elections and returns of elections for all delegates shall conform to the provisions of the Pennsylvania Election Code and its amendments.

"The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall certify the return of said election to the Governor who shall issue a certificate of election to each delegate so chosen.

"Any vacancy occurring in the nomination for delegate at large or district delegate may be filled by the respective State committees as the rules of such State committees may prescribe for other State-wide and district vacancies.

"Section 6. Organization of Convention.—The constitutional convention shall be called to order by the Governor and shall immediately organize by electing a president, secretary and such other officers as shall be necessary for the transaction of its business. It shall have the power to adopt rules of procedure finally to determine the election and qualification of delegates and generally to adjourn to such time or times and such place or places as it shall determine.

"Section 7. Duties of Convention.—The said convention so elected, assembled and organized is authorized and empowered to make an intensive study of our present Constitution, discuss and consider the advisability of eliminating those provisions which have become obsolete, improving and strengthening those provisions which in its opinion should be retained and adding new provisions which may in its opinion be desirable in the drafting of a new Constitution. All changes, eliminations and additions shall be appraised on a basis or standard of what is best for the general welfare, health and prosperity of the people of the Commonwealth: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall authorize the said convention to change the language or to alter in any manner the several provisions of the first article of the present Constitution commonly known as the Declaration of Rights, but the same shall be excepted from the powers given to said convention and shall be and remain inviolate forever.

"The convention shall submit to the electors at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-four a new Constitution and shall frame the question or questions to be placed on the ballots or ballot labels for adoption or rejection.

"The Constitution proposed and the question or questions to be voted on shall be certified by the president and secretary of the convention to the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than the first day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-four. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall enter the proposed Constitution upon the records in his office and shall publish the same in at least two newspapers of general circulation, if there are such in every county of this Commonwealth, once during the week immediately preceding the election. He shall also publish it in convenient form and send a copy thereof to each elector requesting one and ten copies thereof through the County Board of Elections to each polling place for the use of voters during the election.

"Section 8. Adoption or Rejection.—The new Constitution proposed by the convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the Commonwealth for their approval or rejection in the manner provided by the election laws of this Commonwealth. The majority vote of the electors voting thereon shall determine whether the proposed new Constitution is adopted or rejected. The Constitution if adopted shall become effective as provided in the new Constitution or the schedule attached thereto.

"The Governor upon receipt of a certificate of the results of the election from the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall if the proposed Constitution has been adopted, immediately make the proclamation thereof.

"Section 9. Employes.—The convention shall have the power to employ and fix salaries of such secretaries, officers, attorneys, legal and technical assistants and other employes as shall be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

"Section 10. The members of the constitutional convention shall receive a salary of two thousand five hundred dollars, payable in five equal instalments and an allowance for traveling expenses of five cents per mile circular per week for the session.

"Section 11. The members of the General Assembly, officers and employes of the Commonwealth are hereby declared to be eligible for election and to receive compensation as delegates to the convention herein provided for, as well as being eligible for appointment as employes of the convention."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that the Senate might vote on these amendments intelligently, I want to call to the attention of the Senate exactly what the amendments do. The amendments which I have offered put House Bill No. 1 back in the form it was in when it came to the Senate from the House by a unanimous vote.

Mr. President, these amendments are essential and important for two reasons. The first reason is because I believe the committee overstepped its authority. I received a telegram from a well-known legal authority, which I would like to read to the Senate. It is addressed to your humble servant, and it is signed by Thomas Rayburn White, Committee Chairman on the Pennsylvania Constitution, of the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

"Amendments to House Bill No. 1 change original purpose in violation of Article III, Section 1, of the Constitution and in violation of pledge and platform of both parties. Approval of people would not require the Legislature to call a convention.

"Strongly urge restoring bill to the form in which it was submitted to committee."

Now, Mr. President, I believe all of us know Article III, Section 1, of the Constitution, which reads as follows:

Section 1, passage of bills and change of purpose;

"No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended, on its passage through either House, as to change its original purpose."

Then we go into the Senate Rules, Mr. President, and on page 17 of the Senate Rules, Rule 18, dealing with amendments:

"No amendment shall be received by the President which destroys the general sense of the original section, clause, or paragraph. No amendment to bills by the House shall be concurred in by the Senate, except by the vote of a majority of the members," and so forth and so forth.

Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this bill came to the Senate of Pennsylvania calling for a Constitutional Convention. Nowhere in the title of that bill, or nowhere in the body of that bill, did it say there was to be a referendum as to whether or not the Constitutional Convention should be called. Immediately this committee, when it changed the bill from its original form, took from the Members of the House the vote which they cast for a Constitutional Convention. There is nothing in this act, as it is now written, except a delaying action.

Mr. President, both parties definitely and irrevocably contained in their platforms to the people of Pennsylvania the following sections. I would like to read this section from the Republican Platform, adopted in 1951. However, first, Mr. President, I would like to call your attention to the statement made by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in his annual address to this General Assembly said the following:

"This Commonwealth needs a new Constitution. Our present Constitution is antiquated; restricts in large part the power of the General Assembly; and fails utterly to take into consideration the vast economic and political changes which have occurred since its adoption in 1873. Our present Constitution was adopted during a period when there was a great distruct of legislative bodies. I understand that other state constitutions adopted during this same period have all been abandoned in favor of more modern and enlightened documents eliminating outmoded details and restrictions.

"In recent years two different committees of the Pennsylvania Bar Association have recommended adoption of a new Constitution. Both major political platforms of 1950 recommended the calling of a Constitutional Convention to effect revision.

"No one with faith in democracy should fear a Constitutional Convention. The people alone will have the final word as to whether they will accept any proposed Constitution.

"I strongly urge this session of the General Assembly to provide for the prompt holding of a Constitutional Convention looking toward revision of our eighty year old Constitution."

Mr. President, part of the platform contained this:

"The structure of the present State Government was established in 1874. It is outmoded and archaic. It is inadequate to meet the needs of modern times. A new Constitution, dealing with the present day responsibilities and obligations of State Government, is necessary if we are to have a government operating in an efficient, businesslike manner."

Mr. President, we spent something like $100,000 on the so-called Chesterman Committee Report, and throughout that entire report you can read, line after line after line after line, a condemnation of the present Constitutional requirements in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We can sit in this Senate and talk about economies and talk about revision of government and talk about administrative changes and administrative revisions which would mean something to the people economically, and here we have before us the vehicle with which to do it.

Mr. President, we have, however, allowed a committee of the Senate to change that particular vehicle to where today it does not do anything but offer to the people of Pennsylvania a sop. I do not blame the chairman; I do not blame any individual member of the committee, but I do say to the collective members of that commttee that you overstepped your propriety, you overstepped your jurisdiction, when you took this bill, passed by the House of Representatives, and now say to the Senate of Pennsylvania and to the people of Pennsylvania, "We are giving you Constitutional revision."

Remember, Mr. President, that if this State is to survive, if this State is to keep marching forward in its progress, it must have, sooner or later, and the sooner the better, a revision, and a complete revision, of the Constitutional provisions. Remember that we are tied up at this present time because of the inability of the Members of the General Assembly to agree upon a tax program.

Ever since I have been here, Mr. President, since 1935, every two years we have the same fight, because our Constitution so prescribes the actions of the General Assembly that it is impossible for the General Assembly to move freely in the field of revenue raising. Until we get to that point, you nor any other Member of the General Assembly can act intelligently upon revenue and upon expenditures. We have here a makeshift proposition presented to us, one which we have to either take or be criticized for not taking, because the people have nothing better to which to look forward.

Mr. President, I want to say to all of you at this moment, if you accept and give to the people a Constitutional Convention of duly elected delegates, and they present to the people of Pennsylvania a Constitution based upon the living conditions of our modern world, I will say to you that we will answer a great many of the problems which have plagued us year after year, and year after year.

Mr. President, I have presented to the Senate for each individual Member to vote conscientiously upon whether or not he believes the people of Pennsylvania are honest enough and intelligent enough to come forward and give to themselves a new Constitution with which to work. Remember that we, the Members of the General Assembly, are not in any manner freezing ourselves into being the framers of this Constitution. We have nothing to do with it other than to pass the vehicle upon which the people may ride. I say to all of you Members of the Senate, particularly you Members who had something to do with the drafting of the platforms of both political parties, that you owe it to yourselves, to your political party and to the people, to live up to those platform pledges.

Mr. President, if we, as a group, known as politicians, have fallen to a new low in this Country, it is because year after year we have stood upon the platforms and promised the people great changes and great economies, and then we have come down to our respective political jobs and have forgotten completely about them.

We have stood before the people of this great Commonwealth, Mr. President, and we have said to them, "We will give you the opportunity to adopt or reject a new Constitution." That is exactly what you said to the people, and that is what we said to the people. However, you are not doing that with this vehicle. You are not doing anything of the kind. You are going to say, "Well, we are going to allow the people to vote whether or not they want a Constitutional Convention."

Mr. President, under that procedure I fear there never will be a Constitutional Convention. I want to say to you Members of the Senate that if the founding fathers had on more faith in the people, or no more courage as individuals than we have, you would never have had the Declaration of Independence nor the original Constitution of the United States of America, because there were great and strong forces then, a certain class of people who were against both of those great articles in the history of mankind.

Mr. President, the same forces today, under other names, are fighting on the inside against a convention. They are fighting against having the people speak for themselves, saying to the people of Pennsylvania, "You do not know enough to write a Constitution; we cannot trust the people." That is what we are saying if we pass this bill as it is now amended.

Mr. President, I say to all of the Members of this Senate that you would be better off voting "no" on the bill itself, which is nothing but a sham and a mockery, than to take it as it is. I ask you now, as men who believe in the political integrity of both political parties, to believe in yourselves. You must have faith in the people of this Commonwealth. You must know that no Constitution written so far back can possibly deal with the complexities of today.

Take the school problem of today, Mr. President, and try to initiate it into the Constitution as it was constituted when it was written. The problem today in our educational system is because we do not have the means with which to set up an adequate supply of revenues and an adequate system of education in Pennsylvania, without depriving either the local or the State Government of other necessary services.

Mr. President, we must sit down and prescribe the rules, new rules for a modern game. In every activity, whether it is in corporation practice, whether it is in the field of sports activities, whether it is in the field of legislative activities, as time goes on new rules have to be written. We prove that right here in the Senate every year. Every two years when we meet in this Senate, we put in bills amending acts which we just passed two years ago.

Mr. President, if the founding fathers, who created the original Constitution, were so awe-inspiring that they could not have made a mistake, then we do not need to pass any laws at all. Why do we meet every two years? Why do we have to change laws today that we just passed the early part of this Session? Before this Session adjourns sine die, we will amend some bills enacted in January. Yet, you stand there and tell me, by the action the committee has taken in this Senate, that those who wrote the Constitution in 1873 knew what they were doing. They knew what they were doing at the time, but they could not possibly have known what we were to do today and what we must do.

Mr. President, we must at least have the individual and personal courage to give to the people the opportunity to write their own Constitution. Those who write us letters one day and say to us, "Vote against this," and then, next week, they write us another letter and say, "Vote for this," they do not know; they are confused. If they are confused, how else can we be? I say to you that we have got to write a new Constitution. We must have the courage to come out and say flat-footedly that this Constitution is not adequate today. You cannot do it with this act as it is now amended. I said that it is a mockery and a joke, and it is. The House of Representatives will never accept it if you send it over to them in its present form. I do not believe that they can possibly, in honor hound, take this amended "critter" and pass it back to the Senate and say, "We agree with you." I do not think that the Members of the Senate here ought to be held up to the people of Pennsylvania as a group of willy-nilly, weak-livered, spineless "critters" who do not have the courage to live up to the platform plank on which they ran for election.

Mr. President, when I subscribed to the platform of the Democratic Party, I fully meant then, and I fully mean now, to stand up on every occasion to vote for any bill that keeps me in line with that platform. I think that every Member on the other side was just as honest when he was a candidate and if he was not, then he should stand before the people, and say that he repudiates the Republican platform makers and he should do that publicly. If he votes for this bill, that is exactly what he is doing. He is saying that the people who framed the platform of the Republican Party were a group of fakers, they were a group of dishonest persons, they never intended the people to have a Constitutional Convention and they prove it by giving you this bill today.

Mr. President, I say to you that the eighteen Democratic Members of this Senate ran on a platform calling for a Constitutional Convention, and every man in this group will vote one hundred per cent for these amendments because he is honest, he is honest in his belief that his party is honest. I think that this is the time when political parties must prove their integrity. I ask all of you to consider deeply the problem before us, and to consider the amendments.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I deeply appreciate the argument of the gentleman from Westmoreland with regard to the need for a new Constitution. I think that there is a lot of merit in many of the things which he said. I know that he will forgive me if I bring the discussion back to House Bill No. 1, which is the problem now before the Senate.

As you know, Mr. President, the bill was amended by the committee in the Senate to present first to the people the question, "Do you want a new Constitution?" If the people answer that in the affirmative, then the machinery necessary will be set up by the General Assembly in order to have the drafters of the new Constitution ready, and have them prepare a document to then submit to the people.

Mr. President, here on the floor of the Senate, as there is all over Pennsylvania, there are two distinct schools of thought. One is as to whether or not the people should first voice a determination as to whether or not they want a new Constitution and then submit the document to them. The other school of thought is that we should prepare the new Constitution and say to the people of Pennsylvania, "Here it is, do you want it?"

Now, Mr. President, there has been a lot of discussion, not only in the legislative halls but in political science groups all over the Commonwealth, as to the better method of presenting this to the people. As you know, Mr. President, this is not a new problem. This problem has been presented to the people of Pennsylvania before, and they have reacted in various ways to it. In support of the first premise, that is that the people should first determine whether or not they want a new Constitution, the argument has been advanced, and very ably advanced, that the cost of preparing a new Constitution will be in the neighborhood of $750,000. If that money is appropriated and expended for a new Constitution, and then the people vote "no" on the new Constitution, you would have a lot of money thrown away.

Mr. President, I am in accord with the gentleman from Westmoreland. I think it would be a fine thing if we had a new Constitution, but there are many things that I would like to have written into it that perhaps he would not agree with and vice versa.

This method of presenting it, as we now have it in House Bill No. 1, is not new. Mr. President, the problem always arises, "Do the people of Pennsylvania want a new Constitution?" Now, it is not up to the Senator from Westmoreland or the Senator from Allegheny to determine that. It is up to the people.

Mr. President, the reaction to House Bill No. 1 has been received with various degrees of approval all over Pennsylvania. I was somewhat concerned about the bill because of the question as to whether or not the original intent of the bill had been changed. I also received a telegram from that very distinguished member of the Philadelphia Bar, and I have no desire at this point or at any time of engaging in a legal controversy with such a very capable jurist. I certainly would be out of my element, and I would not want to cross legal sabers with him at any time.

Mr. President, let us look at this thing coldly and analytically. The bill came over from the House to provide for a Constitutional Convention. The bill still does. The original tenor of the bill has not been changed by the amendments. Now, Mr. President, if this bill had been taken and so amended by the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations in the Senate, so that it provided for an appropriation to cure Bang's disease and referred it to the Agriculture Department, that would be a change in the original tenor of the bill which I think we could all understand.

Mr. President, I would like first to read an editorial from one of the Pennsylvania newspapers. I am very reluctant to thrust upon the other Members of the Senate an opinion from newspapers, but this illustrates something that we are discussing. This is an editorial taken from the Evening Bulletin, which is recognized as one of Philadelphia's outstanding newspapers,—I will amend that, as Philadelphia's outstanding newspapers,—under date of Friday, April 24. It reads as follows:

"House Bill No. 1 in the Pennsylvania Legislature started as a proposal to elect delegates to a ocnstitutional convention without asking whether the public wanted a convention. In its latest form it asks the voters whether they want a convention, but says nothing about election of delegates.

"Those who feel confident that the vote would be for a convention will be disappointed. Yet the bill as now amended is not necessarily fatal to convention hopes, though it may postpone their realization. The short-cut method of voting on a convention and selecting delegates in the same election has been tried a number of times in Pennsylvania, but in every referendum of that kind the vote has been against a convention.

"On the other hand, it is a fact that the last two Constitutions of the State, those of 1838 and 1874, were adopted after the voters had said they wanted constitutional revision. In 1835 and 1871 the voters said yes on the convention question, and thereafter the Legislature enacted laws for the election of delegates.

"So it cannot be argued from the State's constitutional history that submitting the convention question alone is a sure way to kill a convention proposal. Since 1789 this has been the only procedure by which constitutional revision by convention has been achieved."

So you can see, Mr. President, there is a lot of merit in the argument that precedent and history substantiate the procedure of the path that we are following.

Now, Mr. President, with regard to the telegrams which we receive from able jurists, such as Thomas Rayburn White, I would just like to read a short passage from the Pennsylvania State Reports, Supreme Court Reports, Volume 196, which deals with this Article in the Constitution, which was so ably read by the gentleman from Westmoreland with regard to changing the tenor of the act. Inasmuch as this bill calls for a Constitutional revision, this is what the Supreme Court said about interpreting the bill under Article III of the Constitution:

Nowhere in the article is there the slightest reference to, or provision for, the subject of amendments to the constitution. It is not even alluded to in the remotest manner. On the contrary the entire article is confined exclusively to the subject of legislation, that is the actual exercise of the lawmaking power of the Commonwealth in its usual and ordinary acceptation. It is too plain for argument that unless there were somewhere else in the constitution, a provision for cerating amendments thereto, that power could not be exercised under any provision of the 3d article. It follows that a direction to submit 'every order, resolution or vote' of the two houses, to the governor for his approval, does not carry with it any other matter than such as is authorized by the article. As constitutional amendments are not authorized by the 3d article they cannot be within the purview of those orders, resolutions or votes, which must be submitted for the action of the governor."

Now, Mr. President, I cheerfully accept the statement that both of the major political parties dealt with this subject in their platforms. I would like to read—not that it is necessary to refresh the recollection of the gentlemen on the other side of the aisle—part of the platform which was adopted by the Democratic Party in 1952, and which was submitted for recordation in the Legislative Journal on January 26, 1953. Under the heading of "State Constitution" they said, and I quote:

"We pledge the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to vote upon the adoption of a new State Constitution." That is exactly what we are proposing to do in this bill.

Mr. President, the whole crux of the discussion with regard to House Bill No. 1 is, first, which is the best way to present this to the people. Shall we ask them first whether or not they want a new Constitution? Then if they answer that in the affirmative, present them with the machinery and eventually a new Constitution, or shall we spend $750,000 to present to them a vehicle which they may not want in the first place? Secondly, there is the argument, "Does this change the original tenor of the bill as it was introduced in the House?" If I might reverse the order of the discussion, Mr. President, may I say first that, in my opinion, for whatever it is worth and I would not want to measure it along with such weighed opinions as the distinguished jurist from Philadelphia, it does not change the tenor of the bill.

With regard to the method of approach, Mr. President, I think the people of Pennsylvania would like to have the first and the last word on this question of a Constitutional Convention. I admit, with the gentleman from Westmoreland, that there are a lot of things which we probably would like to change in a new Constitution. There are probably a lot of things which should be rewritten in this old Constitution of 1874, but that is not the question which we are discussing at this time. The need for a new Constitution is something that the people will have to decide. If they decide that they do want a new Constitution, that they want us to set up the machinery for a Constitutional Convention, we are giving them that opportunity without first going through all of the labor pains of producing the new Constitution which they may turn down.

Therefore, Mr. President, I feel that House Bill No. 1, in its present amended form, will reflect best the opportunity to give the people the chance to decide whether or not they want the Constitution, and then they can decide whether or not they want the verbiage that is written into the new instrument.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before I begin to answer the learned attorney from Allegheny, I just want to tell him that what he was reading from, the Supreme Court devision, was the question of Constitutional amendments and their relationship to Article III, not the action of this General Assembly in the change of a bill. We are working upon a bill at this time and not a constitutional amendment. What the Supreme Court said about constitutional amendments is right. There is nothing in Article III, Section 1, which says anything about the Legislature working on constitutional amendments. It says the Legislature itself. Neither House can change the intent of an act. You say that the intent was not changed. What was the intention of the House Members when they voted unanimously for this bill? The intention of the House Members was that a Constitutional Convention be called. Now you say you have not changed that intention; that all you have done is say there can be a Constitutional Convention called if the people say so.

Mr. President, the gentleman also said—incidentally, the $750,000 which you are talking about spending, maybe if you spent that $750,000 you would not have a bill on the Calendar today for $11,000,000 worth of deficiencies, and ninety per cent of it is caused because of a fauty constitutional provision in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I call your attention to that so that you will not get off half cocked on savings. You also say that the people are going to be asked to vote on a Constitution before they have an opportunity to vote on whether they want it or not. Well, Mr. President, if they do not know what is in the new Constitution, how can they intelligently vote on whether they want it or not?

Mr. President, I know the answers which will be given. I have gone through one of those campaigns, and your political party recognizes the need for a new Constitution. Yet, in 1936, I believe it was 1936 or 1935, my memory may be hazy on it, we went through the processes of going to the people and what happened, Mr. President? They lined up one group against another. They said if you have a new Constitution, you will have this done to the townships; if you have a new Constitution, you will have this damage done to the squires; if you have a new Constitution, you will change the rules pertaining to professional licensing. They went to every group and told them that if they had a new Constitutional Convention, they would hurt every group in Pennsylvania.

Now, Mr. President, under that procedure, you wil never have a Constitutional Convention. I agree with you, sir. If you say this is what is in the Constitution, these are the provisions, then the people can vote intelligently and you will not allow a few men, selfish in their purposes, to destroy the will of the people, when you said that we are the men who are supposed to have the courage to do things. The people gave us their confidence when they voted for us. If we are going to send every problem back to the people, you do not need fifty Members of the Senate and 208 Members of the House; all you need is a good Reading Clerk and a Transcribing Clerk. All you would have to do is say, "Well, here we have a problem before us. We want to take the Department of Welfare and put it in with the Department of Public Assistance, but I do not know whether that is very good or not. There are some people for it and some people against it." I think it was Gustave Flaubert, in one of his books called "The Candidates," where the candidates had made a speech. The candidate was making a speech and said, "I have been asked how I stand on taxes." "I speak frankly to my constituency." He said, "There are some of my constituents who are for higher taxes and there are some that are for low taxes, and believe me that is where I stand." That is exactly what we are doing here.

Mr. President, you admitted in your platform that there was the need for a new Constitution. You did not say in your platform that you were going to give the people an opportunity to vote on whether or not they wanted a new Constitution. The people voted for you and you said, "We will give the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to vote on the adoption of a new Constitution," and not on the adoption of a resolution saying, "Do you want a Constitutional Convention or do you not want it. You specifically said "the adoption of a new Constitution." That is what you said, and I do not care how much talking you do or how many books you pile up there and read from the past. My memory gives me a link to the past. I do not read what some fellow wrote in an editorial. If that man wants to be a Member of the Senate, let him run and vote. He is writing editorials; that is his opinion, the same as this is my opinion. I am giving you my opinion; you are giving me his. I could tell you a story about that, but it would not be in the proper place here.

So, Mr. President, I want to say, in all seriousness, your political party stands indicted before the people of Pennsylvania if you do not give them a Constitutional Convention. Regardless of how you alibi it, regardless of how you apologize for it, you cannot do other than to admit to the people that you lied to them in 1950. You cannot do anything else.

I say to you right now, Mr. President, that it will be the issue and it will be a serious issue. Let us stand up as men in political life and say to the people that we, too, mean what we say. So often we are charged, and maybe rightly so, with writing anything into the platform that will get votes. If you did not believe in it, why did you put it in your platform? You believed it then, that a new Constitution was needed or you would have never put into your platform.

You say that the people did not vote on it. Yes, they did. The referendum has been held. The referendum was held at the election when they adopted the platform. Do not forget, Mr. President, when the people vote for the persons running upon that platform, they adopt the platform of that party. In that platform was exactly the referendum calling for a Constitutional Convention. I do not care how many times you read from somebody else's saying, you cannot convince me to the contrary.

Mr. President, I believe the people of Pennsylvania fully expect this General Assembly to pass legislation allowing them to adopt a new Constitution. That is what the Republican platform said, that is what the Democratic platform said. As we have in the past twenty years, to my knowledge, lived up to our platform as a party, we are going to continue to do so.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I just want to say a word. I cannot add very much to the presentation made by Senator Dent, the Minority Leader. I was just a little disturbed to observe that the distinguished and brilliant Senator from Allegheny, Senator Walker, should have again brought up this matter of cost. I might say that if he is so fearful of the cost of this bill, he might very well have amended ti to read the same as his bill did in the 1951 Session, and that cost would have been very much reduced.

Mr. President, I would like to say to him further that when the people vote on this in a referendum, they certainly are not incurring any obligation to vote for the final draft of that Constitution, as it would be presented to them later or in another referendum. Even though we have this referendum, it is no guarantee that any moneys expended are going to be invested and bring returns by having a Constitution adopted by the voters in a referendum.

Mr. President, besides that, if he feels that a referendum is so sacred, I might ask him further why he failed to put a referendum feature in his 1951 bill.

Mr. President, I want to say this, too. I want to say this finally, and I do not want to take too much of the time of the gentlemen of the Senate, but I want to say that it is an odd situation, and I believe an interesting observation, that these very people, some of them serving on the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, these people who hold the old Constitution of Pennsylvania so sacred that they are afraid to draft a new one and present it to the people of Pennsylvania, these very people ignored the provisions of our present Constitution, in committee, when they changed the original intent and purpose of this bill.

Mr. President, I do not see how, by any stretch of the imagination, even by the best legal minds of this Senate, we can come to any other conclusion than that the original tenor of this bill has been changed, because originally it provided for the selection of delegates to a Constitutional Convention. It was amended in the House to add a referendum, and then we destroyed the original bill and kept only the referendum amendment. We have Rules in the House, we have Rules in the Senate, and perhaps by doing this thing in two steps we have gotten by outside the spirit but inside the letter of the rules of the House and the Senate. Certainly the Constitution of Pennsylvania applies to both bodies of this General Assembly, and I believe we are definitely outside both the letter and the spirit of our present Constitution.

Mr. President, I will say to those people who hold this document so sacred, and it is a splendid document but in need of some revision, I would say to them, reconsider your position; reconsider the oath you took before this Senate, and put these amendments back in and restore the original intent and purpose of House Bill No. 1.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not intend to talk on whether or not we need a new Constitution at this time, because that is not the question before us. The whole question and issue before us at this time is whether or not we should adopt the amendments offered by Senator Dent.

Mr. President, in the amendments which are offered by Senator Dent, he does not cross out or eliminate the possibility of having the constitutional referendum, or a referendum on the question as to whether or not we should have a Constitutional Convention. If it is as he prognosticates, that if we allow the people to vote on whether or not they want a Constitutional Convention they will vote it down, that they will not vote for a Constitutional Convention, then certainly the rest of this procedure as outlined in these amendments is very futile. In other words, why should an attorney, or anyone for that matter, run as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention if he feels, as Senator Dent does, that the people are going to vote the question down as to whether or not they should have a Constitutional Convention?

Mr. President, my good friend, John Fertig, who is now deceased, and who used to be Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, said the only time he ever ran for office he was elected but he never took office, because at the same election in which he was elected, the people turned down the Constitutional Convention to which he was elected as a delegate.

Mr. President, you have a futile effort on the part of people who would like to come down here and be delegates to the Constitutional Convention. You could not very well ask them to campaign in their districts to be a delegate if, at the same time, they felt the people were not going to vote in favor of a Constitutional Convention. If we first allow the people to decide whether or not they want a Constitutional Convention, I believe it is going to be possible to get better delegates to this Constitutional Convention.

Mr. President, Senator Dent says that if we had a new Constitution, one which is up-to-date, we would not have deficiencies. I do not know how we would save any money. It is going to cost just so much money to run our various institutions, like Cresson, and Mont Alto and those places, and we are either going to provide the money ahead of time or else, after the bills come due, we will have to make up the deficiencies. I do not see how you can operate these institutions for less money, just because you happen to have a new Constitution.

As I say, Mr. President, that is talking on the matter of whether or not we should have a new Constitution, which is not before us. The thing before us is these amendments, and I hope we will stay strictly on the amendments being offered. That is the only question now before us, and I feel the amendments should ve voted down in the cause of good government and common sense. We should first decide at one election whether or not we should have the Constitutional Convention. If the people say "yes," then I would like to see the Constitutional Convention delegates elected in the proper way.

I might say, too, Mr. President, as to whether or not the people answered in the affirmative on the referendum as to whether or not they should have one, for instance, I was elected to the Senate, and the same question appeared on both the Democratic and the Repubican platforms. Just because the people in my district happened to vote in favor of me rather than my opponent, did not mean they were in favor of a Constitutional Convention, because they had to take the platform. As my Democratic colleagues would like to have us word it, they had no choice They either had to vote for "Mahany" or the other fellow. I have never gone there and asked them why they happened to vote for me. Maybe some voted for me because they either knew me or liked me, or they voted for me because they thought if I came down here I would vote for a Constitutional Convention.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wish the Majority Leader and Senator Walker would get together as to what the bill contains and what the amendments do. Senator Walker said that if we pass the bill as it is now constituted, the people will vote on whether or not there is to be a Constitutional Convention held, and then we would go ahead and hold the Constitutional Convention. It does not do that at all, Mr. President. That is why I am amending the bill. I am amending the bill so that if the people do say there shall be, there will be. That is exactly what I am trying do do. Mr. President, under this bill as it is now constituted, there is nothing in the bill which says there will be a Constitutional Convention, even if the people vote for it, because, if you will turn to page 3 you will see that on line 3 you strike out the following: "If the electorate votes in favor of a Constitutional Convention a Constitutional Convention shall be held at Harrisburg Dauphin County" and so forth.

Mr. President, that is what they struck out of the bill. That is why I call it a mockery, because this General Assembly cannot say what the next General Assembly is going to do. This General Assembly cannot pass off onto the next General Assembly what they must do. Why, they could stall as they have on legislation reapportionment now for about twenty years, that I know of personally. Yet, the Constitution says there must be a legislative reapportionment.

Mr. President, you will have the same situation come up. Where you will have the same stalling tactics; you will have the same amount of opposition as you have today. I say, Mr. President, that all we are doing is restoring to the bill the necessity for having a convention. Senator Walker misinformed the Senate by saying that if they pass upon this bill as it is now constituted, the people will say whether or not they want a Constitutional Convention, and if thsy do want it there will be one held. Senator Walker, there will not be one held under this act, because they struck out of it all the provisions which claimed and called for a Constitutional Convention. There will not be any such convention unless some Legislature in the far dim future may decide that it will abide by the mandate of the people.

Mr. President, I again come before you and say to you, in all sincerity, that if you pass this bill as it is now amended, you are deliberately telling the people of Pennsylvania that you did not believe in your platform when you ran upon it. I say again to the Democratic Members, do not be fooled or misead.

Mr. President, I do not know why the people in Senator Mahany's district voted for him, but I am sure they voted for him because they thought he was a very fine man. However, neither did Senator Mahany stand up and tell the people in his district, "I am against the Constitutional Convention; I am against the platform of the Republican Party." He did not, and by his silence he accepted that platform plank, and by his silence he agreed to abide by the decision of the people upon the platform of the Republican party.

Mr. President, I have so set myself up and I believe that he, too, falls into the same category, and Members of this Senate, I say to all of you here this afternoon that if you vote for this bill as it is now amended, you are voting for a fake, you are voting for a piece of unintelligent legislation aimed at fooling the people of Pennsylvania, because you are not giving them any type of Constitutional Convention. All you are saying to them is, "If you vote for a Constitutional Convention, maybe some legislative body with some personal courage will give you a convention, but we will not give it to you because we have not, in plain American words, got the guts."

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, in the time I have been in this Senate, I have learned that there are two ways to kill something you do not want. One is by an outright vote against it, and the other is by delaying tactic.

Mr. President, as a Member of the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, I attended the meeting. As I understand the bill, as it came from the House, it first provided for a vote by the electorate as to whether or not we should have a convention. If the Minority Leader's amendments restore the bill as it was, we will still vote on the question as to whether or not we should have a Constitutional Convention. The part of the bill which was stricken out was the provision for election of delegates to this convention.

Mr. President, the bill has been left bare. As our Minority Leader has stated, there is nothing in this bill which would force the Legislature to pass further legislation for the election of delegates. However, assuming that it does force them, what does this mean? First, we have this vote, and if the bill is killed by a vote, that is the end of it.

If it is not killed, Mr. President, then there is an additional delay as there is no provision in this bill as to how the delegates are to be chosen. Therefore, another Legislature will have to offer and create a bill stating how delegates are to be chosen, and instead of having the possibility of a Constitutional Convention in 1954, as was provided for by the original bill, we may not have, assuming that it passes, assuming that the people want a Constitutional Convention, we may not have a Constitutional Convention for another three or four years, with all the dangers of delay and things which can happen in between.

Mr. President, if the Repubican Party wants a Constitutional Convention, as their platform stated they do, then we should adopt the amendments as offered on this floor today.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like a ruling from the Chair on Rule 18 of the Senate, which so prescribes that "No amendment shall be received by the President which destroys the general sense of the original section, clause, or paragraph."

The PRESIDENT. The ruling of the Chair is that the amendments do not destroy the basic intent of the bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a further point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his further point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Rule 37 of the Senate provides, "No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amened on its passage through the Senate as to change its original purpose."

I contend, Mrs. President, that the original purpose of the House was that if this referendum passed in November of this year, a Constitutional Convention would be called.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that it is a matter of opinion as to whether or not the original intent of House Bill No. 1, as passed in the House, has been basically changed as it appears on the Calendar in the Senate. Therefore, the Chair still rules that the bill is fundamentally the same as it was when it came from the House. The point of order is not well taken.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, am I to understand, then, that when the bill passed the House it had a referendum in it which said, "Do you favor the preparation of a new constitution by a convention"? Now, if that was voted in the affirmative, the machinery for this convention was set up in the bill. The Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations in the Senate took out the machinery for the calling of this convention, and the mandatory features of the bill, if the Constitutional Convention was called by an affirmative vote of the electorate this November.

Am I to understand from your ruling now, if the people vote this referendum in the affirmative, that you say, then, that the fact the Senate removed the whole meat of the bill, the machinery for calling the convention, that we have not changed the substance of this bill as it passed the House?

The PRESIDENT Well, the Chair does not wish the become involved in an academic discussion with the Senator from Allegheny.

In the first place, the Chair does not agree with the fundamental interpretation placed upon House Bill No. 1 by the Senator from Allegheny. On the other hand, the Chair feels that he has adequately made a ruling and does not wish to get into the embarrasing situation of discussing it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Adams permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McPHERSON, Jr. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BARR. Senator McPherson, this Rule of the Senate, No. 37, says, "No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through the Senate as to change its original purpose."

Senator McPherson, do you agree with me that the original purpose of this bill has been changed with these amendments?

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. Mr. President—

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Adams yield?

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. I will, Mr. President.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mrs President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. As I understand it, Mrs. President, the Chairs has made a ruling. It is not subject to debate. The only way that any Senator can do anything after the Chair has made a ruling is by taking an exception, and putting it to a vote of the Senators present. Is that not right?

The PRESIDENT. The point of order raised by the Majority Floor Leader is well taken.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the Chair has ruled that the point of order is well taken. I have been in this same position before, and I am going to ask unanimous consent of the Senate to interrogate the Chairman of the Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations Committee.

Mr. MAHANY. I certainly am going to object, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Well, Mr. President, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader?

The PRESIDENT. Does the Majority Floor Leader propose to permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think there is only one thing before us, and that is the ruling of the Chair. The only thing which can be done now, if the Senator from Allegheny wishes, is to take an exception from the ruling.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I wish the Majority Floor Leader would point out to me the Rule which states that a decision of the Chair is not debatable. What Rule is that?

Mr. MAHANY. It certainly is not debatabe with the Chair, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. What rule of the Senate is that?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, as I understand it, as long as I have been here, the only thing which can be done after the Chair makes a ruling is to take an exception. Is that right or not?

The PRESIDENT. Well, there is no question. Does the Senator from Allegheny wish me to get the authority for the proposition that a ruling by the Chair is not debatable?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am asking the Majority Floor Leader to show that to me in the Rules. I am not asking the Chair.

Mr. MAHANY. That is in the Rules of Parliamentary Procedure, Mr. President, I believe.

Mr. BARR. In other words, you are invoking rules which are not in the rules, and you are not following the rules which are in the rules, as I see it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the Supreme Court answered that a long time ago, and I think it is proper that we now take an authority higher than any of ours here.

Mr. President, the Supreme Court said, in the case of Kilgore v. McKee, 85, Pennsylvania 401, (1877): "So far as the duty and the conscience of the members of the Legislature are involved, this provision as to the manner of passage of bills through either House is mandatory."

It does not matter whether the Chair rules or it does not rule. In your own conscience you are doing the wrong thing, and you are not allowed to do it except by the vote which you have, because by the grace of a few votes which you received in a few districts, questionable votes, you have a majority in the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we are not arguing on that at all, as to whether or not we are doing the right or the wrong thing. We are trying to follow the regular procedure. Perhaps someone over there wants to take an exception to the ruling of the Chair, and put it to a vote. How do they know whether I am going to vote to uphold the ruling of Chair or not?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, we are going to appeal the ruling of the Chair. We will just take one minute to get the signatures.

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the Members of the Senate, the Chair would ike to read a decision with reference to whether or not a point of order is debatable.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may I inject something? So far as I am concerned, I am not questioning that authority. I believe that a point of order is not debatable. I do not think there is a question of debate except when the point of order is questioned.

The PRESIDENT. Am I to infer that the Minority is going to appead and desires a few minutes to prepare the appeal?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I understand the Rules of the Senate are that four Members of the Senate must sign an appeal.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease for a few minutes to give the Minority an opportunity to prepare the appeal.

The Senate was at ease.

APPEAL FROM RULING OF THE CHAIR

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the Minority Party presents the following motion, appealing the decision of the Chair, and my friend, Senator Walker, will deliver it to the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. A written appeal has been filed, signed by Senator Barr, Senator Dent, Senator Lane, Senator Holland and Senator Yosko, appealing the decision of the Chair.

The Members of the Senate who wish to sustain the ruling of the Chair will vote "aye" upon the call of the roll.

On the question,

Shall the ruling of the Chair be sustained?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in fear of getting myself deeper into that doghouse from which there is no return, I might suggest to the President of the Senate that when an appeal is made to the chairman of a meeting of any kind, under Robert's Rules of Order or the Jefferson Manual, he must relinquish the chair.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to advise the Minority Floor Leader that he does not possess a thin skin, and he should not be apprehensive about getting in the doghouse.

The Chair prefers to stand fast while the vote is taken and will abide by the decision just as gracefully, I am sure,, as the Minority Floor Leader will.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have to correct you. You do not take a vote now. Both sides have an opportunity to present statements as to whether the Chair should be sustained or not sustained.

The PRESIDENT. Well, the roll is not being called; I said when the roll is called. That could mean up before Saint Peter, in the future and not today. I am merely trying to advise the Senate what the procedure will be when the decision is reached.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the procedure is not a roll call now.

The PRESIDENT. That is right.

Mr. HOLLAND. The procedure is now that both sides an opportunity for debate.

The PRESIDENT. They both have an opportunity to debate the appeal.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I thought the "Angel Gabriel" was calling the roll too soon.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, as a matter of clarification, I would appreciate it if the Chair, so that we all understand what we are voting for, would state the question. As I understood Senator Barr, he submitted several questions to the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. There is only one question, for the information of the Senator from Northampton, presently being considered by the Chair, and that is the matter of the appeal from the Chair's ruling. The question is whether or not the Senate will sustain the Chair. I was about to explain that those who sustain the Chair will vote "aye," and those who do not sustain the ruling of the Chair will vote "nay."

And the question recurring,

Shall the ruling of the Chair be sustained?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the question on which I appealed the decision of the Chair was on Senate Rules Nos. 18 and 37, on the ground that the bill, as now amended, has changed the original purpose of the bill as it passed the lower House of the General Assembly.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to point out to the Senator from Allegheny that he made two different rulings under two different Rules. Now this appeal, the Chair infers, is from the second ruling regarding Senate Rule No. 37.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, we will accept that.

Mr. DENT. We have to accept whatever you give us anyway, so what is the difference?

The PRESIDENT. I am just trying to straighten out the record. I am not touchy about the first rule, but I think that since the second ruling was asked for the appeal should be from the ruling on the second rule, namely Roue No. 37. I am not trying to tell the Senator how to run his business, but I think that would make the record better if we did it that way.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state his point of order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, for the record, whn I said that the chairman of any meeting should relinquish his post, we are operating in the Senate under the Jefferson Manuel and the Joint Rules of the Senate and House. The purpose of that, Mr. President, is to keep the question of a decision by the body, as to whether the Chair should be sustained or not, in a position from becoming personal. Therefore, it has always been a rule in every deliberative body that I have ever known of, or read about or have witnessed that the Chair relinquishes the chair for the simple reason that it does not want it to become a personal matter as to the question of the decision as it affects the person in the chair.

Mr. President, there is not any question about the outcome of the vote. I think we all know that, but if minorities do not fight for what they thing is right, then majorities have no value either. Therefore, Mr. President, I would suggest to the Chair that he reconsider his decision to stand fast, and for a short time back up slowly and gracefully.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to say, in rply to the Minority Floor Leader, that is clearly a discretionary matter so far as the Chair is concerned. If the Minority Floor Leader feels that he cannot do his best unless the Chair brings up a supernumerary, I suppose I could get relief.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not worried about that. The arguments which I am going to make are based upon logic and not upon the person. However, I would suggest that the Secretary of the Senate provide me with a Jefferson Manual.

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the Minority Floor Leader, on page 531, "Decision of the Senate," the following is cited:

"Mr. Walker raised the question that on an appeal from a decision of the Chair, the Presiding Officer must vacate the Chair and permit a member of the Senate to preside.

"The Presiding Officer ruled that he may vacate the Chair and that it is within the discretion of the Chair to decide whether he shall step down. (Legislative Journal, December 13, 1951, P. 6188.)"

Jefferson's Manual provides, on page 18, "All questions of order are decided subject to appeal and any member may appeal from a decision by the Chair. It is within the discretion of the Chairman as to whether he will vacate the Chair on an appeal from his decision." Now, this is Cannon's procedure in the House of Representatives, 81st Congress, 2d Session.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the Chair has ruled that he has decided to stand fast. I know that it is discretionary, but under all the rules of order which I ever participated in over a rather long, lengthy lifetime of political debate and parlimentary debate, I have never had the chair stay in place when there was a question on his decision.

However, Mr. President, assuring you that it is not in any way trying to duck the inevitable decision of the Chair, I want to take up the arguments as to why I believe the Chair's decision is in error.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will just make this one additional observation for the information of the Senator from Westmoreland.

The Rules, which the Chair assumes everyone officially connected with the Senate is bound to follow, provide the authority for the position that the Chair first took in rendering the decision on the ruling. The Chair does not want to get into the position of having come to a fork in the road, and getting a foot up each fork.

And the question recurring,

Shall the ruling of the Chiar be sustained?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to make a few comments on why I believe the intent of the bill has been changed. If I am wrong, I wish somebody would correct me.

Mr. President, I understand that House Bill No. 1 accomplished, or proposed to accomplish, two things; first, submit the question of whether or not the people wanted a Constitutional Convention to revise Pennsylvania's Constitution and at the same time elect 110 delegates. If the people decided they wanted to have a convention to revise Pennsylvania's basic law, which I understand is seventy-nine years old, the election of the delegates would be legal and the convention would be held at Harrisburg in January 1954. If the people decided that they did not want a Constitutional Convention and did not want to revise the Constitution, then the election of the delegates would be void.

Mr. President, as I understand it, through the amendments which were made in the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, the one intent, the one objective, was removad from the bill which changed the intent of it. The question of whether or not we should have a Constitutional Convention remains in the bill with the amendments, but the machinery to set up the convention itself, which also set the time limitation, January 1954, has been removed.

Mr. President, if the bill as amended should be adopted by the House and the Senate, and is submitted to the people by way of a referendum and they decide that they want to have a Constitutional Convention, the one intent of the original bill is destroyed because another Legislature will have to determine when that Constitutional Convention should be held, the number of delegates to be elected and all of the other factors that are necessary to hold a Constitutional Convention.

Therefore, I say to the Members of this Senate that the original intent of the bill that passed the House was changed by the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I can see why the bill was amended. You know, 1954 is State election year. We are going to elect Members of Congress; we are going to elect Members of the House and the Senate; we are going to elect a Governor, a Lieutenant-Governor, and a Secretary of Internal Affairs. I say to you, Mr. President, that if and when we have a Constitutional Convention here in Harrisburg in 1954, there would naturally have to be considerable debate on proposed Constitutional changes, and included in that debate would be a change in the practice and procedure of the operations of the State Government. Naturally, the hodgepodge which exists here, the mess which exists here in Harrisburg, would, indeed, be the subject of debate.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Point of order, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the gentleman is not talking upon the issue before us; that is, whether or not the ruling of the Chair should be upheld and as to whether or not we have changed the original tenor of this piece of legislation from the time it left the House.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will have to rule that the point is well taken.

The Senator from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, must realize that a discussion on the merits of the bill, or the amendments either, is not in order when the question specifically is whether or not the Chair ruled properly as to whether the bill was so emasculated as a result of the amendments—that is, the deletion by amendment of the bill—that it lost its original intent and identity.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, do I understand from the Chair that I am not permitted to go into the intent of the Majority in changing the intent of House Bill No. 1?

The PRESIDENT. Not at this time. That would not, in the Chair's judgment, be in order at this time. The Chair does not say that it would never be in order, but it certainly is not at this time, when the sole question is, as the Chair has tried to indicate, as to whether or not the Chair properly ruled when the Minority advanced the argument that the deletion, by amendment, of portions of the bill had so emasculated it that it no longer was consistent with its original intents and purposes.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, could I ask you as a personal favor to appoint someone in your place? I do not want to make this a personal issue with the Chair, but I do not agree with this ruling. I think we can get this thing to a quick vote much faster if you would ask someone else to take your place in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will have to stay where he is, I guess.

And the question recurring,

Shall the ruling of the Chair be sustained?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am going to try to be in order and discuss our appeal from your ruling on Senate Rule No. 37. First, I want to read into the record, for the purpose of the record, Senate Rule No. 37. It specifically says this:

"No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through the Senate as to change its original purpose."

Mr. President, my arguments are going to be predicated on that word "purpose," in Rule No. 37. I am going to cite first to you, Mr. President, an amendment to the title of House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 157. Incidentally, I am not politically naive enough to think that anything I might say or do is going to change one vote on the Majority side. However, we do want this in the record. What has been struck out says, "Providing for a new Constitution for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of a constitutional convention and a vote of electors and providing for the selection nomination and election of delegates upon the determination by the electorate that such a convention should be held." All that has been struck out in the title and this is what has been substituted: "Providing for a referendum to determine the will of the electorate with respect to calling a constitutional convention."

Moreover, Mr. President, and I wish to call this to the attention of the Members of the Senate, on page 3, commencing with line 3, which is struck out, it reads as follows: "If the electorate votes in favor of a constitutial convention a constitutional convention shall be held at Harrisburg, Dauphin County, Pennsylvania in the hall of the House of Representatives beginning on the fifth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-four at eleven o'clock A. M., and shall conclude its sessions not later than the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-four."

Mr. President, everything has been struck out on page 3, page 4, page 5, page 6, page 7, page 8, page 9 and part of page 10. I want to point out to the membership that on page 2, on line 18,—I am skipping a number of these lines, but this is the subject matter in my opinion—it says: "The results of such election shall be tabulated by the proper election officers of each county and the results thereof certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth."

That is all we have until we go over on page 10, line 3. Section 12 was struck out, and in its place section 2 is inserted. It says, "This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment."

Mr. President, I say to you that anyone can easily see that the subject matter of this bill has been drastically changed, because even if we would pass this bill in its present form, it guarantees nothing to the citizenry of Pennsylvania. It does not even mean that we will have a Constitutional Convention if they vote in the affirmative on the matter.

Therefore, I say to you, Mr. President, in my opinion, and I am sure that I am right, the Chair's ruling is wrong. I say that quite reluctantly because the distinguished Lieutenant-Governor served in the House with me. I had the privilege of coming over to the Senate with him, and I never thought I would have to take part in appealing from one of his rulings. However, in this particular case, I feel that I am justified and I now yield to the Minority Floor Leader, Senator Dent.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the President of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Well, now, the President of the Senate does not want to be arbitrary, but certainly the Minority Floor Leader must realize that he is not in order when he attempts to interrogate the Chair with reference to this debate. If he wishes to know whether or not this is a red or black tie I am wearing, I will be very glad to answer that.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, never in all my years in the Senate have I tried deliberately to embarrass anybody, because I am so easily embarrassed myself.

The PRESIDENT. All right, the Chair will permit itself to be interrogated.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will the Chair tell us whether or not he has a copy of this act before him?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair does, right here, House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 157.

Mr. DENT. Then, Mr. President, since you have a copy of the act, would you tell the Members of the Senate which part of the title has been left in the bill as it originally came from the House?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would rather have the gentleman from Westmoreland tell him what has been left out.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, all of it has been left out. You see, Mr. President, that is why we appealed from your decision. We appealed because we believe in this particular instance, and on one of the rare occasions in your long lifetime, you are in error. We say so, Mr. President, because on page 1 the title of this act appears.

The PRESIDENT. Has the Minority Floor Leader concluded his interrogation?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am beyond the interrogation. I was just stating—if the Chair would give me a little attention at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will endeavor to do that.

And the question recurring,

Shall the decision of the Chair be sustained?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the reason that we have appealed the decision of the Chair, plainly stated, is this. An act came over from the House of Representatives. It contined a comprehensive title. The title has been stricken completely from the bill, and in lieu thereof a new subtitle has been written which does not deal with the matter contained in the original title.

We take the position, Mr. President, that this is in direct violation of the Constitutional provision under Article III, Section 1, and under Rule 18 and Rule 37 of the Senate. We do so, Mr. President, because, in logic, we all know that when a resolution is presented to any deliberative body, the whereas clauses within that resolution are only descriptive of what is intended by the resolve. The meat of the resolution, the intent of the resolution, is contained within the resolve. So it is with a piece of legislation, Mr. President. The resolve is contained in that section of the act which says what the act does.

Now, what does the act do, Mr. President, after you take away from it all of the verbiage and language describing the resolve within the act? It does exactly this, Mr. President. On page 3, it says, under section (b), line 3: "If the electorate votes in favor." Now, Mr. President, the machinery has been set up for the electorate to vote, but if it votes in favor of a Constitutional Convention, a Constitutional Convention shall be called.

Mr. President, we have left the whereas clause, we have left the machinery for calling a convention or allowing the people to vote, but after we allow them to vote, what do we do? We do absolutely nothing. We have stricken the resolve from the resolution; we have taken the body from the bill. We do not do a thing except say to the pople, "You may vote if you want or do not want a Convention." We do not say to the people, "If you vote for a Convention, we will give you a Convention. If you do not vote for it, there shall be no Convention."

Mr. President, that is the intent of the act. The intent of the act is to give to the people a convention if they so desire. I know that you have made your minds up in caucus, but, really, you can be wrong, too, even in a great Republican Caucus. You can stand there and you can argue until you are blue in the face, and I am inclined to do that right now, but you cannot convince me that you have not destroyed the intent of this act.

Mr. President, I am awfully sorry to have your opinion in this argument rendered on the side of reaction, because I have always held that you tried to hold your—well, it does not matter because what I was going to say was intended for your ears.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is listening, Senator.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, my dad always used to cuff me when I did not listen, but you are too big.

Mr. President, in all seriousness, this ruling of yours may have far-reaching effect. It means that some arbitrary committee of this Senate, or some arbitrary chairman of a committee, can take a stand which is contrary to the wish of the entire membership of this Senate, and if he has in the Chair a friendly tenor, they may sing a duet together. That is what I am trying to bring to your attention now.

I believe, Mr. President, that if you read the bill in its entirety, you must, out of clear conscience and simple justice, agree with us that the intent of this bill has been changed.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Dent said that if this ruling is sustained, then some unfriendly committee chairman, or committee, could take a bill and upset the whole thing, or words to that effect, or change its tenor.

Mr. President, I am not admitting that this committee did this, but, certainly, no committee could do anything like that, because then their bill as amended has to be presented to this Senate and amendments can be offered, just as was done today by Senator Dent, to restore the part of the bill which was deleted by the Senate committee. If the majority of the Senators feel that those amendments should be adopted, then the bill returns to the same place where it was when it was brought over to the Senate.

I do not believe for one minute, Mr. President, that this committee has changed the original purpose of this bill. The fact that someone over in the Legislative Reference Bureau chose to strike out all the words in the title does not mean anything, because they could have done the same thing without changing the words. The bill, as it came over here, certainly provided for a referendum. He could have provided for the determination by the electorate that a Constitutional Convention should be held, and then he would have kept the wording in the title and just eliminated the part about calling the Constitutional Convention.

I say this, Mr. President. Although we cannot positively bind a future Session of the Legislature, if the people should vote for a Constitutional Convention to be held this year, and the party in power at the next Session of the Legislature should not set up the machinery to carry out the will of the people, then, certainly, that party in power should be defeated the next time they go to the polls. If I happen to be a Member of this Senate at the next Session of the Legislature, and the people this year vote in favor of having a Constitutional Convention, I will stay here until doomsday and filibuster and everything else to see that the will of the people is carried out. Certainly it would be incumbent upon whatever party is in power, whatever Senators were here, or House members, to see to it that that Constitutional Convention was held and that the machinery was set up for it.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, it is my firm belief that this bill, as amended, changes the original intent of the act, and I shall give my reasons.

Mr. President, if this bill had not been amended, and the people of the State voted to have a convention, then this bill certainly would have provided that a convention be held in January of 1954. Let us assume that this bill goes through as amended, and the people vote for a convention. There is absolutely no certainty that a convention will be held, and the next Legislature can refuse to provide the machinery.

Let me give you an example, Mr. President. This bill will be no holier than the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania. Our Constitution now provides for reapportionment every ten years, and we all know that there has been no reapportionment since 1921, because there are no teeth and no compelling features in the Constitution which compel reapportionment. It merely states the thought and policy, and that is all you have in this bill.

Mr. President, I say, if this bill is passed as it now stands, Session after Session can, I am not saying that they will, but they can refuse to act and we will be in exactly the same position with this Constitutional Convention as we are with reapportionment today.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think I am in order, as I have not talked on this as yet. Am I correct?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. BARR. I would like first to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Mahany, did the Republican platform of 1950 promise a Constitutional Convention?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the best evidence of that is the platform itself. I will refer the Senator to the wording of the platform. It is not up to me to interpret the platform.

Mr. BARR. I asked you a question. Did the Republican Party promise a Constitutional Convention in their platform of 1950?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I say again that the best evidence of what the Republican Party promised is in the platform.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, for the gentleman's information, I will tell him that it is definitely in their platform. It is here on my desk. If he does not want to read it, I am not going to take the time to do so now.

Mr. MAHANY. It was read, Mr. President. I can read it again, but I do not see how it would serve any useful purpose. It was mentioned in Senator Walker's speech here a little while ago.

Mr. BARR. What I wanted to say to you was that just a few moments ago you said that if the people vote "yes" in this referendum, that you will have a convention. I just wanted to say that if the Republican Party's platform word was no good then, I do not think that it is going to be any better in the future.

In conclusion, I would like to ask you what this bill will do, Senator Mahany? What will this bill do if passed, as amended, by the Senate?

Mr. MAHANY. What will it do if it is passed, as amended?

Mr. BARR. What will it do in its present form?

Mr. MAHANY. You mean passed without the amendments you are now offering; is that what you mean?

Mr. BARR. Yes, that is right.

Mr. MAHANY. It will provide for a referendum. The question will be submitted to the people as to whether or not they wish a constitutional convention held.

Mr. BARR. What would it have done without the amendments put in by the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations?

Mr. MAHANY. It would have provided in the first part the same thing. Then, it went on further, and did something which Senator Dent feels would never be accomplished, because the people, he says, are going to vote that down.

Mr. BARR. I am asking you, not what Senator Dent said but what you think the bill will do.

Mr. MAHANY. Then it would have provided the machinery to be set up to have a convention.

Mr. BARR. That was the original purpose of the bill. Do you agree?

Mr. MAHANY. No, I am just saying that that is what it would have done.

Mr. BARR. Well, was that not the original purpose of the bill?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there were two purposes set forth here; one, to have the referendum and, second, to have the machinery set up.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if the gentleman will turn to page 3, I think he can read the lines which are stricken out. It says, at the bottom of page 2—I had better read him that so he will be crystal clear in his thinking. "The results of such election shall be tabulated by the proper election officers of each county and the results thereof certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth."

Now, Section (b), line 3, says, "If the electorate votes in favor of a constitutional convention a constitutional convention shall be held."

That is the purpose of the bill; first, if they want it, and then if they voted in the affirmative, what shall be done. Do you mean to tell me that you have not changed the purpose of this bill?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we changed one part of it. We changed one purpose, but we certainly did not change the other purpose. We have a right to take half if we want to.

Mr. BARR. You allow the people a piece of paper, I will admit that.

I will ask you one more question. What assurance do the people have that there will be a convention if they vote in the affirmative?

Mr. MAHANY. I say that if the House and Senate are Republican, and we have a Republican Governor, they are sure going to get a Constitutional Convention.

Mr. BARR. You have both of those now, and the Governor asked for it. In other words, your word is going to be better in 1955 than it is in 1953.

Mr. President, I am only sorry that Mr. Johnson, the sponsor of the bill in the House, is really not in Session at the present time, because I would ask the Sergeant-at-Arms to see if he could get the Honorable Mr. Johnson over here, and I would ask him the question, if the purpose of the bill has not been changed.

Mr. President, in conclusion, I want to say this. I have always been a loyal party man, and I have many times abided by my caucus. A few times I have not, when I thought they were wrong. I think the reason I was asking that you would not be in the Chair was because I do not want to make a remark, and I do not want you to construe this as personal, but I think when a party is wrong and has lost their intestinal fortitude, as the Majority of the Senate has in this Session, that they should not ask the Presiding Officer to come in collusion with them.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I would just like to say a word. I think it is time that we be as thoroughly honest with this matter as we possibly can.

Mr. President, the original intent of this bill, and it was an administration bill, I understand, and I might say to the Majority Leader that I believe the Governor was for this bill. If he was not, certainly many of the people were misinformed by what they read in the newspapers of the Commonwealth. It was the original intent of this bill to call a Constitutional Convention. The enemies of this piece of legislation got their hands into the affair in the House, and injected into it a referendum feature. By the time it got over here to the Senate, other enemies of the bill got hold of it and in order to destroy it, saved only the referendum feature, and took away the original intent to call a Constitutional Convention.

Mr. President, that is the long and the short of the matter, as I understand it. No one yet has been able to show me how the original intent is going to be carried out. Who is to be responsible for calling this Constitutional Convention? Is it the Governor, who has just now failed, apparently? Is it going to be the Majority Party who has just now refused to go along with the Governor on this proposition, or is it the fault of the Minority Party over here without sufficient votes to do anything about it?

I think, Mr. President, that we should stop and be honest with ourselves. This bill was introduced as a Constitutional Convention bill. It was introduced as House Bill No. 1 over there, it was considered of such primary importance. The people think of it as a Constitutional Convention bill and I think we do our representative government in Pennsylvania a disservice by deceiving the people with a bill such as the one which is left after this present emasculation.

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. Mr. President, it is interesting to note that in the Session of 1871, Act No. 262, which was approved on June 2, 1871, was submitted to the electorate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, on the question of whether or not there should be a Constitutional Convention. In the Session of 1872, by Act No. 44, which was approved on April 11, 1872, the machinery for a Constitutional Convention was set up. As a result of that legislation, the Constitution under which we are now governed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was adopted.

Mr. President, it seems that if that was the procedure followed at one time, history may very well repeat itself at this time.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in Mr. McPherson's discussion there he plainly said that in 1871 one bill was passed setting up the machinery, and in 1872 the machinery for the convention was passed. That was when they had yearly Sessions.

Mr. President, this General Assembly will not meet next year unless it is called by the Governor in a Special Session. We cannot tell a new General Assembly in 1955 what they are going to do under any pretense.

And the question recurring,

Shall the ruling of the Chair be sustained?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will call the roll.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. BANE. Mr. President, I should like to have the Chair state the question in the matter of voting.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair repeats that those who vote "aye", vote to sustain the ruling of the Chair, and those who vote "nay" vote not to sustain the ruling of the Chair.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—29

Berger,	Harney,	McCusker,	Wagner,
Blass,	Kephart,	McPherson, Jr.	Walker,
Chapman,	Kessler,	Miller,	Watkins,
Crowe,	Kopriver, Jr.	Propert,	Watson,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wood,
Freed,	Mahany,	Wade,
Hare,	Mallery,

NAYS—14

Bane,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,
Barr,	Lane,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Dent,	Leader,	Silvert,	Yosko,
Haluska,	McGinnis,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that there be no further discussion on the Chair's position in the matter, I am taking the advice that has been so often given, that when you get yourself in a situation where you are forced to do that which you are unwilling to do, relax and enjoy it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENTS BE ADOPTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the amendments to Section 1 be adopted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the question, as I understand it, resolves itself into this situation. We vote now on whether or not you want the people of Pennsylvania to have a convention if they vote for it, or whether you do not want them to have a convention, whether they vote for it or not.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Iask for a roll call.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will call the roll.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14

Bane,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,
Barr,	Lane,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Dent,	Leader,	Silvert,	Yosko,
Haluska,	McGinnis,

NAYS—29

Berger,	Harney,	McCusker,	Wagner,
Blass,	Kephart,	McPherson, Jr.	Walker,
Chapman,	Kessler,	Miller,	Watkins,
Crowe,	Kopriver, Jr.	Propert,	Watson,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wood,
Freed,	Mahany,	Wade,
Hare,	Mallery,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. DENT offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 10, line 3, by striking out the figure "2" and inserting in lieu thereof: "12".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. DENT offered the following amendment:

Amend title, page 1, lines 5 to 8, by striking out "PROVIDING FOR A REFEREN-" in line 5 and all of lines 6, 7 and 8, and inserting in lieu thereof: "Providing for a new Constitution for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of a constitutional convention and a vote of electors and providing for the selection, nomination and election of delegates upon the determination by the electorate that such a convention should be held."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 51, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Mines for the purpose of administering the provisions of "The Coal Mine Sealing Act of 1947."

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HARE offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out "TWENTY-FIVE"; Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 2 and 3, by striking out "($125,000)" and inserting: "($100,000)."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 97, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to prohibit acquisition of property and property rights by condemnation until payment into court of a percentage of the damages admittedly due owners.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 110, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, April 27, 1953

The House met at 3:30 p. m. EST.
The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Rev. Charles F. Trunk, Jr., guest Chaplain and pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Father of us all, we thank Thee for life and all that Thou hast given us to make that life worthwhile. Let us remember Thee not alone when we pray, but also as we plan. Shock us into our senses, lest we be satisfied with mediocre service to Thee and to our fellowman. May we live and legislate not by might, nor by power, but by Thy Spirit so that Thy will may be done. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of April 14, 15, 20, 21 and 22, 1953? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

PERMISSION GRANTED TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON HOUSE BILL 908

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to move that the vote by which House Bill 908, Printer's No. 122, passed third reading on April 13 be reconsidered.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the making of this motion? Is there Objection? The Chair hears none, and consent is granted.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill 908, Printer's No. 122, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a tax on the use and storage of tangible personal property within the Commonwealth; providing for the assessment and collection of the same and the settlement thereof and appeals therefrom; providing for the duties of prothonotaries in connection therewith: prescribing penalties and providing for the use of the proceeds of such tax for public school purposes.

passed third reading on April 13, 1953, be reconsidered.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson vote on the third reading of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of admendments at this time?

Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr Speaker, we have no objection to the amendments, but would the Majority Leader care to inform the Members of the House as to whether the bill, being amended, will be brought to a final vote tomorrow?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker. In answer to the gentleman's question, it is our hope to bring the bill to a final vote tomorrow.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the sections be read at length so that we understand just exactly what is being done.

Mr. JOHNSON. In order to shorten the work of the House, I wonder if the gentleman would be willing to just let me explain the amendments as offered? Would he accept that in lieu of his motion?

Mr. LOVETT. I will be glad to do so, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman withdraw his motion?

Mr. LOVETT. I will withdraw my motion.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that the amendments which we are offering are cutting the tax bill,—in fact we will offer amendments to both bills—cutting the bills back to one percent. Now you might say, "Why don't you make up your mind? Why do you not have it two or one?" That is a fair question. I want to say that the reason we are putting the tax back to one percent is because we have a new appraisal of the amount that one percent will bring in if properly enforced by the tax authorities. We have estimates that it will bring in enough money with what budget cuts we contemplate that we will be able to drop four of the so-called hodge-podge nuisance taxes that we put on last Session. Therefore, it will mean retaining the one percent put on corporations last Session, and it will mean retaining the accelerated corporate tax payments. - - -

Mr. ANDREWS. Will the gentleman yield for an inquiry?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader yield to the minority Leader?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Would the Majority Leader care to state what alleged hodge-podge taxes he proposes to repeal?

Mr. JOHNSON. I might say to the gentleman, I realize that I was a little verbose in my explanation of these amendments, but I think that in order to explain the amendments, I will have to explain the reasons therefor. We would plan to drop the realty transfer tax. We would plan to send the tax on mutual insurance corporations back to Committee. We would plan to let out of Committee the present bill which cuts collateral inheritance tax from 15 back to 10, and also let out of Committee the bill which restores to buses and various other lines the exemptions which we took away from them last Session.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman. That is a pretty good bargaining position for a few votes.

Mr. JOHNSON. It is designed to get votes from the other side of the aisle. I might add further that it is the will of the Republican Caucus that the tax be made a temporary measure, so that one of the amendments cuts the time of the tax to a period of two years after final enactment. So it would, with these amendments, be a temporary tax.

The other amendments are corrective amendments which, when we tried very meticulously several weeks ago to define fabrication, and so forth we found that we did not do a very good job in defining it insofar as the tax on the gross receipts of utilities was concerned, and we are correcting that error which was made, and was never intended to be made, by these amendments. That is the gist of the amendments which will be offered on both bills.

Mr. ANDREWS. A further inquiry Mr. Speaker, if the Majority Leader would permit.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himhelf to be interrogated further

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Would the Majority Leader care to inform the House what was the original expert estimate on the yield on a one percent sales tax

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would prefer not to give those figures at this time. I have given you the gist of the amendments and the reason therefor, and I think your question may not be exactly in order. I intend, tomorrow if the bill comes up to a vote, to deal at length with that matter about which you are interrogating me at the present time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that it might help the thinking of the majority if they knew just how much you expected to raise from a one percent sales tax and what the difference was between the original estimate and the present yield

I have no power to require the Majority Leader to answer the question, but I would like to know for the information of the public just what the margin of error was in the original estimate and what reason there is to believe that the revised estimate is any closer to the facts.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, really, I do not mind answering the question. I think it is a fair question.

While I do not have the figures with me, I will give you approximately what the figures are. The original estimate of one percent was based on sales in Pennsylvania of seven and a half billion dollars a year. Take one percent of that and you get $70 million, which is the figure in the tax study report. Five million was knocked off for purposes of possible error.

If you take that same figure, which is the figure that is reported to the Federal Bureau of the Census of retail sales in Pennsylvania, and taking a comparable figure in other states which have a sales tax, and take their sales measure and glean from those figures what today other states collect on the same basis, we find that it varies anywhere from 98 percent potential to 153 percent. California collects 153 percent. In other words, in California they would collect not $70 million, but $105 million for one percent per year. They had that in California because they have an expert auditing force that goes around and properly surveys all the returns and makes investigations of upwards of 25 percent of the returns. That is the reason why California gets that good percentage, and it comes by reason of the one cent tax on small items.

If you take that same figure and apply it to the other states—some states are 137 percent, some states 141, some 120. The medium percentage is 137. If you apply that to Pennsylvania, you get around $172 million.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Majority Leader and I thank the anonymous voice which says, "Tell them nothing." It is a bargain. You tell us nothing, and we will give you no votes.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 909, as follows:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing an excise tax on retail sales of tangible personal property to consumers requiring sellers to file returns providing for the assessment collection and lien of the tax imposing duties on prothonotaries prescribing penalties and providing for the use of the proceeds of such tax for public school purposes

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger vote on the final passage of this bill

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews vote on the final passage of this bill

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, and the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews for offering this reconsideration motion.

This bill was defeated last week, as I understand it, under a misapprehension, is now being put back on the calendar to correct the mistake made at that time and give the bill its proper consideration.

Mr. ANDREWS. The Majority Leader is right. We labored under a misapprenhension. Our thinking probably had been colored by the indecision characteristic of the majority.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, a nine man committee, working within the State Government Committee, has just released a report of a "'Study of Weights of Trucks." There are many questions being asked by the people of Pennsylvania as to how their findings were obtained.

Mr. PRESIDENT, this committee of nine had only two Democrats on the committee. As stated by the Chairman, Representative Royer, they hired their own engineers. Who were the engineers? Were they the kind whose services can be had on either side in a court trial for a fee? Were they experienced road builders, or merely the kind who use an unproven formula to prove a point? "X plus Y plus Z" engineers are available at a dime a dozen,—but road builders are scarce and hard to get.

Mr. PRESIDENT, the chairman also said the Secretary of Highways was not consulted. No engineer hired by this committee could come near the experience and the honestry of Mr. Schmidt, the head of our Highway Department. Mr. Schmidt has had years of experience in engineering and building roads. He is recognized throughout the United States as an authority on roads and highway problems. He has worked under both parties, for the Democrats and Republicans have recognized his abilities. Mr. Schmidt has always approached the problem of road building through the eyes of those who pay the taxes. He has been fearless, and could never be influenced to give a decision because any "special interest" has made a large contribution to the campaign of either party or both parties. Mr. Schmidt's first thoughts are always to safeguard Pennsylvania roads and the public who uses them. This is the man who was ignored by this group in their survey.

Mr. PRESIDENT, is it a coincident that the findings of this committee are the same findings as the "Big Truckers'" engineers? What has this committee to say on what effect this boxcar truck has on the streets of the boroughs, the townships and the cities of Pennsylvania? What does this committee have to say on what effect this excessive weight will have on the sewers and bridges of our boroughs, our townships and our cities? The streets and sewers in the boroughs, townships and cities are not paid for out of gasoline taxes. The building of streets and sewers is paid by assessments on the home owners as a permanent improvement in their townships, boroughs and cities. The maintenance of streets and sewers after they are built are paid out of real state taxes, paid by the little home owner. These little home owners cannot collect $76,000 to be used as a political contribution to buy favors. The little home owner is too busy paying off the mortgages on his home, and paying the local real estate taxes to have good streets in his community.

Mr. PRESIDENT, have you ever been in a home in the city, or a township or borough when big trucks pass? The vibration cracks the plaster and shakes the very foundation of the home. I will be glad to take any Member of this Senate to Pittsburgh over the weekend and show him, on the South Side, what big trucks have done to the homes on our narrow streets. I will let them talk to housewives who have sat in the middle of the streets as a human barricade.

Mr. PRESIDENT, have we never learned the lesson of permitting "special interests" to destroy, just to make it more profitable for them? We permitted the mine owner to pollute our streams. We allowed industrialists to pour their waste and acids into our rivers and destroy the fish that God placed there to feed our people. We permitted strip miners to deface and destroy the beauty of God in our hills and valleys, and make the land unusable. We permitted the railroads to run longer and longer trains with fewer and fewer men.

Mr. PRESIDENT, what is happening today is the result of some Legislatures in the years gone by that have been influenced by "special interests" in their deliberations. We are spending millions of dollars of taxes to correct the mistakes of past Acts of the Assemblies.

Mr. PRESIDENT, are we going to get into line, as they say, with other States whose roads do not compare with ours? We who are to sit in judgment as to whether or not our roads are to be handed over to the truck owners of Pennsylvania, to do with them as they wish for their financial gain have to make a momentous decision. This decision should not be made until the head of our own Pennsylvania Highways has had an opportunity to study the Report of the State Government Committee. The Secretary of Highways has the responsibility of building and maintaining our great network of roads.

Mr. PRESIDENT, we should not do anything regarding truck weights until the Secretary of Highways makes known his attitude on the report, and the effect on our roads that increased truck loads would have if legislation is passed increasing weights of trucks. The Borough and Township Associations should be consulted. The Third Class Cities should be heard from, as well as county governments.

Teherefore, Mr. President, I am offering a resolution, requesting that the Report of the State Government Committee on truck weights be referred to the Secretary of Highways for his study and report on what effects these recommendations for increased weights would have on the highways, streets and bridges in our Commonwealth.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE REQUESTING SUBMISSION OF REPORT OF FINDINGS TO SECRETARY OF HIGHWAYS BY JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE STUDYING PROBLEM OF INCREASED WEIGHT LIMITS OF TRUCKS

Messrs. HOLLAND and LANE offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1953.

Whereas, The Joint State Government Subcommittee has recently released a preliminary report recommonding increased weights of box car big trucks and

Whereas, The Chairman of the subcommittee stated to the public press that the Committee had at no time consulted with the Secretary of Highways or had requested information or advice as to the ultimate effect the increased weight limits might have on the highways and bridges of the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The counties, boroughs, townships, and cities of our Commonwealth have not been consulted on the recommendations of the Subcommittee as to their position on the damages which might be sustained to the roads, streets, sewers, and bridges of the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The political subdivisions of the Commonwealth bear a great proportion of the cost of the construction and maintenance of their bridges, streets, and sewers, and said revenue is derived mainly by the assessment of real estate for taxes, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Committee studying the problem of increased weight limits of trucks do hereby submit a report of their findings to the Secretary of Highways for further study and comment, and

Be it Further Resolved, That the Secretary of Highways be instructed to meet with the elected representatives of the various political subdivisions of the Commonwealth for the purpose of receiving their advice and counsel as to the ultimate effect that increased weight limits might have on the streets, highways, bridges, and sewers under their jurisdiction.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I object to the immediate consideration of the resolution, and if I may have unanimous consent to make a report now, I will make my reasons for it more clear.

The PRESIDENT. There being objection, the resolution is referred to the Committee on Highways.

Now, If the Senator from Schuylkill desires to make a statement, he may request unanimous consent.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, normally I should have made this report under the heading of "Reports of Committees' this morning. However, I was in the phone booth speaking to a long-distance constituent and I missed that.

The report that I have to make, Mr. President, is a report from the Joint State Government Commission on the study which has been made on highway uses and costs. It becomes rather obvious that inasmuch as copies of this report for the Members of the Senate are in the office of the President pro tempore, and will be distributed in a matter of moments, I should think that everybody here would like to read the report to which the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, referred, and know what the findings of the Commission are before they start introducing resolutions as to what not to do with it before such and such a thing is done.

Mr. President, I do not know whether Senator Holland speaks for the Secretary of Highways, whom he quotes time and time again. I have some doubt about that. However, I do think that this is a rather comprehensive and complete report on this highway use and cost and weight proposition. It is probably the most scientific and carefully prepared one that was participated in by Members of both parties in the Senate. I think it is the most comprehensive job that has been done on this trucking situation in my time in the Legislature.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to present to the Chair the Report of the Commission and to assure the Members that it would be well worth their reading when copies are placed upon their desks.

REPORT FROM THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

DEALING WITH HIGHWAY USE AND HIGHWAY COSTS

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from the Joint State Government Commission at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WAGNER, on behalf of the Joint State Goverment Commission, submitted the following report, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION OF THE GENREAL ASSEMBLY

P. O. Box 61
Room 450—Capitol Building
Harrisburg

April 28, 1953

To the Honorable, the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, I have the honor to transmit herewith A Report of the Joint State Government Commission, Session of 1953, dealing with Highway Use and Highway Costs.

Copies of this report for distribution to the members of the Senate have been delivered to the office of the President Pro Tempore of the Senat.

Respectively submitted,
/s/ Baker Royer
Baker Royer
Chairman

The PRESIDENT. The communication will be spread upon the Journal, and the report will be printed in full in the Appendix.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, it seems strange that this report was given to the newspapers before it was given to the Members of the General Assembly. All three newspapers in the city of Pittsburgh have written extensively on this report. All three newspapers have requested that the report be submitted to the Secretary of Highways for further study, and even went further in asking that the boroughs, townships and the cities be consulted on the report.

Mr. President, I think this is another case where reports are given out before the Members of the General Assembly receive them, as it was with the Chesterman Committee Report. When we wanted to read about the Chesterman Committee, we had to read the newspapers first. This is another case of the mess here in Harrisburg.

THE HONORABLE CYRUS M. PALMER, PRESIDENT-JUDGE, COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, SCHUYLKILL COUNTY, PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to call attention to the presence of one of the most distinguished jurists in the Commonwealth, the President-Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Schuylkill County, the Honorable Cyrus M. Palmer.

The Chair would like very much to have His Honor rise in place and take a bow at this time.

STUDENTS FROM BUCKINGHAM FRIENDS SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is delighted to see in the right rear of the Senate some visitors who are guests of Senator Watson, of Bucks County, from the Buckingham Friends' School. Will they please rise in place and take a bow?

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HALUSKA, from the Committee on Banking, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 68, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and to further amend the act, approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred fifteen, (P. L. 1012), entitled "An act regulating the business of loaning money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less, either with or without security, to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities; fixing the rates of interest and charges therefor; requiring the licensing of lenders; and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act," by increasing the maximum loan to six hundred ($600) dollars, fixing the rates of interest on balances in excess of three hundred ($300) dollars and extending the maturity limitation on loans.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as amended House Bill No. 112, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 1 of the act, approved the thirtieth day of March, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 34), entitled "An act to promote the health and efficiency of firemen, in cities of the second class, by providing for a two-platoon system for firemen in the department of public safety of such cities," by further regulating the hours of duty of firemen in cities of the second class.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON, asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations repodted at today's session.

Which was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent t introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hear none.

Messrs RUTH and BERGER (By request) read in plac and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 537, entitled

An Act reinstating members of the Pennsylvania Stat Police Force heretofore summarily dismissed.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent t address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am presenting a series o bills, one on behalf of Senator McCusker and myself, an other one on behalf of Senator Watson and myself, an another one on behalf of the Democratic Senators, in a attempt to give to the Governor the broad powers whic have been invested in the President of the United State under the Hoover Commission Report, in order that th recommendations, those which are worth-while, made b the so-called Chesterman Committee, can, by executiv order, become part of the organization of our administra tion.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent t introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hear none.

Messrs. DENT, BANE, BARR, CAMIEL, HALUSKA HOLLAND, LANE, McCREESH, McGINNIS, McMEN AMIN, RUTH, SLIVERT, STIEFEL, TOOLE, WEINE and YOSKO read in place and presented to the Chai Senate Bill No. 538, entitled:

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, as follows:

An Act providing for a referendum to determine the will of the electorate with respect to calling a constitutional convention.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three there shall be submitted in the manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth a question to determine the will of the electorate of the Commonwealth in regard to a constitutional convention. Such question shall be in the following form:

Do you favor the preparation of a new constitution by a convention?	Yes / No	_____

The question shall be printed on the official and specimen ballots or on separate official ballots in bound form by the county board of elections in each county and a sufficient number of ballots shall be furnished to the election officers in each election district of every county so that one ballot may be supplied to each voter at such election. In districts where voting machines are used such question shall appear on the face of the machine where the machine is properly equipped for such purposes.

The results of such election shall be tabulated by the proper election officers of each county and the results thereof certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, my purpose is not to belabor this bill or further debate on it. I think yesterday we ran the gamut of parliamentary procedure, amendments and every other type of tactic which could be used to try to prevent this bill from going through.

Mr. President, my purpose today is to ask that the bill go over in its order. My purpose for asking that is that we allow a little bit of a cooling off period, so that we can take what is known as a bipartisan view of this bill. I believe, in line with the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Wade's wishes last week were that we have harmony and unity in this group. I believe that amendments should be offered to this bill which would set up the machinery for the convention, if this bill passes and the voters want the Constitutional Convention.

Mr. President, the way the bill stands now, I believe we have what is known as a lame act. If the people want a Constitutional Convention, there is no assurance they are going to get it. If we set up the machinery for the Constitutional Convention, the people can decide whether they want to hold a Constitutional Convention, and then the machinery will automatically take over and we will not have to waste time again enacting bills of procedure which will carry out the will of the electorate.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that this bill go over in its order so that we can think this thing out clearly, so we can talk a little bit about it among ourselves and try to present amendments which would make this bill operative and not hold up this matter for another two or three years, because I believe everybody agreed here yesterday that the platforms of both parties included this measure. This is an administration bill; let us put some life into it. Let us hold it over until next week so we can get some decent amendments into it which will give it some life.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, yesterday we talked about various amendments, and we voted those amendments down. There is only one question that this bill now intends that the people should vote on, and that is the question as to whether or not they desire a Constitutional Convention held. I cannot imagine any other amendments which could possibly be offered which would be acceptable to do anything else. We discussed that all yesterday.

Mr. President, I can see no purpose in holding it over until next week. I think after we vote on this bill, it will have to go to the House for concurrence in the amendments, and I think they should have that as soon as possible so they can decide whether or not they wish to concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Therefore, I object, Mr. President, to this bill going over, and ask that we have a vote on it today.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, my purpose was not to hold up this bill for the purpose of holding it up. My purpose was to establish some sort of machinery to go with this bill.

In other words, Mr. President, once we establish the machinery by which this Constitutional Convention can be held and made operative, and we pass this bill and the electorate vote on it, we would then just have to do the next act, to put it into effect at the next election. If the people do not want this Constitutional Convenion nothing has been lost, no time has been wasted and nothing has been hurt.

My thought is, Mr. President, if the Governor asked that this bill be introduced, he must have had something in mind or wanted this type of thing to operate. We are just trying to get the operative machinery going rather than just having this bill on the ballot and having the people vote for it, for then we are right back where we started from.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I concur with Senator Weiner's request to hold this bill over until Monday to give the Republican Majority a chance to consider its platform pledge made in 1950. I cannot talk about any other platform, because the Republican Party did not adopt a platform for the last campaign. I think it made a statement in which it said it was going to stand on the pledges made in 1950.

Mr. President, I want to refer to that portion of the platform made in 1950 on revising the Constitution. On page 68 of the Legislative Journal, Volume 32, No. 1 the Republican platform states as follows:

"We pledge to devote ourselves to the modernizing of the framework of our State Government. We advocate a State Convention to consider changes to bring the Constitution of our Commonwealth more in line with the needs of the day."

That is a positive statement, Mr. President. The platform does not say, "We will submit the question to the people." What the platform says is, "We pledge to devote ourselves to the modernizing of the framework of our State Government. We advocate a State Convention," and that is exactly what the bill which passed the House did.

As I said yesterday, Mr. President, there were two propositions incorporated in House Bill No. 1. First, the people were to decide whether or not they wanted a Constitutional Convention, and, at the same time, elect the delegates. One hundred and ten delegates were to be elected, and they were to meet next January. If they turned down the proposition of holding a Constitutional Convention, the election of the delegates would have been void. If they decided in the affirmative, the Convention would be held in January.

Mr. President, this platform pledge of the Republican Party was made in 1950. Here it is, 1953. Under this bill, as amended, amended by the Senate Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, the Republican Party cannot possibly carry out its intent and its pledge to the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I want to turn to the pledge made by the Democratic Party on the same question. On page 72 of the same Legislative Journal, the Democratic platform stated as follows:

"The structure of the present state government was established in 1874. It is outmoded and archaic, inadequate to meet the needs of modern times. A new Constitution geared to the present day responsibilities and obligations of state government is necessary if we are to have a government operating in an efficient business-like way."

Mr. President, I repeat that both Party pledges were incorporated in House Bill No. 1 as passed by the House, but as revised by the Senate, it is impossible to carry out either the Democratic pledge or the Republican pledge. I, therefore, suggest that this bill go over so that the Republican Members in the Senate can give additional consideration to their pledges, and amend this bill so that the machinery can be restored in House Bill No. 1 in order that if the people of Pennsylvania, at the November election, vote to hold a Constitutional Convention, it can be held next year and not at some time in the future, an indefinite time at that.

Mr. President, I said yesterday, and I repeat today, that perhaps there is a motive behind the Republican Majority's amending House Bill No. 1 to take out the Constitutional Convention machinery, and to delay a Constitutional Convention from 1954 to some future time. I said yesterday that next year is State election year, and, of course, if we have a Constitutional Convention, I am assuming that the delegates, if they would meet, would have to argue and debate the new provisions of the Constitution, which would involve the mess here in Harrisburg. What I believe is that the Republican Majority is afraid of the publicity which would result from a discussion of the mess that exists here, and, therefore, would reflect upon the result of the election in November of 1954.

Mr. President, let us act with courage and let us carry out our platform pledges. We have a chance to do it now and not at some time in the future.

The PRESIDENT. When Senator Weiner requested that the bill go over in order, the Majority Floor Leader objected. Now, does the Senator from Northampton wish to move that the bill go over in order?

MOTION THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1 go over in its order.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to oppose this motion. I feel that we, as I said, discussed these possible amendments yesterday. I think the feeling of this Senate, or a Majority of the Senators, is that this is such an important question to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that they should first decide whether or not they want a Constitutional Convention and if they do, then the machinery can be set up. It would be impossible to set up any exact machinery at this time until we know whether or not the people want this Constitutional Convention, because we would not know exactly what time the Convention should be called and various things in connection with it would have to be decided at a later date.

Therefore, Mr. President, I feel that this bill should not go over but should be voted on right now.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to remind the Senator that this motion is not debatable. However, if you wish to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, will the Majority Floor Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, if the questions are in order, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. Mahany, would you tell me what effect it would have if we set up the machinery to go with this bill? How would that in any way hurt this bill or hurt this referendum?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, Mr. President, I do not think that question is in order right now. I feel that can be discussed when we discuss the bill.

Mr. President, the question now before us is whether or not the bill should go over, and the question of Senator Weiner is not in order. I am not trying to shirk the question or get away from it, but I will answer that at a later time.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, my thought and purpose was not to embarrass the Majority Floor Leader. He mentioned, in talking on this question on which we are going to vote, that the reason he was against this procedure was that he had some idea it would affect the referendum, and I was just trying to get that clear in my own mind.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I will be glad to answer the question after the disposition of the motion that is now before the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. For what purpose does the Senator rise?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in view of the fact that the Majority Floor Leader arose to oppose this motion, I feel it is in order that I should rise and support this motion, and I would like to have the floor for a few moments.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the Senator will proceed.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, yesterday we debated this bill in detail and the membership of the Minority Party endeavored to point out to the membership of the Majority Party their mistakes in ripping this bill to pieces in committee.

Today, Mr. President, we have it before us on final passage. In my opinion, if this bill is passed in its present form, we members of the Senate are perpetrating a fraud upon the qualified electorate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I say also, Mr. President, that if the Republican Majority votes down our motion to let this bill go over in order, and passes it today, they are indicating and proving to the people of Pennsylvania they are not responsible, they are not capable of being the Majority Party in Pennsylvania, because what they have done is that they have repudiated a plank in their platform on which they were elected.

Mr. President, this bill should go over in order so that we can have a public hearing. This is of major importance to all of the people of Pennsylvania, and I ask the membership on both sides to support our motion that this bill go over in order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, not hearing my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cumberland will be so recorded.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, not hearing my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Washington will be so recorded.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, not hearing my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Monroe will be so recorded.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, not hearing my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. YOSKO and Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15

Bane,	Holland,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Barr,	Lane,	McMenamin,	Weiner,
Dent,	Leader,	Ruth	Yosko,
Haluska,	McCreesh,	Silvert,

NAYS—27

Berger,	Hare,	McCusker,	Wade,
Blass,	Kephart,	McPherson, Jr.	Wagner,
Chapman,	Kessler,	Miller,	Walker,
Crowe,	Kopriver, Jr.	Pechan,	Watkins,
Diehm,	Madigan,	Peelor,	Watson,
Fleming,	Mahany,	Propert,	Wolfe,
Freed,	Mallery,	Stevenson,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President ,this vote is due proof to the people of Pennsylvania that the Republican Majority in this Senate of Pennsylvania does not trust the people of Pennsylvania. I say to you that at the next election, the citizens of Pennsylvania will not trust the Republican Party because you are giving them a pig in a poke. This bill is a farce, it is a fake, and all of you know it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Mahany, would you inform my colleagues and me how setting up the machinery for the convention, once it has been proved by the people that they want a Convention, will hurt, or in any way hinder, this bill if we tack it on as an amendment?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, setting up the machinery and providing for the election of delegates and so on, as I said yesterday, might prevent good people from going out and campaigning for a job which they were not sure would be in existence if they won. I gave as an example yesterday my good friend, John Fertig, now deceased, who I thought was one of the foremost constitutional lawyers in the State of Pennsylvania. At one time he desired to attend a Constitutional Convention and aid in the making of a new Constitution for the State of Pennsylvania. He ran for the position of delegate to the Convention and, at the very same election at which he was elected, the people voted down the question at which he was elected, the people voted down the question as to whether they wanted a Constitutional Convention.

Now, Mr. President, historically, as was pointed out yesterday, this is the way to have a Constitutional Convention. The only way that members of a Constitutional Convention have been mandated by the people and approved is by first submitting the question to them as to whether they want a Constitutional Convention. As was pointed out, that is the way in which the present Constitution, under which we are operating, was adopted. One year they put the question before the people as to whether they wanted one, and then they set up the machinery in the succeeding year.

Mr. President, over a hundred years have elapsed since we had this Constitution, and a couple years more will not make the heavens fall down upon us if we do not have a Constitutional Convention next year. I think we can struggle along with this one for a couple more years, and then if the people this year decide they want to have a Constitutional Convention, we can set up the machinery and next Session decide how many delegates there shall be at large, how many shall run in the districts, how many there should be and all of that. We can give it real study next Session, so that there will not be any hurry up job in relation to the machinery.

Mr. President, suppose, for instance, a voter wants to vote "yes," that he would like to have a Constitutional Convention, but he does not like the way the thing has been set up by us. What chance has he got then? How is he going to vote on that kind of a deal? He would like to have a Constitutional Convention, but he does not want to have any delegates at large to it. We certainly should have the right, at the next Session of the Legislature, to decide how this Constitutional Convention machinery shall be set up.

The PRESIDENT. Does that answer your inquiry, Senator Weiner?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not believe it does. I would like to further interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator "superimpose" further information?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I know I will not be able to convince the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner, but I will be glad to answer the questions.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Mahany, if we had an amendment which said, "If the people accept this referendum and decide they want a Constitutional Convention, then and only then will this machinery go into effect"—in other words, we do not have to set up an amendment now which makes it mandatory that it happen at the same election. In other words, if this referendum goes on the ballot in November, and the people then decide that they want a Constitutional Convention, why can we not now, at this point, set up an amendment to House Bill No. 1, the further proviso that if they wish to have it the following primary or general election they will then vote on delegates? We would then have a place set up for the meeting and all the other necessary implements and data that must go with that type of machinery.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think that would be rather indefinite. Of course, we do not have such an amendment before us. The only thing which is before us now is whether or not we want to vote on a bill to provide a referendum for the people of Pennsylvania for a Constitutional Convention. That is the only issue before us right now, and I think it is up to the Senators here present to either vote "yes" or "no" on that question. That is all we have before us, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would ike to remind the Majority Floor Leader that earlier I asked for a bipartisan approach. There is no question in my mind that if he saw fit, in his infinite wisdom and judgment, he could round up the number of votes necessary and put through such an amendment. I would not offer this amendment, because I know it would be very easily defeated if the Majority Floor Leader felt that he did not like it or did not want to go along with it. That is the reason why I asked earlier for a cooling off period and a bipartisan aproach to this very important problem.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the Minority finds itself in a rather embarrassing and peculiar situation. We are all for a Constitutional Convention. Yesterday afternoon the Minority took the position that a committee of the Senate changed the intent of a House Bill. In so doing, they violated, in our opinion, the provisions of the Constitution which prohibit such action by either the House or the Senate, Article III, Section 1, of the Constitution. Further, they violated the Rules of this Senate, Senate Rule No. 18 and Senate Rule No. 37. The Chair ruled, in its wisdom, that neither the Constitution nor the Rules of the Senate were violated. On an appeal from that decision, on strict party lines, we remained the minority.

Mr. President, today we must answer two questions. We only have an opportunity to vote once, and yet both questions are separte and should have two answers. The question, if it could be put, should be put by asking, "Are you in favor of a Constitutional Convention?" I assure you that the Democratic Minority, upon being asked that question, would unanimously answer by saying "yes." Then, we should be asked the question, "Do you approve of the action of this committee, which you believe to be unconstitutional and against the Rules of the Senate?" We would answer unanimously "no."

Mr. President, here we are with only the opportunity to answer once to two questions of different natures. So, we find ourselves in this position. We cannot cloak the misdeed, as we see it, of the Senate yesterday by giving a "yes" vote on this proposal. Yet, we cannot afford to be misunderstood by the people by giving a "no" vote. We find ourselves in a somewhat similar position to the man who was asked to answer "yes" or "no" to the question, "When you are drunk, do you beat up your wife?"

Now, Mr. President, in trying to give somewhat halfway intelligent leadership to my group, I find that I have to make a decision, and I have resolved it this way in my own mind. I believe that we, as a group, should vote "no." In so doing, Mr. President, we highlight to the people of Pennsylvania our opposition to the manner in which this legislation is being treated on the Senate floor. We do so because we think the action of this Senate Committee and the action of the Majority in the Senate is unsound.

Mr. President, we believe that by setting up the machinery we are saving the taxpayers of Pennsylvania a considerable amount of money. We further believe that by passing the bill in its original state, we are allowing the people of Pennsylvania the freedom selection, and the freedom of choice and the freedom of thought. If the people vote against a Constitutional Convention, then the machinery falls by the wayside.

Mr. President, the argument of the Majority Leader, to the effect that honorable citizens will not run for the office of delegate because of not knowing whether or not the people would approve a Convention, does not hold water. He knows and I know that from all practical demonstrations, the political parties will name the delegates. Maybe on some rare occasion some independent may be able to sneak past the barriers, but, in the main, both political parties will name the delagtes to this convention. So, being practical in that, I believe that this is the time to name or set up the machinery in order that we can give to the people an affirmative answer to this question as to whether or not there should be a Constitutional Convention.

Further than that, Mr. President, the Majority Leader has stated that historically the Constitution has been amended by this process. What the Majority Leader has failed to tell the Senate is this When the Legislature of 1871 passed an act setting up a referendum to the people as to whether or not there should be a Constitutional Convention, and then, having received an affirmative vote, went into Session the following year of 1872 and set up the machinery, that Legislature was a continuing body composed of the same membership.

Mr. President, this Legislature will not be in existence, as of its present components, and a new Legislature will take over. If you are sincere in wanting to give the people an affirmative and reliable answer to their question of whether or not there should be a Constitutional Convention, and if you are against setting up the machinery, the least that you can do is to take line 3, on page 3 of the act, in which it says, if I remember correctly, that if a majority of the people vote for a convention, there shall be a convention called. If you do not do other than that, you at least say to the people, "If you vote for a convention, there will be a convention called." You know and I know that we cannot tie the hands of the future Legislature.

Therefore, Mr. President, just because the people have said that they want a convention is no proof, or no assurance, that they will get that convention. The best proof of that is the fact that the Constitution demands that there be reapportionment of the legislative bodies, but there has not been, although, I believe it was at the last Session of the Legislature, we were each served with a summons when a group of taxpayers tried to make us live up to the Constitutional provisions. We ignored it as a group and as individuals.

Mr. President, there is not anything that can force any future Legislature to call a Constitutional Convention contained within this piece of legislation. If you are against setting up the machinery as to the number of delegates to the proportional representation, as to the site of the convention or the moneys to be expended for same, if you are against all of those details, the least you can do at this moment is to accept an amendment making it mandatory to call a convention within a specified time.

Mr. President, the Majority Leader yesterday said that if the next Legislature was composed of a majority of Republicans, with a Republican Governor, he was sure they would call a convention. Now, Mr. President, those idealistic conditions are with us at the present. We have a Republican majority in the House, a Republican majority in the Senate and a Republican Governor. Yet, although the titular head of the Republican Party, the Governor of the Commonwealth, time and time again, before the public and before the General Assembly in Joint Session combined, has asked that this General Assembly give to the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to adopt a Constitution, he has been rejected unanimously by the members of his own party sitting on the other side.

Mr. President, they say that if we pass this legislation, we will have a mandate of the people. You already have a mandate of the people.

I believe that party platforms are sacred political documents, Mr. President, and when a party's platform is written, it gives to the peope of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the pledge of that party that, if elected, they will abide by the decision as rendered by the people. The people have, in unmistakable terms, said to the Republican Party of Pennsylvania, "We have approved your platform plank calling for a Constitutional Convention. We applaud the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania for adhering to that party platform plank." Whether the individual Senators feel that they are not morally obligated to carry out the platform provisions rests in their own conscience. So far as the political party that you represent is concerned, its pledge is before the people; its reputation and its integrity is being tried here today on the Senate floor.

Mr. President, knowing these things and believing them to be right, I cannot take any other position for my colleagues, and I ask them to follow me in voting "no," in order to highlight to the people of Pennsylvania our willingness to vote for a Constitutional Convention in the foreseeabe future, and to show to the people of Pennsylvania that we are not part or party of any action of this Senate which has emasculated this bill beyond recognition.

Further, Mr. President, we are saying to the House Members of both political parties that we join with you in believing that a Constitutional Convention ought to be provided for in this act.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, when we first opened this Session of the General Assembly, the Governor, in his address to the Members, stated that he was for a Constitutional Convention, and that it would be made the No. 1 bill of this Session. It was introduced in the House, and I have been led to believe that the wording and drafting of the bill had been discussed by both the leaders of the Senate and the House, as well as the Attorney General. It was passed by the House and sent over to the Senate.

In the meantime, Mr. President, the Manufacturers' Association and the Chamber of Commerce issued a statement that they feaered if a Constitutional Convention were held, the people might adopt a graduated income tax. There immediately became a lull or less enthusiasm for a State Convention by the Majority Members of the Senate. I was surprised to note that it looks now as if the Governor does not have one supporter on the Majority side. It seems as if the man whom the Republican Party has repudiated in the primary election, Mr. Grundy and the Manufacturers' Association, through its agent Mr. Owlett, have again gained control of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

If this is not so, Mr. President, then why was there this change of mind, why was there this lack of enthusiasm for the Governor's bill? There is no other reason to accept but that it was because the Manufacturers Association passed the word out, "It shall not pass," because over the years the leadership of that group has always feared the people and have never given the people the opportunity to vote.

I say to you, Mr. President, that it is shameful of the Republican Party to say that they have deserted their leader, elected by the people of Pennsylvania as their governor, and they are now bound to the opposition forces that they licked in the primary and in the general election.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to incorporate one more portion of the Republican platform into this discussion, and suggest to the Republican leadership that if it is not sincere in its party platform, it should not, in the future, incorporate this language in its platforms. This is what is states, Mr. President, and I quote from page 71 of the Legislative Journal, 1951, Volume 32, No. 1. They wind up the patform, and they say this:

"This platform, represents the honest and sincere intent of the Republican Party of Pennsylvania to further the interests, security and welfare of our people.

"It symbolizes our purpose of keeping Pennsylvania modern in government structure and in proper assistance to our citizens.

"With God's help we will conform to its precepts."

Mr. President, the action taken on this House Bill is a gross violation of that pledge.

Mr. President, I just want to say to the Majority Leader that when he states that the people of Pennsylvania cannot intelligently vote on two questions, one, as to whether or not we should have a Constitutional Convention and, at the same time, elect competent, respectable delegates to that convention, he is making just a plain silly statement, which is an insult to the intelligence of the voters of this State.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to say this in answer to that conclusion by Senator Yosko about my statement. Certainly Senator Dent gave reason why the people might not be able to vote intelligently on those two questions. He said if we voted this in, that the party machines in the various Congressional Districts would decide who the delegates to this convention would be.

In other words, Mr. President, according to his statement, you are going to pick these men who are going to come to Harrisburg to work on a new Constitution, you are going to pick those people in smoke filled rooms, and so on. Perhaps we would like to have some type of machinery set up in this Constitutional Convention setup so that good constitutional lawyers from the various parts of Pennsylvania could be picked, and not have them picked, as Senator Dent says, by machine politicians.

Mr. President, I hope if the people vote for this convention that we will be able in the next Session of the Legislature to provide good machinery, so that the topmost men of Pennsylvania can come to Harrisburg and sit in a convention to study, consider and approve a new Constitution.

Mr. President, if we talk about the dilemma that Senator Dent seems to be in, in relation to his vote, consider the dilemma that one of the voters in my district might be in when they voted for me at the election in which I won. They might have wanted to vote for "Mahany," but they did not want to vote for a Constitutional Convention. We do not know how may people there were like that in the district. They are in a dilemma. I say that this question is so far-reaching that certainly the people should have the right to decide just on that question, and that question alone.

As far as the manufacturers, or some other individuals of the State of Pennsylvania, dominating this Senate, Mr. President, I think that is an insult to Senator Holland's colleagues. I believe that this Senate, and those who are here, are free and clear of being dominated by any group or individual. We are trying to vote our own convictions. I do not know about the Chamber of Commerce and those people being for or against this, but I do know that the Grange in my district is against a Constitutional Convention. I believe the membership of the Grange in my district certainly represents a majority of the voters in my district. I feel that certainly they should have the right to decide whether or not they want a Constitutional Convention held.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask all of my colleagues to allow the people of Pennsylvania to decide this one question. If they do that, they will vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the answer is not as easy as the juestion propounded by the vote being taken. We are not voting against the right or the privilege of the people to vote whether or not they want a Constitutional Convention. We just repeat that when we ask that question, we want to be able to assure them at the same time that if they vote in the affirmative, they will have a Constitutional Convention. That is the only question before this Senate no matter how we cloud it up.

Mr. President, I want to ease the mind of the Majority Leader in so far as smoke filled rooms. I understand that the smoke filled rooms are now air-conditioned.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would just like to add an amendment to what Mr. Dent just said. The rooms at Hershey, I understand, are not smoke filled anymore. They are air-conditioned, I think that if the Majority Leader's mind will go back to when he was elected Majority Leader, it was in a very smoke filled room at Hershey.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—27

Bane,	Hare,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Barr,	Kephart,	McCusker,	Wade,
Chapman,	Kessler,	McPherson, Jr.	Wagner,
Crowe,	Kopriver, Jr.	Miller,	Walker,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Peelor,	Watson,
Freed,	Mahany,	Propert,

NAYS—15

Berger,	Holland,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Blass,	Lane,	McMenamin,	Weiner,
Dent,	Leader,	Ruth,	Yosko,
Haluska,	McCreesh,	Silvert,

A majority of all the Senators having voted, "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want it stated for the record that my reason for voting "no" on this legisation is that I will not be a party to any fraud or perpetuation of any fraud upon the people of Pennsylvania.

STUDENTS FROM JACKSONWALD EXETER JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. THE Chair regrets to note that visitors of Senator Ruth, from the Jacksonwald Exeter Junior High School, Jacksonwald, Berks County, are about to escape from the gallery.

They are under the guidance of Mr. Roger Hertz, Miss Weidknecht and Mrs. Schmehl. I hope at least some of them will rise in place and take a bow.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 51, as follows:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Mines for the purpose of administering the provisions of "The Coal Mine Sealing Act of 1947"

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or as much as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Mines for the payment of the deficiency in the appropriation for the purpose of administering the provisions of "The Coal Mine Sealing Act of 1947" for the two fiscal years begining June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, there is an old saying in politics, "If you can't convince, confuse." I am not only confused, but I am bewildered upon the merits of this next bill. I wonder how long we shall condone the actions of our various department heads, in year after year coming before this body and asking for appropriations, deficiencies, such as we have before us today.

Mr. President, I would like to talk on two bills at one time, if I may, House Bill No. 51 and House Bill No. 445, because both relate to the same subject. I said that I am confused, because originally someone, some brain truster, demanded $250,000 as a deficiency, relating to House Bill No. 51. When the bill came to the Senate Committee, they changed their minds. They said, "Now we want only $125,000." Then yesterday, my colleague from Somerset County said, "We were wrong again. I will offer for an amendment. We only need $100,000." I say I am confused. What do they really need? How much do they need and why?

Mr. President, if any one of us, and I believe all of us are men of business, administrators, manufacturers or what not, but if one of us would permit one of our employees to draw checks upon our accounts, with no funds in the bank, how long would that person be employed? We would fire him immediately. We would send him to jail. Yet we condone the same system right here. Men, without any authority, taking it upon themselves to write checks upon this Commonwealth to expend moneys, knowing full well that the money was not appropriated to them. What right do they have?

Mr. President, you will find here that you have a total of over $11,000,000 in deficiencies. Think of it. Why, the greatest manufacturer on earth would be alarmed if one of his employees would write a check out for $11,000,000 without his consent and without his knowledge. Still. we here in the Senate, without batting an eye will sit back idly year in and year out and vote for deficiencies, knowing full well they were not authorized.

Mr. President, there is one department of the State Government which conducts itself according to the letter of the law. That department is the Department of Highways. Only a few months ago I read in the paper where the Secretary of Highways was compelled to lay off a number of caretakers. I went down to the Department and inquired. I said, "Mr. Secretary, why did you lay off so many caretakers throughout the Commonwealth?" He said, "Senator, the answer is simple. I have to live within my budget. I knew full well that we had too many men upon the payroll and, therefore, acting in my capacity as Secretary and administrator of a certain fund, I was compelled to lay off a number of men to live within my budget." That is not true of these bills.

I say to you, Mr. President, the Department of Mines last fall went out in the open spaces and hunted for men, picked them up, men who never saw a coal mine, and placed them upon the public payroll for election purposes. After the election they were dismissed. That is why you now find a deficiency.

Mr. President, I say to you that all of these men who have expended these funds totaling $11,000,000 should be brought before the bar of justice and given a hearing, asking them why they expended funds knowing full well that they were not appropriated for that purpose, asking them why they padded the payrolls, and then deal with them as you deal with other criminals, put them in jail. Any department head who would spend $11,000,000 should be in jail. Back in my county and back in your county, Mr. President, men with less misgivings have gone to jail, men who write a five dollar check with no funds in the bank, and yet we condone a practice of this kind.

Mr. President, I say every man who is guilty of misconduct in office should be dealt with according to law. These men are no exceptions. Why do we meet here? What is our purpose? Why have a Committee on Appropriations? We sit down and appropriate certain funds for a certain specified reason. All of you know we are being ignored; we are being toyed with and looked upon as puppets. They pay no attention whatsoever to what we say. Year in and year out, they follow the same practice.

Mr. President, a halt must be called. I am going to ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this bill, but I am going to ask my colleagues to vote "yes" on House Bill No. 445 for one reason only. We realize you are in a mess; you are in a jam. You have outdone yourselves. We are coming to your rescue, not because we believe in this practice, but because you have gone overboard, and because some innocent people will suffer. It is our plan to vote "yes" on House Bill No. 445. We do not believe in it, but we are coming to your rescue to get you out of a mess.

Mr. President, we talk about mink coats and deep-freezes that were given to people in Washington, who have been prosecuted in Washington. Why, it is no comparison whatsoever. When you find men writing checks out for $11,000,000 without authority, they should be prosecuted, brought before the Senate Committee and asked why. Who gave them permissison, under what authority were they permitted to write checks totaling $11,000,000, and to pad the public payroll?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am in accord with a great many things the gentleman from Cambria said. In my experience here in the Senate I have repeatedly said during a Session that I would never vote for a deficiency appropriation again. Of course, inevitably, you find yourself wishing you would never say "never again" again.

I do not agree with his final conclusions, Mr. President, and I would like to discuss the matter with him. As far as House Bill No. 51 is concerned, I would like to talk on that for the moment, because that is the bill which is now before us. If the gentleman will refer to his History of this House Bill No. 51, it was introduced in the House early in February of 1953, and since that time there has been a change in the administration of the Department of Mines. I had fullly intended, at the time the bill came over from the House, that I would not vote for House Bill No. 51. I have since discussed the matter with the present Secretary of the Department of Mines and I learned that, for example, when he found out what was going on, that this mines sealing program was being carried on over and above the appropriation which had been made for it, he stopped all of the work, which is somewhat comparable to the illustration which the gentleman from Cambria gave us on the Highway Department.

Over in Somerset County, as I understand the situation, Mr. President, there is considerable machinery piled up over there which is being used in a mine sealing program. It was the suggestion of the present Secretary of the Department of Mines that if the appropriation for this deficiency was in the sum of $100,000, he could carry on this one project where he has all of this equipment over there, but if we terminated it by not passing this bill, it would be necessary for him to perhaps remove that machinery or else just store it there until the end of this present biennium.

Very reluctantly, Mr. President, I decided in my own mind that I would vote for this amended bill which gives the present Secretary $100,000, which would continue that Somerset County project so that this machinery would not have to be removed. I also, for the benefit of the gentleman from Cambria, made up my mind that this $100,000 could and should be deducted from whatever sums would be appropriated to the department, in this forthcoming biennium, for the same project.

Mr. President, with relation to his discussion on House Bill No. 445, which will be before us later today, I have some comments on that bill which I would like to reserve until we come to that bill because I, too, would be very reluctant to have people perform services for which commitments have been made by the departments, salaries that should be paid. I am very reluctant not to vote for money to pay those salaries. With that, I am in accord with the gentleman. However, in House Bill No. 445 there are still considerable appropriation deficiencies which have not been deleted from the bill and which, in my own individual mind, are not necessary at this time. Therefore, I would like to reserve any comment on House Bill No. 445 until we reach it.

Mr. President, I would also like to say, for the record, that I agree with the gentleman from Cambria in his conclusion that department heads who are appropriated money by the General Assembly should live entirely within their budget. The Senate Appropriations Committee, under the very able leadership of Doctor Chapman, and the House Appropriations Committee, under the leadership of Norman Wood of Lancaster, do a lot of extra curricular work endeavoring to determine the bare minimum under which these departments can exist. They do the best they can to dole out that money as freely as possible, and the departments, when they receive an appropriation, should live under it. Of course, Mr. President, there is not a gentleman in the Senate who would not appreciate the fact that at times an emergency situation might arise where it would be necessary for a department to exceed a particular point in their budget.

Now, Mr. President, what happens in these departments, at least this is my opinion from the information I have been able to gather, once an appropriation is made by the Legislature to a department or a board or bureau on Capitol Hill, that they can jockey the various amounts involved and we wind up discovering there is always a deficiency upon the vulnerable point that the General Assembly must face in a deficiency bill, and that is salaries for employees. They give you the heart-rending picture of employees who have given this service and have not been paid for four, five, six, seven, eight weeks, and they cannot pay their grocery bills, and then they appeal to us so that the milk of human kindness will run in our veins and we will pay off these salaries.

Mr. President, you always discover that there has been a jockeying of accounts so that there is not a deficiency for buying new drapes for some bureaucrat's office. That is always taken care of first, and then the deficiency always arises in the vulnerable spot, and that is in the salary appropriations.

Mr. President, I think that sooner or later the General Assembly should take a position, and a very firm one, so that the boards, bureaus, commissions and departments on Capitol Hill will be forced to live within their budgets, and if an emergency arises which must create a deficiency because of some unforeseen act or some unforeseen tragedy, then that could be handled by the House and Senate Appropriations Committee, who are very familiar with the intricate details of the appropriations involved.

I do not recall, Mr. President, of ever attending a Session of the General Assembly that there has not been at least one or two deficiency appropriation bills. Here we are, as the gentleman from Cambria says, suddenly confronted with a horde of them which run the gamut of practically every type of governmental services furnished at the State level.

Mr. President, I would say to the gentleman from Cambria, in all seriousness, I am reluctant to vote for House Bill No. 51, but I feel this new Secretary of the Department of Mines has been very fair and honest in his answers to the interrogations which I put to him, and with this additional $100,000 he can pay up the salaries, or the bills or the commitments which have already been incurred and carry out this one project in Somerset County until the end of this present fiscal period.

Mr. President, when we reach House Bill No. 445, I would like then to have the opportunity of discussing that with the gentleman from Cambria.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, first I wish to state that I appreciate the kind remarks made by Senator Walker in agreeing with me on a principle in my discussion regarding the contents of the bill.

Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, whether he condones the position now taken by the present Secretary of Mines in asking for the deficiency appropriation.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not want to use the word "condone." I am not sparring with the gentleman from Cambria over verbiage. I do not want to use the word "condone."

As I said previously, I was opposed to the bill when it first came over. In discussing it with the present Secretary of the Department of Mines, he explained these projects where he had hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of machinery lying idle which he would have to take care of if he did not get this, and that he could continue this project with $100,000 up to the end of this biennial period. I do not want to be misunderstood, but it is my recollection that one of the projects he intends to continue, if he gets this deficiency, is in Cambria County where, I think, there was about $300,000 worth of machinery tied up.

After this discussion, very reluctantly I decided in my own mind to go along with this bill in order to continue those mine sealing projects, even though I cannot condone deficiency appropriations. I will admit that is rather controdictory, Senator, but that is the present confused state of my mind.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, in reply to the gentleman from Allegheny, it makes no difference to me whether it is in Cambria County.

Mr. WALKER. I appreciate that, Mr. President. I deliberately did not mention it before because I did not want to color the discussion.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, can the gentleman tell me how they originally arrived at the enormous figure of $250,000?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think that the figure arrived at in February was presented by the then Secretary of the Department, which was cut down by the House Appropriations Committee to $125,000 after a discussion with the present Secretary. When the matter was discussed with him by some of us on this side of the aisle, he submitted a figure of $100,000 as the amount which he would need for the projects that he felt should be, for economy purposes, continued.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, will the gentleman agree with me that if the figure of $100,000 is correct, the former Secretary was very extravagant by asking for $250,000?

Mr. WALKER. Of course, Mr. President, I do not want to criticize the former Secretary of Mines. He had an idea that $250,000 was what he would need, and let me say that the gentleman from Schuylkill, who is now the Secretary of the Department of Mines, adopted a more economic view.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, that is what I am talking about. They all have ideas, just as the good Senator from Allegheny stated. The former Secretary of Mines had an idea of $250,000. That is all it was, an idea. There was nothing fundamental whatsoever, no basis for asking for $250,000.

Mr. President, I woud like to have brought before this body a list of the men employed by that department, to show us how this money has been expended, who has been on the payroll and whether or not these men actually worked. I am informed that many of these persons never showed up for work. Men were placed on the payroll, and would go out the length and breadth of the Commonwealth for political purposes and I am sure no one condones that. They never had seen a coal mine and had no knowledge of a coal mine project, but were receiving money. When the money ran out, the former Secretary of Mines kept them on the payroll, kept issuing checks, knowing full well that we, as suckers, if you please, would go along and pass the appropriation according to his whims and wishes.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I correct the gentleman? No checks have been issued on these deficiencies. They are merely commitments that have been carried on. I do not think that impression is an isolated instance. Quite a number of us had the impression that the money had been spent. However, we find that there are no expenditures; they are just commitments or accounts payable which have been incurred, Senator, and that is the slight difference between issuing checks for it.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, if no checks have been issued, then we have no deficiency.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I might say to the gentleman that the commitments have been made. For example, there has been work performed, but the salaries have not been paid for the work performed.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, again, I want to point out that he had a certain budget to work on, and had he maintained it true to life, within the budget, he would never have had any reason whatsoever to call for a deficiency appropriation. However, he hired additional people during the election, men he did not need, and padded the payroll and, therefore, found himself in this deplorable condition. How long can we condone this misconduct in office? As I said awhile ago, men of this type should be brought before the bar of justice and dealt with as other criminals are dealt with.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Cambria that it is my recollection that out of this $100,000, that is the point of issue in House Bill No. 51, approximately $20,000 is for salaries and accounts payable which have already been committed. The balance of it was to permit the present Secretary of Mines to continue these two mine sealing projects which we have discussed here this morning.

Mr. President, I have no quarrel at all with the antagonism of the gentleman toward deficiencies. I agree with him there. However, this is just a question of trying to decide which would be best for the Commonwealth under the circumstances and, very reluctantly, as I said to the gentleman, I came tc the conclusion that under the circumstances which were presented to me by the present Secretary of Mines, I was willing to waive my objection to deficiencies in this instance to give him the opportunity to continue these projects, because I felt that the Commonwealth would seriously suffer if the projects were cut off now, and then perhaps an attempt made to restore them at the beginning of the next biennium.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I wish to thank the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker. However, I want to point out very briefly again that that is why we have a deliberative body. If the Commonwealth finds itself in the position where it must expend $11,000,000, there should be a Special Session called by the Legislature. That would cost probaby $200,000, which is nothing compared with $11,000,000. We have been called back before.

Mr. President, I say there is no department head who has any right whatsoever to write checks where there is no money. That man is not fit to be a Cabinet Member. You would not condone that action in your own business; I will not condone it in mine. Such men should be weeded out of public office. It is a mess. As the Altoona Tribune said, "The mess of messes exists in Harrisburg." That is true. We talk about the mess in Washington. That is nothing compared with men spending $11,000,000 without the consent of this General Assembly.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not want to becloud the issue. I would like to keep the discussion on House Bill No. 51 because, as I said, when we get over to House Bill No. 445, then I would like to discuss part of that bill with the gentleman from Cambria.

As the gentleman from Cambria well knows, Mr. President, this is not the first Session where we had deficiency appropriations. I recall having deficiency appropriations in the 1939 Session, which was the first Session that I was privileged to serve. I think at that time they were an old story also. I think we could well take steps to prevent these whenever and wherever possible.

Mr. President, at the present moment, the sole issue before the Senate on House Bill No. 51 is first, whether or not we shall reimburse the present Secretary of the Department of Mines for the salaries and accounts payable which have already been committed, and, secondly, shall we give him additional funds in order to continue these two projects to the end of this present fiscal period.

Mr. President, as far as Senator Haluska's comment on messes in Harrisburg and Washington, a political discussion on this bill is not going to help either side of the aisle, because the antagonism toward deficiency appropriations knows no barrier. I think both side of the aisle are fed up entirely with deficiency appropriations and would like to take steps to curb them.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, if we are going to exercise any degree of economy, we are going to have to have a realistic approach to deficiency appropriations. They handed us here a white paper, upon which is marked the sum of $100,000 for deficiency appropriations. That does not mean anything. We do not know the details. I imagine the Committee on Appropriations probably held a meeting and discussed this bill in detail.

Mr. President, what the Members of the Senate would like to know is this. What was the money spent for? We would like to have a detailed, itemized statement on what the money was spent for, because we are supposed to be economy minded. If we go along and pass this legislation, which, perhaps, has a lot of merit, but, at the same time, how do we know? We have to exercise some extreme caution in this Session. I say that the leadership on the other side should supply the Members of the Senate with a detailed, itemized statement on what the subject is, or what the content is in regard to this appropriation.

Mr. President, we are going to get along a lot better, I believe, in this Session as we start to consider these bills if we know just what we are paying for.

I am not going to inject politics into it, Mr. President. I say that probably the Secretary of Mines has a very good cause. However, I do not know that. I know, as far as my administrative experience is concerned, if a department head would come to me with a deficiency appropriation, or go over his budget, I would want to know in detail where the money went and why it went.

Mr. President, we are the custodians, actually, of the State's Funds here in Pennsylvania. We are going to have to vote on tax measures. It seems to me that the Senate of Pennsylvania should have this information, so that we can intelligently consider this legislation.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am glad the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, expressed himself as being desirous of having the departments live within their appropriations. However, I want to say to the gentleman from Allegheny that that end will never be accomplished by talking about it or by any wishful thinking. There is only one way in which you can eliminate deficiency appropriations and, frankly, in the last five bienniums, if my memory serves me correcty, we have had $131,000,000 worth of them. The only way you can eliminate deficiency appropriations is to set up machinery for the control of expenditures.

Mr. President, at the 1951 Session, Senator Diehm and Senator Propert introduced a bill in the Senate to set up an Accountant General. If that bill would have passed—it was on the Senate Calendar and was sent back to committee—perhaps we would not be faced today with any deficiency appropriations because, under that bill, machinery would have been set up to control expenditures.

I introduced an Accountant General bill similar to the one which was introduced in the 1951 Session, Mr. President. It is still in committee, in spite of the fact that we have been here amost four months. Perhaps I am the wrong sponsor; I do not know. If I am, I will recall the bill, and it is about time somebody on the other side, or the administration, introduced such a bill so that we could control expenditures and operate the Commonwealth not on a cash, but on an accrual basis and make our appropriations on an object classification basis.

Mr. President, at one of the pubic hearings we had down in the Senate Caucus Room, it was admitted that although the departments submit their budget requests in breakdown form, they admitted that once the appropriation is made they get a lump sum of money and they can use that money for any purpose which they desire. When it is uncontrolled, naturally you are going to wind up with deficiency appropriations.

Mr. President, this particular item on mine sealing received a $1,000,000 appropriation for the current biennium. As I understand it, there is still $4,000 in that appropriation as of this moment. I would like to know, as already was expressed, how was that $1,000,000, with the execption of the $4,000, spent during the twenty-three months of the current biennium? I would like to take a look at it and see whether or not this deficiency appropriation is justified. I also understand that this mine sealing project is a part of the Department of Mines. I understand, too, that there is still in the Department of Mines' appropriation, $176,000 for the payment of salaries and expenses and that it takes about $34,000 for one pay period. Since there are ony three pay periods left in this biennium, which ends on May 31st, there will be a balance in that $176,000 appropriation for expenses and salaries. It would seem to me that the Department of Mines, or somebody in the State Government, ought to make arrangements for a transfer of the anticipated balance of this $176,000 and apply it toward the deficiency that is being requested. If that is done, perhaps we would not need this deficiency appropriation which is being requested here today.

I repeat, Mr. President, we are not going to eliminate deficiency appropriations by just talk and by wishful thinking. We have got to do something about it. We have got to take positive action, and the action to take is to set up that accountant general in this State, which calls for the control of expenditures. The sooner we do that, the sooner we are going to do away with deficiency appropriations, accounts payable and a lot of other things which exist in the State Government.

Mr. President, I, personally, will not vote for this deficiency with the facts that I have at hand. It seems to me that under the circumstances we probably should wait until Monday, and get a statement from the Department of Mines to indicate how it spent its million dollars which we gave them, and also determine what, if anything, is the anticipated surplus in the Department of Mines' appropriation. If my figures are correct, that would effect a transfer of funds from one appropriation to another, which, I believe, the budget bureau can do, and we might be abe to eliminate this deficiency.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for thirty-five minutes.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order. House Bill No. 51, Printer's No. 170, on final passage, is before the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not want to delay this debate any longer. I think it has been sufficiently discussed on both sides of the aisle. In connection with House Bill No. 51, I do regret, however, a certain statement having been made here by one of the Senators that he is informed that a large number of people are not on the job, and are drawing money without doing any work and that sort of thing. I think all of us make a mistake by making blanket charges when we do not have anything specific to back them up. When a Senator, speaking from the floor of this Senate, makes a charge like that, the newspapers usually pick it up and say that Senator so and so charges that people are drawing State pay without doing any work, and later on when we find out that perhaps that was not so, there is no retraction made of it, and it puts these men who are working on this type of work in a bad light.

Mr. President, if any Senator knows of any project that the State is carrying on in which the men are not doing a full day's job for a full day's pay, I wish that they would get in touch with me, or some other Senator who is in charge, and give the full facts concerning this. Then, if their charges prove to be correct, we can take it up with the secretary of the department in which that work is being carried on, and get the facts from him as to why this man was paid for not doing any work.

Mr. President, I think all of these departments are trying their best to use the money to the best interests of the people to carry on with the work which has been assigned to them as economically as possible.

Mr. President, I would ask that from now on, if any Senator has any charges like that to make, that he at least get in touch with me. I will be glad to call in the head of the department and have a conference with that Senator, or any group of Senators for that matter, and inquire into the charge in full. If we do not straighten it out to that Senator's satisfaction, then I will humbly apologize and say that the charge is correct. Just to hurl blanket charges without having any definite information to back them up, I think is bad for all of us.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I sympathize with my colleague from Crawford County, and, as a lawyer, he knows he has a weak case, and he is doing his best under the circumstances. He is trying to impress the jury that the fellow should have life, or at least maybe a twenty year sentence, instead of death.

Mr. President, when I make a charge I know what I am talking of. I would like to have the gentleman from Crawford County ask the Department of Mines to give us a list of all those who were employed on a mine sealing project throughout the months of September, October and November of 1952. I wish we had a committee who would be authorized to investigate the mine sealing project. You would find then, without any quibbling at all on my part, men who are on the payroll who never reported for work. They were placed upon the payroll for political reasons only.

I wonder what right he would have, Mr. President, if I should come to him and make a complaint about anybodv on the payroll, what authority he has to stop it. True, he is the Republican Floor Leader, but only a Senator, in the same cacapity as I. He would have no authority whatsoever to do anything about the matter.

If he is interested in the remarks I made, Mr. President, let him ask for a list of the names of people who were placed upon this payroll during last fall's election, and then I will show him what men were on the payroll and refused to even report for work.

And the question recurrring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

CALL FOR A QUORUM

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I request a call for a quorum.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the request for a call for a quorum.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I second the request for a call for a quorum.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I second the request for a call for a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The request for a quorum having been called for by the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, and the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Watson, the Clerk will call the roll on the quorum.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as being "present."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Armstrong will be so recorded.

Mr. McCUSKER. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as being "present."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will be so recorded.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as being "present."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MAHANY, Mr. HARE, Mr. WATKINS and Mr. WATSON and were as follows, viz:

Bane,	Holland,	McCusker,	Silvert,
Barr,	Kephart,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,
Berger,	Kessler,	McMenamin,	Wade,
Blass,	Kopriver, Jr.	McPherson, Jr.	Wagner,
Chapman,	Leader,	Miller,	Watkins,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Pechan,	Watson,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Peelor,	Wolfe,
Freed,	Mahany,	Propert,	Yosko,
Haluska,	Mallery,	Ruth,	Walker,
Hare,	McCreesh,		Presiding Officer

PRESENT—38

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The roll having been called, and 38 Senators having answered "Present," the Chair declares a quorum to be present.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred.)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Westmoreland will be so recorded.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Washington will be so recorded.

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

Berger,	Kephart,	McCusker,	Wade,

STUDENTS FROM JOHN HARRIS HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate a group of students in the gallery from the John Harris High School here in Harrisburg, who are the guests of Senator Taylor.

Will Senator Taylor's guests please arise in place and take a bow?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, earlier in today's Session, Senator Wagner presented to the Senate the Report of the Joint State Government Commission on "Highway Use and Highway Costs." I desire to bring to the attention of the Senate that the recommendations made by the Joint State Government Commission in their meeting on April 21, as printed on page 1 of the report, does not include another recommendation passed by the Commission at that time, namely, that the Commission recommended further study of this subject. I read from an excerpt of the minutes:

"Upon motion duly made and seconded, and unanimously carried. The Commission recommended further study of this subject."

Mr. President, I would also like to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate the fact that while it was reported in the newspaper that the Joint State Government Commission had advocated increased truck weights, this is not true. If you will look at the recommendations contained on page 1, the only recommendation contained therein is, "Present axle weight limits are retained." Then, by using a certain formula, if you are going to use that formula, the general gross weight would be increased. The "if" part would not recommend that it be carried out.

Mr. President, the recommendation speaks for itself, but I call attention to that fact because of the misstatements carried in the press the other day after the meeting of the Commission, and with the hope that when the press reads this Commission Report, they will make an accurate report to the people as to what the Commission did do.

REQUEST FOR RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, concerning House Bill No. 445, which went over in its order temporarily earlier today, yesterday, when amendments were made to this bill, the printer did not include all of the amendments in the printed bill which is now on our desks. This has been called to the attention of the printer, and he is now preparing a bill which will include all of the amendments which we adopted yesterday. I understand that the bill will be here within twenty-five minutes so that we may act upon the same.

Therefore, I now request a recess for twenty-five minutes for the purpose of awaiting this bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, as a matter of saving time, I was wondering, if there is going to be debate and discussion on this bill, if we could have that at present and then vote when the bill does come to our Calendar, because I know that there is an important public hearing at 3:00 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time.

REQUEST FOR RECESS WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think that is a good suggestion, and I now withdraw my request for a recess.

Mr. President, I will be glad to agree that we should debate the bill, and I will put in the record the part which will be crossed out of the bill when it is presented to us.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Of course, as the gentlemen of the Senate know, they will be custodians of their own course of conduct. The Chair wishes to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate that they will be discussing a bill which is not on their desks.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the bill which we now have on our desks, House Bill No. 445, was amended yesterday. On page 6, starting with line 10 through line 20, all those lines were to be crossed off, but the printer inadvertently did not cross off lines 15 to 20 on the bill which we now have before us. If the bill had been properly printed, the only difference would be that lines 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, on page 6, would be crossed off, and the printer will have that bill before us, correctly printed, within twenty-five minutes.

Mr. President, I am willing, if the rest of my colleagues are, to permit debate upon this bill, with the further understanding that those lines on page 6, 15 through 20, will be crossed off.

HOUSE BILL No. 445 CALLED UP

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Third Reading Calendar House Bill No. 445, which went over in its order temporarily, for consideration at this time.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if the Members of the Senate would turn to page 6 of this bill, I think they would readily see a pattern. If the School Employees' Retirement Fund was short over $5,000,000 last week, I cannot understand how, by any stroke of genius, or imagination, or Houdini or anything, they are not short again as of today.

Also, Mr. President, on page 7, if the State Employees' Retirement Fund was short $160,000 yesterday morning, why is it not short $160,000 today?

Mr. President, I have asked persons, who I think have capable legal minds, just what is the contract between the State and the State Employees' Retirement Fund and the School Employees' Retirement Fund. They have told me that we are bound by law, which was passed by the previous General Assembly, to put this money into the School Employees' Retirement Fund, and also into the State Employees' Retirement Fund.

Mr. President, I do not like the word "suspicion," but I have read some I guess you might call them "news releases," which have been put out by the Majority Party in the House that they were thinking, in their tax dilemma, of shortchanging these funds for the next biennium.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Education, Mr. Wagner.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Wagnor, to your knowledge, does the State at present owe the School Employees' Retirement Fund a little over $5,000,000 for the last biennium?

Mr. WAGNER. Well, I would take from the deficiency appropriation proposed that that is the amount of money which we will have to provide some day to carry out the arrangement we have, to keep in step with those funds.

Mr. BARR. You say, "some day." In other words, the deficiency is there now. At least it was told to the Members on both sides of the aisle that the deficiency was there when they voted for this bill. Has that deficiency disappeared?

Mr. WAGNER. I say, "some day," Mr. President, because in a great many of these deficiency appropriations we are confronted with the problem of paying for services rendered by employees and personnel in the Department of Mines, hospitals and sundry other places. Wages are very pertinent and a very current matter. The question of these particular appropriations which are owing, and I presume will be made sooner or later, do not have to be made today or this week. They can be made at the convenience of the Legislature.

Mr. BARR. Senator Wagner, I agree that there is quiet a bit of money in these funds. However, would you tell me if the State is not legally bound by law to contribute a certain amount to these funds each biennium?

Mr. WAGNER. I did not say that, Mr. President. I said that the State has an obligation to do its share to keep in step with the other contributing factors to these funds. I think there have been times in the past when the full amount that might be currently estimated as needed to reinforce these funds was not necessarily paid in the current biennium. I think that in the last Session we appropriated fewer millions of dollars than might have been the exact amount to carry on our full pledge.

The point that I am making, Mr. President, is that the State will provide this amount of money sooner or later. However, I say there is no obligation to do it at any given time.

Mr. BARR. you mean, Senator Wagner, that at this Session of the Legislature we do not have to contribute to the State Employees' Retirement Fund or the School Employees' Retirement Fund?

Mr. WAGNER. I said, in effect, Senator Barr, that I did not understand that there was a fixed obligation on the part of the Commonwealth to provide its full share of this money at any given time. I am not advocating, urging or agreeing to any long deferment. However, I do not understand that the obligation must be fulfilled at any given period. I think these funds have well above $500,000,000 in them. If we have an obligation to pick up the slack to the extent of nine, ten twenty or thirty million, I think as far as legality goes, we could provide a portion of that one biennium and, of course a portion in another. I do not think that the funds would be ruined if we withhold the last million for a period of a week or a month or a Session.

Mr. BARR. I agree with that. We should withhold it until the last day of the Session, because I think there is more than $500,000,000 in the funds.

The question I am trying to have answered from the other side is this, Mr. President. Is not this Session of the Legislature legally bound to contribute money to the State Employees' Retirement Fund and the School Employees' Retirement Fund in the amount of the difference between what they have made in interest and four per cent?

Mr. WAGNER. I would say, Mr. President, that the State has a moral obligation, and possibly a legal obligation, but not at any given time.

We sit in here, Mr. President, and we legislate Session after Session and we liberalize retirement funds. We allow people to move into one fund from out of another. We make eligible people who have been in the Armed Forces. We permit teachers who have taught out-of-State to pick up the intervening years in which they did not teach in Pennsylvania. Those of us who most enthusiastically do that have no knowledge of the implied cost, except to say that it will not cost too much. That "not too much" is sometimes one, two, three, four or seven million dollars, which we do not realize until the next Session, two years hence.

On that basis, Senator Barr, I say that there is a certain flexibility to the exact amount which must be put in there to maintain our moral obligation, and the question is not on what week or what month or what Session you do it, but that you make sure to carry out your moral obligation without endangering those funds.

Mr. BARR. Senator Wagner, your answer was awfully "iffy." You said you were not sure whether it was a moral or a legal obligation. Perhaps I should interrogate Senator Wade. I think he is a student on these retirement funds, and maybe he could answer that question.

Mr. WAGNER. Senator Wade is a great moralist, and I am sure he will be able to help you out.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogate?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Wade, can you tell me if the State is only morally obligated to contribute to these funds each biennium or legally obligated?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the funds are currently set up on what is known as a reserve basis. There is a legal obligation, because the law sets forth the amount of matching funds the State and the districts set up, plus the contributions from the members and the compound interest.

Now, to answer the question—

Mr. BARR. Thank you very much. You have answered my question. The State is legally bound; that is all I wanted to know.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, it seems that there is an appropriation involved here to the State Employes' Retirement Fund. From what I have here, frankly, I do not see how anyone could compute deficiencies or even appropriations of any kind to the State Employes' Retirement Fund, because of the way it is operated and administered.

Mr. President, I want to read here from the record. I am quoting from an audit report, and this is what it says about the accounting system. The accounting system is what determines the financial condition of any fund in the Commonwealth. I am quoting from an audit report of the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1951. This is what it says, in part:

"The accounting system presently in operation by the Board does not make provisions for accruing interest on investments, nor does it provide for recording deficit interest receivable from the Commonwealth. Without such provision, it is obvious that the balance sheet at June 30, 1951, included herein, does not correctly state the financial condition of Public School Employes' Retirement Fund, nor the correct results of the operation of that Fund for the fiscal year then ended.

"Section 4, paragraph 9, of the Retirement Act provides that the Board 'shall prepare and have published annually a financial statement showing the condition of the fund and the various accounts created by this Act'. The annual reports published by the Board show only the cash receipts, cash disbursements, transfers between accounts and fund balances. No consideration is given therein to accruals and accounts receivable.

"Because of such omissions the report does not reflect the true condition of the Fund, nor of the various accounts of which it consists."

"The accounting system of the Board was found to be inadequate for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1951, in that the ledger and certain subsisdiary ledgers and records were not maintained on an accrual basis of accounting. This deficiency precludes the Board from preparing and publishing annual financial statements showing the condition of the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund, as required by the Act of General Assembly, approved July 18, 1917, P. L. 1043, as amended.

"The continuation of this accounting deficiency should not be permitted if the Board is to properly administer the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund. The present accounting system of the Board is archaic and does not lend itself to satisfactory audit. For the purpose of effecting immediate remedial measures with respect to the present unsatisfactory accounting system, the following recommendations are made:

"1. Installation of a modern accounting system maintained on an accrual basis.

"2. Establish two general ledger accounts for Employes' Annuity Savings, one for active accounts and one for inactive, the balances in these accounts to be in agreement at all times with the aggregate of the balances of the related subsidiary employes' savings account cards. This should be accomplished by periodically preparing trial balances of these cards.

"3. Computation of interest on the basis of active account balances only as provided by Act approved May 22, 1945, P. L. 827."

Mr. President, the audit also indicates that there are some school districts—and it is a sizable amount—that are rather delinquent in transmitting their contributions deducted from schoolteachers throughout Pennsylvania. They are delinquent in transmitting those funds to the School Employes' Retirement Fund. As a result, some of the schoolteachers in Pennsylvania, who are involved in such districts, are losing money for the reason that interest is not credited to their accounts until the money is actually received.

"Contributions receivable from School districts and other employers aggregated $3,987,412.81 at June 30, 1951, as compared with $1,931,710.33 at June 30, 1950, or an increase of $2,055,702.48. This increase, namely $2,055,702.48, is mainly accounted for by substantial increases in rates of contribution by school employes', school districts and other employes. All of these rate increases became effective during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1951. Contributions receivable at June 30, 1951, include amounts representing employes' contributions in the total amount of $1,776,456.50. The employes' contributions are deducted from their salaries by their employers and transmitted by the latter to the Board. As disclosed in previous audits, several employers are not transmitting these contributions promptly. The failure to do so penalizes the employes by reason of the fact that their annuity savings accounts are not credited with interest on their contributions until they are received by the Board."

It seems to me, Mr. President, that before we approve any deficiency appropriations we should see to it that the accounting system in the School Employes' Retirement Fund is modernized so that the statements they give us in connection with requests for appropriations, contributions or deficiencies should be in proper order and something that we could rely on. If the accounting system is in the shape that is indicated, I do not see how anyone can arrive at a figure that we could pass upon here today.

For that reason, Mr. President, I just cannot with sincerity vote for this bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the main reason why I am especially interested in House Bill No. 445 is because it provides for an appropriation to the Department of Welfare, on page 7 of the bill, in the amount of $93,000. If it were not for that, we could let this whole thing go over until next Monday and consider it more in full.

Mr. President, I understand that certain employees, most all of the employees for that matter, over in the Department of Welfare have not received a pay check in over three weeks, and if we do not act upon this today, they will not get paid for another week or so. You and I know, perhaps we are a little better off than some of those Department of Welfare employees, but when you do not get a pay check it is hard to pay the grocery bill. Those people are employees over there, and they must get some pay or they are really going to be up against it for funds. So, Mr. President, I am especially interested that we vote today on this bill so that they might receive their pay checks.

I would also like to stay in Session, Mr. President, so that when this is sent over to the House for its concurrence in the amendment which we have put in, that we can get it back from them and get it signed so that it can be signed into law today.

Mr. President, for the purpose of cutting out some of the things that might have been controversial, we put the amendments in yesterday to cut out the deficiency appropriations for the School Employes' Retirement Fund, in lines 10 through 20 on page 6, and line 1 through 5 on page 7. We can take care of that in a later bill, but it is necessary that we all vote "aye" on this bill so that these Department of Welfare employees may receive their pay checks.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in regard to the deficiency appropriations contained in House Bill No. 445, the Minority Party takes the position that we are not going to vote against appropriations for hospitals or for salaries or wages which we feel are justly due.

Mr. President, we do want to call to the attention of the Members of the Majority Party that if we continue along this line, there is no use in holding budget hearings; there is no use in spending a lot of time and money on working out budgets. We are confronted here with a huge deficiency which we realize must be paid. However, we are serving notice now, we are going along with this appropriation, or all of them rather, with the thought in mind that we are going to reserve our criticism for those deficiencies which, in our opinion, do not contain any merit.

It places us in a position, Mr. President, where we feel that it is not the employees who are to blame. We feel it is the fault of the administrators in State Government, because they assumed an obligation to operate within the confines of their budget as set up by the last Session of the Legislature. Those are the persons who should be subjected to criticism. We say to you Members of the Majority Party, who have the responsibility of operating the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that you, yourselves, should have counseled with these executives and administrators, and inform them that they are the persons who are forcing us into this fiscal dilemma.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill simply because I think it is a shame that those people, employees of the State, as you say, have not been paid for the last three or four weeks, and I am going to vote for the bill. I think they should be paid weekly when they do their work.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not believe that you can blame this all on the administration. Perhaps we, in the Senate and the House, should take some of this blame, too.

You know, Mr. President, we are prone to vote for increases for employees, and then we do not provide the money in the appropriation to take care of the increases. Now, I understand that two years ago we voted for an increase of ten per cent for the employees of these various departments, but did not put enough money in the appropriation to take care of the increase which we had voted. I do not know what kind of a miracle man can be in these administrative jobs, and can give the increase and still get along on the appropriation. That is the position in which we place these people, and I think we should assume a little blame ourselves for that.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to make my position clear, because I am going to vote for the bill after a conference with the Minority group.

I just want to say, Mr. Preisdent, that I am not opposed to contributions to the School Employes' Retirement Fund. Neither am I opposed to the payment of salaries to employees who earned those salaries. So far as deficiency appropriations are concerned, one of the reasons why we have them, in addition to the reasons I stated this morning, is the fact that it has been the experience with the executives, the heads of these department in the past, that they can go ahead and go on a spending spree, exhaust their appropriations before the end of the biennium and come over there with a sob story, tears in their eyes, present a bill, we argue about it a little bit but in the last analysis approve it.

Mr. President, I think it is about time we took the opposite position and just decline to approve deficiency appropriations. If we made an example of them once, perhaps we would not have a recurrence of the situation.

Mr. President, so far as the Employes' School Retirement Fund is concerned, I think at the 1949 Session we appropriated $100,000 to get the accounting system in shape over there. As I understand it, they went out and employed private accountants and brought them in and spent the $100,000, but the accounting system is still in the shape that it was in.

I propose to let the schoolteachers of this State know just how their funds are being administered, Mr. President. From the official records, it is being administered in far from an efficient manner. It is about time we grabbed the bull by the horns, appointed a committee from this Senate, went over and took a look at the accounting system ourselves and come back in here and make provisions to put it on a basis so that when a financial statement is presented to us, we can take it and believe what it states. As the situation is now, that is almost impossible.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wishes to advise the gentleman from Northampton that he is going to vote for the bill, but he cannot make his position clear.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, we have a very serious and important hearing in the next few minutes and, therefore, I am not going to take the time of the Senate to discuss the merits or demerits of this bill.

Mr. President, I want to say, in fairness to the Members of the Senate, that all deficiency appropriations should be presented to the Senate in individual bills dealing with the individual departments. However, I would rather stand here and vote for a deficiency appropriation which admits that there has been a spending program over and above the budget, rather than have a repetition of what happened here in the last biennium under Governor Duff.

Mr. President, if all of you will remember, Governor Duff took $40,000,000 of already appropriated moneys of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the various departments, and took that $40,000,000 without any right, legal right or legislative right, and spent it for public assistance during the last two years of his administration. At least these departments have had the courage to come before us and say, "We have overspent the budget that you gave us; we could not help ourselves," or words to that effect, and, "We stand here and tell you that we need this money to meet obligations." I would rather have it done that way than the method employed by Governor Duff.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not want to take the time of the Senate because I, too, want to attend this public hearing, but I would like to answer the Majority Floor Leader by saying that the deficiency appropriations which we have before us today are, in part, the result of the trimming which took place several years ago when the Majority Party wanted to balance the budget. All they did was decreased the estimated amount of their expenditures, and they increased the amount of revenues under the tax measures.

I could see this all along, Mr. President. I expect we will have quite a number of other deficiency bills before us. They have wrapped them up in such a way that you have it in an omnibus form here. We are in the position whereby we have to vote for all of these appropriations because they are contained in one bill.

Mr. President, as Senator Dent has said, we should have these deficiency approprations in individual pieces of legislation so we can discuss each and every one individually and intelligently.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the gentleman from Washington has said in part what I was going to say, but I recall that it has been the position of the Minority Party that the Majority has rather consistently underestimated the revenues and overestimated the amount of taxes, and that, I believe, is not the position.

Mr. President, I do want to call attention to the fact that on page 3 there is a great part of this deficiency made up of $3,433,823 to the Department of Health. In all fairness to this department head, I think it is well understood by both the Minority and the Majority that this deficiency come about because this Legislature told the school districts that they must employ a school nurse for very 1500 pupils. Then they told the Department of Health that they had to pay those school nurses on the basis of the reimbursement for teachers. We appropriated something over $6,000,000 for that purpose, and actually it cost over $9,000,000. Because we were unable to estimate the exact cost, and we told them to do something which they had to do, now they come before us with this deficiency.

Mr. President, I believe that all the unctuous statements here about the department heads are rather out of order.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I cannot let that statement go unchallenged. The gentleman from Potter states that we were unable to estimate the amount that would be required to pay the nurses. I have said all along, and I still say now, that if we had an up-to-date budget bureau, and up-to-date budget bureau that based its figures on study, we could get correct figures here and eliminate deficiency appropriations.

Mr. President, I repeat what I said this morning. There is a bill in here now to set up an Accountant General in Pennsylvania which will get rid of the obsolete, do nothing budget bureau that we have at the present time and control expenditures, put this Commonwealth on a basis to operate on an accrual basis rather than a cash basis, and permit us to know, at any given date, the true financial condition of the Commonwealth, which is impossible at the present time.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Beaver will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 28, 1953

The House met at 12:30 p. m. EST.
The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and everlasting God, Who makest us both to will and to do those things that are good and acceptable unto thy divine majesty. We pray for these Thy servants, let Thy fatherly hand ever be over them, let Thy Holy Spirit ever be with them, and so lead them in the knowledge and obedience of Thy word, that in the end they may obtain everlasting life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 21, 1953.

On Saturday, April 18, 1953 Judge W. Heber Dithrich, one of Pennsylvania's truly outstanding jurists, died at his home in Allegheny County.

Judge Dithrich was elevated to the superior court in 1944 after serving nearly fourteen years on the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County.

Prior to the beginning of his judicial career, Judge Dithrich served four years as county solicitor of Allegheny County and two years as first assistant United States attorney.

The members of the General Asembly are particularly proud that he was a member of the House of Representatives from 1917 to 1921. In his last term he served as chairman of the judiciary general committee.

After graduating from Mercersburg Academy, Washington and Jefferson College, and the University of Pittsburgh School of Law, he was admitted to the bar of Allegheny County and of the supreme court. He interrupted his private affairs twice to serve his country, serving as a first lientenant of cavalry on the Mexican border and during the first World War.

Judge Dithrich was a director of the Coraopolis National Bank and the Ohio Valley Trust Company. He was a member of the Twenty-eighth Division Society, American Legion, Sons of Union Veterans, the Ecclesiastical Court of the Pittsburgh Episcopal Diocese, the Round Table Conference of Christians and Jews, the Mercersburg Academy Board of Regents, Masonic Orders, Elks, Eagles, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Delta Phi, the Allegheny Country Club and the Duquesne Club.

The outstanding feature of Judge Dithrich's career is the fine reputation as an able jurist he earned during his tenure on the bench. Judges and lawyers, and others who follow the decisions of our appellate courts, are unanimous in their acclaim of him. He has frequently been described as exceptionally well fitted for a high judicial post, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That the members of the General Assembly pay tribute to the memory of Judge W. Heber Dithrich, and on behalf of the people of Pennsylvania express our gratitude for his long and distinguished service to his State, and be it further

Resolved, That we extend our deepest and most sincere sympathy to his beloved wife and family in their hour of great loss, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Lois Dithrich, his widow, at Fleming Street, Coraopolis, Pennsylvania.

SENATE MESSAGE

ACCEPTANCE OF PLAQUE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 27, 1953.

It is appropriate that a plaque of Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, the Commonwealth's first Commissioner of Health be publicly enshrined. Dr. Dixon was appointed in the year, one thousand nine hundred five, by Governor Samuel Pennypacker, to establish a public health program for Pennsylvania.

The work of this lawyer-physician is the basis for our present day health program. He championed the idea of direct aid to rural areas, establishing a system of county health protection under the guidance of the State Health Department. He organized the Bureau of Vital Statistics, providing thereby the basic plan for the Federal Vital Statistics Registration services. His broad vision enabled him to establish the State Tuberculosis Hospitals at Mount Alto and Cresson. His acute sense of responsibility for his fellow men coupled with his vast knowledge of the value of the use of antitoxins in combating diphtheria enabled him to materially aid in greatly reducing the mortality rate of this disease; now therefore be it Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the plaque of Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, be accepted by the Commonwealth and that the plaque be publicly enshrined in the rotunda of the main capitol building.

Serial 125

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

He also, from the Committee on Rules reported as committed Senate Bill No. 522, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the exectuive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assisttants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by requiring the Department of Internal Affairs and the Department of Highways to conduct certain promotional activities for the Commonwealth.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. STEVENSON, MAHANY, MALLERY, LANE and YOSKO read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 542, entitled:

An Act to amend the Title and the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 873), entitled "An act requiring that the name, address, political subdivision and office of elected officers and the results of all local option referenda in political subdivisions be certified to the Bureau of Municipal Affairs by county boards of elections; requiring secretaries of political subdivisions to report to said bureau the names of persons appointed as chief administrative officials, the name of the office, and the name of the person succeeded," by eliminating certain reports from the county board of elections and requiring additional reports from the secretaries of political subdivisions.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. STEVENSON read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 543, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the annexation of parts of a second class township to boroughs and cities.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 544, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by changing the provisions relating to filling of vacancies.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has created, through the Department of Forests and Waters, a number of State Parks. Many of them are located in the northern area of the State, and one of these is the Ole Bull State Park located in Potter County.

Probably no one present is unfamiliar with the name and at least some of the history of the great Norwegian musician, Ole Bull, who, when traveling in America in 1843 upon a concert tour that lasted two years, became so impressed with the grandeur of Pennsylvania that he conceived the idea of establishing a colony to be settled by his Norweigian countrymen.

Accordingly, Ole Bull purchased nearly 12,000 acres of land near the headwaters of Kettle Creek, and encouraged many Norwegian craftsmen and farmers to settle. Bull, himself, intended to erect an imposing structure on the colony's land and did, in fact, select a site for the edifice to be known as "Ole Bull's Castle."

Because the colony came upon rather bad times, Ole Bull never completed his castle, but he did erect on the selected site a more modest building, which in time became known, and is still referred to, as "Ole Bull's Castle." Through the years, this building has been dismantled, so that now nothing remains except a few foundation stones.

Mr. President, one of the descendants of Ole Bull, Miss Inez Bull, of Upper Montclair, New Jersey, has obtained the plans of the original structure from her grandfather in Norway. Miss Bull is very much in the tradition of her distinguished ancestor, as she is a talented concert musician. She has recently completed some 137 recordings for the Royal Norwegian Embassy Information Service relative to Ole Bull history and music.

Miss Bull and her mother, Mrs. Aurora S. Bull, are present here today. It is their hope that a music festival may be held annually at the Ole Bull State Park. This hope is shared by thousands of citizens of the Commonwealth.

Here also are Mrs. Mary Welfling, of Coudersport, whose ability as a Pennsylvania historian is recognized throughout our State; and also Mrs. H. A. Dorfeld, of Coudersport, who has delivered many lectures on the subject of Ole Bull, in Pennsylvania and in neighboring States.

Mr. President, the bill that I am about to present directs the Department of Forests and Waters to erect a replica of Ole Bull's house at the original site at the Ole Bull State Park. This can be done at very little expense to the Department, and will provide a shrine to which music and history lovers may come to renew their interest in an important phase of Pennsylvania's early days.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. BERGER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 545, entitled:

An Act directing the Department of Forests and Waters to build a replica of Ole Bull's Castle on its original site in the Susquehanna State Forest to commemorate the settlement of the colony fostered by the famous Norwegian musician.

Which was committed to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

MRS. AURORA S. BULL and MISS INEZ BULL PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is pleased to note the presence of two members of the Bull family, and respectfully requests Mrs. Aurora S. Bull and her daughter, Miss Inez Bull, to please rise in place and take a bow.

MRS. MARY WELFLING AND MRS. H. A. DORFELD PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is pleased to also note the presence of two other distinguished guests of Senator Berger, from Coudersport, Potter County, Mrs. Mary Welfling and Mrs. H. A. Dorfeld.

Will they please rise in place and take a bow?

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. MAHANY and DENT (By request) read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 546, entitled:

An Act to further amend Clause (6) of Section 2501 and Section 2515 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by changing the agency making valuations for reimbursement purposes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. WAGNER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 547, entitled:

An Act to amend the proviso of Section 3 of the Act approved the fourteenth day of January, one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (1951-1952 P. L. 1898) entitled: "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination, licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care, preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons, and providing penalties; providing for a State Board of Funeral Directors in the Department of Health; and repealing other laws" by extending the effective date of the proviso.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Messrs. HARE and MADIGAN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 548, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 417) entitled "An act relating to milk and the products thereof; creating a Milk Control Commission; establishing its jurisdiction, powers and duties; regulating the production, transportation, manufacturing, processing, storage, distribution, delivery and sale of milk and certain products thereof; providing for the licensing of milk dealers and the payment of fees therefor; requiring milk dealers to file bonds to secure payment for milk to producers and certain milk dealers; authorizing the holding of hearings and the issuance of subpeonas by the commission; conferring jurisdiction upon courts to punish contempts and to prohibit violations of this act and of rules, regulations and orders of the commission; authorizing the commission to adopt rules, regulations and orders, and to enter into interstate and Federal compacts; requiring persons who weigh, measure, sample or test milk to produce permits or certificates, to take examinations, to pay fees therefor, to furnish certain notices, records and statements, and to use certain methods of weighing, measuring, sampling and testing; authorizing the commission to examine the business, papers and premises of milk dealers and producers, requiring the keeping of records and the filing of reports by milk dealers, and permitting, with limitations, the use of information obtained thereby; authorizing the commission to fix prices for milk and certain milk products subject to the approval of the Governor, and conferring certain powers upon the Governor with respect thereto; providing for appeals to the courts from decisions of the commission, and for the burden of proof upon such appeals; prescribing penalties, fines and imprisonment for violations of this act and rules, regulations and orders of the commission; defining perjury; defining remedies; repealing legislation supplied and superseded by this act, and saving rights, duties and proceedings thereunder, and making appropriations," by increasing the annual license fees on milk dealers.

Which was committed to the Committee on Agriculture.

Mr. MADIGAN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 549, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligations of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways, and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," by adding a new route in Bradford County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. BERGER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 550, entitled:

An Act providing for the recording of wills probated outside of this Commonwealth in the office of the recorder of deeds, and the effect thereof.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Messrs. LANE, HARE and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 551, entitled:

An Act to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by requiring common carriers by railroad to furnish flag protection to all trains occupying the main tract; imposing powers and duties on the Public Utility Commission and other agencies of the Commonwealth relative thereto; and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following petition, which were read by the Clerk:

"Law of Pennsylvania Imposes 15% Tax on Bequests to Charity, Religion and Education.

"Your signatures to the following petition will tell our Legislators your disapproval of this tax.

"Write a letter to your Senator or Representative in the State Legislature telling him what you think about this tax.

"THIS PETITION is addressed to our Senators and Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in order to tell them that we the undersigned citizens of the Commonwealth hope and pray that the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will not continue to impose a 15% inheritance tax on bequests to charity, education and religion. We the undersigned citizens (18 years of age and older) hereby petition our legislators to further amend the Revenue Act of June 20, 1919, as amended by increasing rate from 10% to 15% on December 21, 1951, providing for the transfer of property passing from a decedent so that hereafter transfers of property passing from the estate of a decedent to charity, religion or education shall be exempt from any kind of state tax. Inasmuch as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is one of only four states which are guilty of imposing a tax upon charity, education and religion, the undersigned hereby pray that our legislators protect, defend and preserve the good name of our great Commonwealth by granting the exemption herein prayed for.

"EACH SIGNER DECLARES that this is the only petition like this which he or she has signed.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, some time ago, on February 23 to be exact, I was one of two joint signers of a resolution introduced to investigate the criteria by which the State Athletic Commission determines the fitness and qualifications of persons applying to it for licenses as promoters, managers, referees and so forth. At the time, I had no contemplation that such a great period of time would pass before any action was taken.

Since that time Mr. President, I have checked with sports writers and other persons in our area who are familiar with boxing and wrestling and its problems, and I have learned, and have been universally assured, that the present Chairman of the Commission, Mr. George Jones, who has jurisdiction over the northeastern Pennsylvania area, is as capable and conscientious a public servant as there is in Pennsylvania, and I think it is a little bit unfair to him and the other members of the Commission to hold up their confirmations for such a great length of time without some action.

Mr. President, it has been my feeling that professional athletics should be completely removed from the arena of politics. There is some indication in the Scranton area that perhaps politics does raise its ugly head in the granting of licenses. If you go to boxing shows up there, the referees, ticket takers, timekeepers and so forth are usually aligned with, what is termed here, the majority party. In fact, it has come to the point that perhaps the only people who are Democrats connected with it are the fighters themselves.

Mr. President, whether or not the Commission is being hampered by attempts to exert political influence on it, I do not know. I think that is the type of thing we should try to find out. I certainly do not want to see anything happen in Pennsylvania, such as most of us saw a few weeks ago in Boston, a near tragedy, which gave a terrific black eye to boxing. There is another instance of a black eye case, a very weird decision in New York several months ago, where a Pennsylvania boy, Rocky Graziano, was the victim of a very weird decision in which he won a majority of the rounds by the vote of all the judges and the referee, but yet managed to lose the fight.

Mr. President, it is that type of thing I think we should sit down with the Commission on and decide, or try to learn, what their rules are on scoring, on point systems, on compulsory counts after knockdowns, on the number of knockdowns allowed in a round and that sort of thing. Also, whether or not they think that they need additional legislation, perhaps, to go under civil service to free them completely from politics, because I think we will all agree that boxing should be a healthy sport. We do not want to see it outlawed. Certainly we can have a lot of fun in politics, but we should not infringe on areas like boxing and wrestling where the public has a great interest, and for which they are paying good money to see exhibitions.

Mr. President, I think that the State Athletic Commission should be given all the power it needs to make sure that professional athletics in Pennsylvania will be sound and healthy, and completely free from any evil influences. I would like to see some immediate action taken either on this resolution or on the confirmation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I wish to present a resolution at this time, but prior thereto I wish to make a brief introductory statement.

Mr. President, I think that most of us were quite disappointed to read in the press that the government was going to deactivate the military reservation at Indiantown Gap. Certainly, none of us here are in a position to judge with full intelligence the wisdom or lack of wisdom of such a proposal. It certainly is not my intent to try to dictate or direct the Federal Government as to what heir policies or procedures should be. However, Indian-own Gap is the only military reservation that this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has. When it was once before deactivated and later found to be needed and, herefore, reactivated, tremendous expense was involved n putting it back into condition bcause of deterioration.

Furthermore, Mr. President, it is strategically and cen-rally located from the standpoint of military personnel, and facilities, and equipment and requirements.

Most important of all, Mr. President, is the fact that a number of surrounding counties depend to a surpris-ngly great extent for the well-being of their economy upon many of the kindred activities and the civilian per-sonnel employed at this reservation.

Mr. President, we would like to feel that if this disposi-tion is to be made finally, it only be done after the Fed-eral Government is alerted to the fact that a tremendous disturbance of the economy of a number of counties, and the well-being of some thousands of civilians, is fully considered.

Mr. President, if this is the best bet, so to speak, from the standpoint of defense, military training, over-all bud-getary requirements, then certainly the State of Pennsyl-vania has no choice or desire but to follow the will of the Federal forces who direct it. However, we are tre-mendously concerned that Congress be requested, and particularly those who are familiar with the Common-wealth of Pennsylvania and its needs, to take another look, to re-examine the whole picture before they determine with finality whether this has to be.

Mr. President, we are hopeful that the activity at In-diantown Gap may be continued and that this step may be averted, because we know what hardships are in-volved for many of our people.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION MEMORALIZING CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO RECONSIDER THE INACTIVATION OF INDIANTOWN GAP MILITARY RESERVATION

Mr. WAGNER offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 4, 1953.

Whereas, Congress proposes to inactivate the Indian-town Gap Military Reservation; and

Whereas, This reservation is the only military installa-tion in Pennsylvania used for training very large groups of soldiers; and

Whereas, Subsequent to the cessation of hostilities after World War II, Indiantown Gap Military Reservation was inactivated and was activated again about February 1, 1951 at a great cost to the Federal Government; and

Whereas, The reservation is ideally located from the standpoint of obtaining supplies, civilian employes, hous-ing for officers and enlisted men, transportation and recreation; and

Whereas, The inactivation of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation will have a great adverse effect on the eco-nomy of the communities within a radius of thirty miles of the reservation; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memoralizes the Congress of the United States to reconsider the inactivation of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection-

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move the immediate adoption of this resolution.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am certainly very pleased that the Majority Party has taken note of the fact that the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation is to be closed. This is in line with the so-called entrenchment program announced last week by President Eisenhower, when he said that although they were not going to spend as much money in defense, they were going to save quite a few millions of dollars in the defense effort of the United States and of our allies.

Mr. President, I believe that this is very false economy. This reservation has cost the United States Government between eighty and ninety million dollars over the years. I do not see how we can be prepared for war when we are closing up Indiantown Gap, plus fourteen other en-campments, and how we are going to have the facilities to train the men to fight the battles for freedom through-out the world, if we are going to continue to curtail the methods and means and the facilities for training soldiers.

This also means, Mr. President, that 2,200 employees are losing their jobs, because there are 2,200 persons em-ployed at Indiantown Gap. These are civilians who will be put back on the economy of the local communities.

Mr. President, I also do not see why they would pick out Pennsylvania as one of the States, where there is more than one camp in other States which they are not touching. They are taking the only one camp we have in Pennsylvania and closing it. To put it in moth balls means that we are going to spend another eight or nine million dollars if they have to put it back into action. This is not economy; this is just plain foolishness. It is a waste of the taxpayers money.

Mr. President, I think that if this is an example of the economy that is coming out of the Federal Govern-ment, it is a very bad exampe for a start, to take away the finest reservation for training soldiers, to take away 2,200 civilian employees of the State of Pennsylvania, and still maintain more than one two and three camps in other States throughout the United States. I think that the Republican Majority in Congress has taken it upon themselves to feel so sure of Pennsylvania that they can do anything they want with this State.

Mr. President, I wonder where Senator Martin, the man who has had experience in veterans' and National Guard affairs, and Senator Duff are on this point. I have yet to hear their voices raised in Congress against the closing of Indiantown Gap. I think the people of Penn-sylvania feel that it is about time that they hit the floor, and make the Federal Government explain to the people of Pennsylvania why they are picking on our State to close a great reservation such as Indiantown Gap.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not want to go into the merits of this resolution, because I am not sufficiently familiar with the situation from a military standpoint, nor from an economic standpoint in the area of Indiantown Gap or Schuylkill County.

Mr. President, I just want to remind the Senate of the fact that the other day when a resolution, I think, was presented by Senator Dent on tidelands oil, wherein he suggested that Pennsylvania Congressmen support the claims of the State so that the funds from the tidelands oil could be applied to the educational system throughout the United States, the distinguished Majority Leader at that time said that Congress should take care of its problems and let the Pennsylvania Legislature also take care of its problems.

Mr. President, since this resolution is in the same category, I am somewhat surprised that the same principle is not applied to this resolution as was applied to the resolution presented by Senator Dent, because both involve a Federal question and the Federal Administration.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I certainly would not deem it advisable to debate this resolution, but I think in all fairness to everybody in all the areas involved, perhaps we should clarify one or two items.

Mr. President, in the first place, the tidelands oil issue is of great National concern, affecting various States in various ways and causing a variety of conclusions. I, myself, attended a study class as a guest, about three Saturdays ago, in which this subject was debated as to whether the tidelands oil should be used for all of the States or where the oil happens to be located. It is amazing the number of arguments and angles that were developed and revealed at that time, to the point where nearly everybody there, and it was a rather superior group so far as general intelligence goes, decided that they had better let Congress decide, because they had been studying this pro and con for a long, long time.

Mr. President, there is no such question as that involved here. Here it is a question of trying to under-gird, or shall I say not under-gird but prevent from being undermined, the economy of this particular area in which the Capitol is located and the surrounding counties. We are not saying this thing is wrong; I mean, that the idea is wrong of closing any military reservation or that it is going to weaken our defense. It may well be, in the judgment of those who are more able to decide properly than I, or Senator Holland or Senator Yosko, that they can see their way clear to close the military reservation. However, as Senator Holland pointed out very validly, if there are States where there are two or three of these reservations, whereas Pennsylvania only has one, then he and I, and I think most of us, do not feel that it is impertinent to ask Congress to take another look, to make sure, to think about us further first.

Mr. President, I notice by the press, and I was alerted by telephone information, that Pennsylvania Senators, the Senior Senator, Edward Martin, and the Junior Senator, Senator Duff, have already taken steps to have this thing further checked and clarified. This will under-gird what they already immediately started to do, to see whether we have a valid claim in asking that this reservation be kept open.

Mr. President, it is not peculiar to counties, it is not a national issue, but it is a very terrifically great concern to four or five counties in the area of the Capitol. For that reason, I hope regardless of tidelands oil, regardless of political partisanship, regardless of any extraneous matters which might be injected or implied, that we will go along and give this a run for its money, shall I say, in all fairness to the people of all of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am happy to see the day that some economy is being placed in government. Last year the people of this great Country placed their faith in General Eisenhower. He should know what he is doing. We have General Martin and Senator Duff, as chief advisors, representing the people of Pennsylvania. If they see fit to close this reservation, it should be closed.

Mr. President, we cannot have our cake and eat it. We cannot talk from both sides of our mouths at the same time. We all know there is no economy in our State Government, here in Harrisburg. We all know that we are in a mess, the mess of messes. Now, when we find the President of these United States trying to reduce taxation, placing economy in government, the same group here in Harrisburg says, "No, you are wrong."

Mr. President, I object to this resolution being adopted at this time. It should be placed in committee, as other resolutions, for a cooling off period, and then bring it out on the floor for further discussion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I object to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I was under the impression that a motion was made for the adoption of this resolution. Are we not beyond the question of immediate consideration?

The PRESIDENT. Does the Majority Floor Leader rise to a point of order?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, what is the state of the record with regard to the question of the immediate consideration of this resolution?

The PRESIDENT. There has been a motion made, and duly seconded, that the resolution be adopted as read. Then, there were several speeches made which the Chair inferred were in behalf of the motion until the Senator from Cambria took the floor and, apparently, is opposed to the motion, and then raised an objection as to whether or not the motion should be considered at this time.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, is the Senator in order then, at the present time, to raise an objection to the immediate consideration?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that if the Senator from Cambria desired to object to consideration of the motion, he should have made the objection before the matter was debated.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I objected the first opportunity that I had.

Mr. President, the Chair recognized other men on the floor, and rightfully so. It was my intention at the very beginning to object to the immediate consideration, and when I got the floor I did that.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to say, in reply to the statement of the Senator, that certainly he realizes that if he did not wish the motion considered, he should have immediately taken the floor and demanded recognition on which, certainly, would have been well within his rights under the Rules of the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is my interpretation of the Senate Rules that if one member objects to immediate consideration, that objection shall be sustained, and up until this time, in my twenty years in this chamber, that has been the rule. At no time did I think that I had to jump to the floor immediately to offer my objection. I did so at the first opportunity I had, and I objected to the immediate consideration of the passage of this resolution.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, rather than have any misunderstanding about it, I withdraw any objection that I have relative to Senator Haluska's request that we do not take immediate consideration of this resolution, and ask that it be referred to committee.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, if it is in order, could I make a one minute plea to the Senator from Cambria to withdraw his objection? Now, let me point out why.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair feels, under the circumstances, in view of the request of the Majority Floor Leader, that he should refer the resolution to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, it would not be in order to tell you what I was about to ask?

The PRESIDENT. Yes, the Chair would be glad to hear it.

Mr. WAGNER. I would like to say to you, Mr. President, that I thought, knowing the gentleman from Cambria to be reasonable, at least after due deliberation, if he would keep in mind this fact, that if this is to have any value, time is of the essence. It may be that a matter of hours would make a difference as to whether it would be effective in Washington or not.

Since that is the case, Mr. President, naturally I would ask the Majority Floor Leader if he would be kind enough, if this is referred to committee, to have a recess after while, even though it delays the whole Senate, and let the committee act on it and report it out, if they see fit to, and then act on it later this afternoon.

Mr. President, rather than hold up Senator Haluska, as well as the rest of us—this is a simple resolution in its intent, and its purpose is defined very clearly and very briefly. It seems to me that we have already debated the pros and cons of it, and if it is necessary to debate it any further, it will only take another five or ten minutes and then we can have the issue resolved.

Because of that, Mr. President, I think possibly, if I requested, maybe the gentleman from Cambria might permit it to be considered.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have often heard it said here that speeches never change a vote, but the gentleman from Schuylkill has played upon my heartstrings, and really has touched me deeply.

Therefore, Mr. President, I shall withdraw my objection and give him the opportunity to pass this resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. McCUSKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 4, 1953.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, May 11, 1953 at three o'clock p. m., E.S.T., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, May 11, 1953 at three-thirty o'clock p. m., E.S.T.

SENATE RESOLUTION

EULOGIZING THE LATE JUDGE JAMES GAY GORDON, JR. AND EXTENDING CONDOLENCE TO HIS FAMILY

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 4, 1953.

Chief Justice Horace Stern, of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, has ably stated the loss to Pennsylvania and to the legal profession occasioned by the death of Judge James Gay Gordon, Jr., with these words: "Every member of the Bench and Bar of Pennsylvania will subscribe to the fact that he was one of the ablest jurists of the Commonwealth—not only at the present time, but in all history."

A resume of Judge Gordon's life confirms the verity of Justice Stern's eulogy.

James Gay Gordon, Jr., was the second son of the late Judge James Gay Gordon, Sr. He was born January 20, 1887, in Philadelphia, and received his early education at Episcopal Academy and Phillips Exeter Academy. At the age of sixteen he entered Princeton University and graduated in 1907 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree. He immediately entered the University of Pennsylvania Law School and graduated in 1910 as a Bachelor of Laws.

In 1911 he was appointed Assistant City Solicitor for Philadelphia, a post he held until 1916 when he was appointed an Assistant District Attorney. He gained fame as a law enforcement officer by his relentless and highly successful campaign against the illegal sale of narcotics in the city.

At the age of 35, Governor Sproul, in 1922, appointed him to the Bench of Common Pleas Court Number 2 in Philadelphia. He was one of the youngest men ever appointed to a judicial post in Pennsylvania. He was elected to the office in 1923, with the whole-hearted support of both political parties. A favorable commentary upon his fairness and judicial ability is evidenced by the fact that in every succeeding election he as enjoyed this bipartisan support.

Perhaps the reason for his popularity as a man and as a jurist was his ceaseless struggle to improve the administration of justice, as exemplified by the crusade against "Straw Bail," which resulted in a revision of the court rules that greatly reduced this evil practice. His work as Chairman of the Parole Commission for Governor Earle paved the way for our present parole system. Recently, he served as a member of the advisory committee of the Joint State Government Commission, which revised the criminal code and the code of criminal procedure. His last efforts were directed toward the passage of legislation which would guarantee accused persons freedom from police coercion.

The high literary style of Judge Gordon's opinions were as famed as his legal reasoning. His decisions are outstanding examples of legal and literary masterwork.

The Commonwealth has truly suffered a great loss in the fields of law and human relationship by the death of Judge Gordon; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate extend its heartfelt condolences to the family of Judge Gordon, and its sincere gratitude for his tireless endeavors to make the law just and equal to all who seek relief and protection under it; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to transmit a copy of these resolutions to Judge Gordon's widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Keller Gordon.

VOCAL SOLO RENDERED BY MISS INEZ BULL

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, early in the Session, Senator Berger gave us a little talk and introduced a bill to provide for a festival up in Potter County on an annual basis. He told us that he had a charming young lady here who was an outstanding singer.

Mr. President, I think it would be very nice if the Chair invited the young lady to the rostrum and have her sing a song for us.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would certainly be in favor of that. Does the Senator from Northampton have his banjo on his knee?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I forgot the banjo but I do not think she will need it.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is delighted to see the young lady approach the rostrum.

(Vocal solo rendered by Miss Inez Bull, of Upper Montclair, New Jersey.)

The PRESIDENT. I am sure the Senators will agree that Miss Bull possesses a very rich and beautiful soprano voice. The Chair wishes to thank Miss Bull, on behalf of the Senate.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, May 5, 1953, at 12:00 o'clock m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:07 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, May 5, 1953, at 12:00 o'clock m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, May 4, 1953

The House met at 3:30 p. m. EST.
The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God, our heavenly Father, we pray Thee for the single eye to see what is our duty, and the quiet mind that is steadfastly purposed to do it. Grant that we may devote our whole strength to doing the right. Save us from all pretense of goodness and from trying to appear better than we really are.

Grant us the guidance of Thy Spirit so that Thy will may be done and Thy people benefitted; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday and Tuesday, April 27 and 28, 1953? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for one hour for the purpose of holding Republican and Democratic Caucuses. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order. The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

RESOLUTION No. 53.

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1953.

Whereas the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has a direct economic interest in the final disposition of the Tidelands Oil properties; and

Whereas, Pennsylvanians as well as people from all the other states will to a greater extent enjoy the full benefits of public ownership of pubic lands, reserves and wealth by giving to our defense effort first claim and control on any and all minerals and oil contained in these valuable reserves, and

Whereas, to delegate the public domain to the use of states claiming title to said properties, will open a flood gate of demands that eventually will strip the people of the untold billions of dollars worth of minerals, woodlands and other forms of economic and material wealth contained in the public domain for the benefit of the various states, who are singularly blessed by having within the confines of their borders, public property heretofore considered to be part of the public weath, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that this General Assembly does herewith memorialize the Federal Congress to maintain the integrity of the Supreme Court decision by refusing to pass legislation that will deprive the people of the Commonwealth of their inherent wealth and defeat any measure presented in Congress that will give to the singular and several states, the Tidelands Oil reserves and, be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives in Washington, D. C., and to the President of the United States Senate and a copy to the President of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Session 1953. 140th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 5, 1953. No. 35.

SENATE

TUESDAY, May 5, 1953.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. L. HERDMAN HARRIS, III, Rector of St. James Memorial Church, Titusville, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Almighty God, Who hast given us this good land for our heritage and this Commonwealth for our particular place of habitation, we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will.

Bless our Commonwealth with favorable industry, sound learning and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord and confusion, from pride and arrogancy, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought together here of many kindreds and tongues.

Imbue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in Thy Name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be justice and peace in their jurisdictions, and that through obedience to Thy law we may show forth Thy praise among the States of this Nation.

In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail, all of which we ask through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I received a letter this morning from the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce which, in my opinion, is worthy to be inserted in the record. I shall, therefore, read it:

"To the Members of the General Assembly:"

This letter is dated May 4, 1953.

"The Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce for many years has been deeply concerned with the ever-increasing cost of government. It believes that a positive approach to reduce those costs—whether by economies effected through reorganization, elimination of overlapping and duplication, or by more efficient procedure—is definitely in order.

"The State Government Survey (Chesterman) Committee report, made available to you in February, suggests many opportunities to effect economies in the administration of the Commonwealth's affairs. The State Chamber, in the belief that the findings and recommendations of the Chesterman Committee deserve serious consideration by all concerned, has been reviewing the report with a constructively critical eye.

"Our study committees have been primarily concerned, to date, with the following subjects of that report:

"1. Public Education
"2. Public Assistance
"3. Health-Welfare-Public Assistance
"4. Labor and Industry
"5. Accounting
"6. Personnel
"7. Procurement
"8. Records Administration

"Beginning shortly, we plan to send to the appropriate legislative committees our views on those recommendations which relate to the above topics, and on any pertinent bills now pending.

"The State Chamber of Commerce is aware that some of the major recommendations in regard to reorganization will require constitutional amendment. However, many excellent suggestions have been presented which can be carried out by legislative act or administrative order. The State Chamber of Commerce respectfully urges that attention be given, as soon as possible, to all worthwhile and workable recommendations of the Chesterman Committee which will have the effect of providing improved governmental functions and services at the least possible cost, consistent with modern standards of sound government administration.

"Sincerely
"(s) Leonard P. Fox
"Executive Director"

Mr. President, it seems to me that every organization in Pennsylvania, not only the Chamber of Commerce but the Pennsylvania Economy League, the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and others interested in economy in government and the reduction of budgets and taxes, should take an interest in the problem that now confronts the General Assembly.

Mr. President, a short time ago I received a letter from the Chamber of Commerce suggesting that we support a sales tax and, in reply to that letter, I suggested to the Chamber of Commerce that instead of suggesting taxes, it should first suggest that the Legislature effect every possible economy before we go into the budget or the tax program. The letter which I just read, I am assuming, is perhaps a follow-up to that suggestion. The Chamber of Commerce comes with its suggestion a little bit late. However, I want to say to it, "Better late than never."

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am pleased to note that Senator Yosko is paying attention to the mail he receives from the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce. It is certainly gratifying to know that at last they are reaching his heart.

Mr. President, I want to agree with him to this extent, they are late. This letter, dated May 4, 1953, from Leonard P. Fox, Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, should have been dated about February 4, 1953. All this letter says is that they are studying the Chesterman Committee Report, and then it divides it into the eight sections into which the Chesterman Committee Report, or Government Survey Committee Report, is divided into in the index to that report.

Certainly, Mr. President, the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce knows that as soon as we received the Government Survey Committee Report, we, in the Senate, and the Members of the House as well, decided to give it the utmost consideration and study. We went into hearings, public hearings, in connection with the recommendations of this committee.

Mr. President, at one of these hearings, which was a hearing upon the recommendation of the Government Survey Committee to abolish the Department of Commerce, the various Chambers of Commerce throughout the State were given an opportunity of being here, and many of them were represented, and I had thought that the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce was here. That certainly was one recommendation which was made by the Chesterman Committee that the State Chamber of Commerce did not go along with, because they were all here and all of them pretty much stated that they did not believe the Department of Commerce of the State of Pennsylvania should be abolished.

Mr. President, as you know, we later introduced bills which would implement the recommendations of the Government Survey Committee Report, and among those was the bill to abolish the Department of Commerce. In spite of the opposition of the Chambers of Commerce throughout the State of Pennsylvania to that legislation, that bill passed the Senate and is now before the House of Representatives.

Mr. President, I do not see how anyone, any Member of this Senate or anybody else, could say that we have not given this report the utmost study and consideration. I do not suppose there has been any report of any commission in the history of Pennsylvania which has received more time of the Legislature than this one has. How anyone can get up here, who knows the throes which we went through in connection with this study, and say that this is correct and we have not given it sufficient time, I just do not know how they can do that, Mr. President. Those who are here seated know that we have given it every consideration possible. We are still working on it; we have not thrown it out the window. We have before us now, even, several bills which implement this report and we are now acting on them.

Mr. President, if Mr. Fox, or anybody else in connection with the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, would like to come here and confer with us, either as individuals or severally, in connection with this matter or any other matter, they are perfectly welcome to do so.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, we are now going into the fifth month of our Session and I, first of all, want to state that I am not angry with anyone; that I respect all my colleagues on this floor, on both sides of the Senate, but I am beginning to believe that my colleague from Cumberland last week brought a point out which may have some merit, when he asked that we have a meeting of minds and try to arrive at some type of a program to expedite the work of this Session.

Mr. President, take, for instance, yesterday; one bill passed on third reading after five months of so-called hard work. I realize that tax measures originate in the House, and I probably cannot censure anybody in this Chamber.

Mr. President, I also realize that something must be done to break the so-called stalemate. There should be a meeting of minds of Democrats and Republicans in this Chamber to take over the leadership. It is quite apparent that the leadership, which should come out of the Governor's office, is lacking. That leadership should work out some type of a program, give us cold facts, tell us what you must have, do not hide anything, and then have this leadership go to the Governor's office, or to the House, and offer a program.

Mr. President, the House leadership is very weak. I say, with all sincerity, that in all the years in which I have been here, it is the weakest leadership we ever had coming from the Republican side. It is unfortunate that the House leader just does not seem to be able to get any place with his colleagues.

Mr. President, how long do we expect to stay here? Are we going to dillydally around as we have been and find ourselves having four and five o'clock morning Sessions? I will not stand for that. I will protest if we go into Session all night, night after night, when we are hazy. At the same time, we are coming up here one day and checking out the next day. I am told we are going to be in Session tomorrow. I wonder why? Is there one good reason that can be advanced by anybody, as to why we should be in Session tomorrow? We have no reason to be in Session tomorrow, nothing on the program, nothing of any importance.

Mr. President, I hope that we will take heed of the statements made by Senator Wade that there should be a meeting of minds today, tomorrow or next week. I am sure the Democrats are willing to sit down with the Republicans and offer their talent, their ability, and pass it onto those who are responsible in the House and try to work out some type of a program, bring it before us for a decision and then adjourn the Session sine die.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, while we are discussing the Chesterman Committee Reports, I have been looking over our Calendar and I notice that we have before us Senate Bill No. 517, which will abolish the Tax Equalization Board. I am wondering just what the objectives are back of this piece of legislation.

Mr. President, I know that each and every Member of the Senate has this copy on their desk. I know that this Tax Equalization Board, in my opinion, has done a good job for the political subdivisions throughout the Commonwealth, and I am wondering, Mr. President, if this is an effort to get Jack O'Neil.

Mr. President, I say to you here this afternoon that, regardless of political affiliation, I feel that man is a very able man. He has done a good job in Pennsylvania, and just because he participated with the Chesterman Committee is no valid reason why this legislation should be passed.

Mr. President, if someone can prove to me that the Tax Equalization Board is not necessary in Pennsylvania, then I will vote for this bill. Otherwise, I will not.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to get in an answer to Senator Lane's statement before something else is said. I do believe I can say this, that Senate Bill No. 517, which abolishes the Tax Equalization Board, certainly was not aimed at Mr. O'Neil, or Mr. Kress, or anyone else in connection with the Tax Equalization Board.

Mr. President, I noticed in the Sunday paper, the Pittsburgh Sunday paper, that there was an article which inferred that this was the purpose behind this legislation and, perhaps, that is where Senator Lane got his information. However, I want to assure Senator Lane and all the other Senators, and everybody else, that this is no attempt on the part of anybody to spank Mr. O'Neil or anybody else for having anything to do with the Chesterman Committee.

Mr. President, at the Appropriation Hearing yesterday the Tax Equalization Board was present, and I regret very much that Senator Lane was not there, as I believe if he were, he would have learned many things, and he probably would not have made the statement that he just now made. I am not going to go into all of that, but I say this, Mr. President, that the Tax Equalization Board now is in the budget for $500,000, and they state they need all of that money to do their work. The head of the Department of Internal Affairs has stated that he can do this same job just as well, if not better, for $200,000. There is only an appropriation in this bill, if the Board is abolished and transferred over to the Department of Internal Affairs, of $300,000 to do the work. Certainly, if this bill goes through, we are going to save at least $200,000, and perhaps more.

Mr. President, these fellows on the other side are always talking about economy and all those things, and saying that we should cut down the budget. Now, here is a definite attempt to do just that. We are cutting down the amount that is necessary for this work from $500,000 to $300,000, which makes a saving of $200,000.

Mr. President, certainly you cannot make savings unless you start cutting the budget some place, and every time we start to cut it some place, somebody on the other side comes up with the idea that we are doing it to spank somebody, or we are not being bona fide about it or some other reason. The Senators on this side of the aisle are striving to do everything we can to economize in State Government, and we mean to keep on doing that until we get to a point where the amount that it takes to run the State will equal the amount we will take in through taxes.

When they criticize the leadership of the House, Mr. President, I do not think they know what they are talking about. They only have about 109 Republican Members over there, and with one Republican deceased, two in the hospital, that brings it down to 106. I understand they have 100 or more for this certain tax measure, and if it were passed we could get it over here, and get it through, and we would be out of here.

Now, Mr. President, if Senator Haluska would like to do something really good to assist in helping us to get out of here and clear up this situation, he might go over and talk with some of his colleagues in the House and then, perhaps, we will get finished. If he wishes to do that, that might help over there a little bit.

Mr. President, I just want to say that I think we should compliment the Leadership of the House for having garnered so many faithful to the fold, instead of criticizing them for what they have done.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I think I made myself very clear and explicit a few weeks ago when I rose in place and offered the Majority Party a tax program. Not too often do you find anyone from the Minority Party willing to cooperate in a tax program.

Mr. President, I stated then, and state now, that when I vote for appropriations I have a feeling of responsibility, and I shall vote for taxation to meet that appropriation. I do not believe in give-away programs, such as we have taking place in Washington right now, the big deal. I believe in equalizing. If I vote for a tax measure, I am ready to vote for an appropriation bill.

So, what did I offer, Mr. President? I made it very clear, and I shall repeat my offer, that I cannot, by any stretch of my imagination, vote for a sales tax. If a man has an ill, he should have a cure. I said that I would vote for an increase in the cigarette tax. I pointed out very clearly that we cannot put another cent on cigarettes. The price must be up to the retailer. Back in my community, I walked into a chain store and I pay twenty-one cents for a package of cigarettes. I walk across the street to a vending machine, and I pay a quarter. Who makes the four cents? One more cent added to cigarettes and they will still be a quarter.

I stated, Mr. President, and I repeat, that a number of years ago I fought hard when they tried to impose a pop tax upon the public. I voted against it. A wise man will change his mind, but a fool never will. I hope to be wise. Knowing that you are in a dilemma, that you must have taxes, I shall vote for a pop tax. There is no five cent package. Back in my community, and I suppose it is the same all around. it is ten cents, nine cents, and in the clubs fifteen cents. A two cent tax on a bottle of soft drink, and it will still be ten cents.

Mr. President, those two items alone, according to my figures, will give you $85,000.000. Do you need more? If you do, what is wrong with taxing the cigar? Why should they be so sacred? Who do we fear? In all the years, we have taxed every item, but tobacco is free. I will vote for a tax on cigars, smoking tobacco and chewing tobacco.

We all dislike taxes, Mr. President, but we must meet the issue of today. I will vote for a pop tax, I will vote for a cigarette tax, I will vote for a cigar tax and I will vote for all the taxes that we passed in 1951. What more can a man do but offer his help? We are not trying to offer any criticism, Mr. President. We are trying to be helpful. That is why I agree with the words of the gentleman from Cumberland County when he said, "Let us have a meeting of minds; let us sit down." There are no secrets in my program, it is out in the open. I say to you that before the Session is over, eight chances out of ten you will adopt that program and go home.

Mr. President, I do not think we can go on taxing industry much longer. We are now losing industry. I think industry should have a breathing spell. If the Republicarn Party fears to put on the C. N. I., well, we have always gone along with them on that. I say to you, Mr. President, industry must get a breathing spell. They cannot absorb any more taxes. In your own words, they are carrying a great burden now.

Mr. President, we can balance our budget with the program that I mentioned, or a similar program, without thinking of an income tax or without thinking of a sales tax. If you are headstrong, as you have been, you want to have your own way, you want a certain tax, I say again you have a majority in the House and Senate to pass it, but, thank goodness, you have in your group men who are independent, men who have the courage of their convictions, and they will go down in history as men of courage. They have proven that all the Republicans do not belitve in a viciius tax. I compliment those Republicans who stood by in 1951, the eleven or twelve rebels, who refused to vote for an income tax. To me, they will always be my heroes. They have kept a vicious tax from being imposed upon the Pennsylvania public.

Mr. President, I have no knowledge of how the gentlemen feel on the Majority side as to the sales tax. Again, I say, I compliment those Members of the House who have the courage of their convictions, who know you cannot buy us, you cannot bribe us and you cannot force us. We do not believe in a sales tax. That is what makes America great, men who do not follow party lines on every occasion.

Mr. President, since it is quite apparent that you do not have sufficient votes to pass your pet measure, why do you not sit down and have a meeting of minds and say, "What can we pass? What will you fellows go along with? You have a responsibility as the Minority Party." We admit that, but up until this present hour, you have taken the bull by the horns, so to speak, and have ignored us entirely. You do not care how we feel. You have no respect for uor wishes. You want your own program put through. You will not get a vote of ours on the sales tax. That is final.

Mr. President, I have offered another program, and I have no assurance that the Democrats will go along with that program. I am not speaking for the Democratic Party. I am speaking as one individual, because we have not discussed that program. However, I am sure that we cannot pass a program of that nature unless the Republican leadership is willing to sit down and do it quickly and say, "Now, with what will you go along? Here is what we have to offer. We cannot pass it this Session and thereby keep faith with the people back home." We should fulfill our commitments, and do the job as we should.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I just want to speak briefly in answer to the remaks of the Majority Leader, by saying that I spoke over here as an indvidual. I believe in economy, yes. I believe in sensible economy. As late as 1947, this administration realized the necessity of establishing a Tax Equalization Board in Pennsylvania. That board, in my opinion, has done a good job.

I say to you, Mr. President, that back of all this I believe is personal animosity. Any sensible man here in the Senate, who would be gullible enough to believe that the Secretary of Internal Affairs can do a $500,000 job for $200,000, is either mistaken or his budget is too large. If the budget of the Tax Equalization Board were out of line, the Committee on Appropriations would most surely have checked it a long, long time ago.

Mr. President, I attended a meeting in Pittsburgh several months ago when the Township Commissioners of Pennsylvania were holding their annual convention. I sat there and head a vicious speech made by the Secretary of Internal Affairs against Jack O'Neil. I stood on this floor and defended the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, because I felt they were serving a useful purpose. I say to you here this afternoon that regardless of their differences, I look on the merit of the department, and I say that the Secretary of Internal Affairs cannot do a $500,000 job for $200,000. If that be true, we had better cut his budget.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have been asked to announce, by the newspaper correspondents, that Coca-Cola can still be had in the news room for five cents.

The PRESIDENT. Where is the news room?

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING (By request) read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 554, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by conferring powers and imposing duties on county boards of school directors; providing for classes and schools for handicapped and for the payment for the cost of operation thereof.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 555, entitled:

An Act to fix the number of Senators in the General Assembly of the State; to apportion the State into Senatorial districts as provided by the Constitution; to regulate the election of and terms of office of the present and future elected Senators; and repealing inconsistent laws.

Which was committed to the Committee on Repportionment.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to addres sthe Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, this resolution is being offered by Senator Wade and myself, at the request of the Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Pennsylvania.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO CONTINUE POLICY OF PROVIDING MEDICAL AND HOSPITAL CARE FOR VETERANS

Messrs. HOLLAND and WADE offered the following concurrent resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 5, 1953.

Whereas, Hugh H. Hoke, Commander, Department of Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, brings to the attention of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania attacks in the Congress of the United States upon the government hospital and medical treatment program for veterans as well as payment of compensation, and

Whereas, These attacks were subjected to pointed and categorical criticism by James W. Cothran, Bishopville, South Carolina, Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, and

Whereas, the Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States declared that these attacks neglect to present all the facts and thus shamefully cast a shadow of suspicion upon the entire program for providing hospitalization, medical treatment and compensation for disabled veterans, and

Whereas, With the entire United States—yes, the entire United Nations—thrilled over the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners; with the American press, radio and television cooperating to promptly furnish the names of American boys returned from the hell of prison camps and anxious parents, wives and relatives prayerfully watching for the names of their loved ones, yet these attacks daily belabor the program of government care of America's veterans, and

Whereas, With the United States Senate conducting an exhaustive investigation to determine whether our fighting men have enough ammunition to defend themselves with the greatest margin of safety and other investigations solicitous of the welfare of our sons and brothers in deadly combat in Korea it is ill-becoming to cast a shadow of suspicion over the care program for America's disabled veterans and to invite the support of crackpots and cranks who never lose an opportunity to attack the expenditure of money for the care of veterans, and

Whereas, In attacking the hospital and medical program for veterans, a few cases have been cited of well-to-do veterans who have received medical treatment in a Veterans Administration hospital for alleged non-service-connected disabilities, but those few cases are exceptions to the rule and that the great majority of veterans receiving medical treatment at government expense are either service-disabled or unable to pay even a small portion of today's high cost of hospitalization, and,

Whereas, The hospital records of the Veterans Administration as publicly reported by the V. A. Director of Medicine and Surgery indicate that ninety-five percent of all veteran patients in Veterans Administration hospitals are either service-disabled, tubercular, NP or chronic cases, requiring long period of hospitalization for which they cannot afford to pay. It was further pointed out by the V. A. Medical Director that unless the Federal Government provides the care for those men who have served their country in time of war or national emergency, the states and counties will have to assume the burden or let them die on the streets, and

Whereas, The Veterans Administration, because of inadequate funds, according to their own public reports, has been forced to close down hundreds and hundreds of hospital beds, terminate related personnel and defer providing out-patients treatment to veterans who have service-connected disabilities and who have been approved for treatment. Even now hundreds of tubercular veterans and veterans suffering with mental conditions are walking the streets constituting a menace to their families, friends and the general public because they are unable to obtain hospitalization and medical treatment, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives Concur) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to continue this country's historical record and policy of providing medical and hospital care for every veteran suffering from service-connected disabilities, or if not so connected, such veterans are without personal funds for such medical and hospital care, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States; Speaker of the House of Representatives, Joseph W. Martin, Jr.; Senator Edward Martin, Senator James H. Duff, and each member of the Pennsylvania Congressional Delegation.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I request immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I object to the immediate consideration of the resolution.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 39

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, in voting "no," I wish to explain that I am in favor of immediate consideration of the resolution, but will not vote to discharge a committee or suspend the rule.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, are we discharging a committee?

The PRESIDENT. I do not believe the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, understood the full statement. The gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, said he would not vote to discharge a committee or to change a rule. I do not believe the gentleman from Allegheny heard the latter part of that statement.

Mr. HOLLAND. No, I did not.

The PRESIDENT. I think I am correct in quoting the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND and Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—10

Barr,	Lane,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,
Haluska,	McCreesh.	Ruth,	Yosko,
Holland,	McGinnis,

NAYS—27

Berger,	Harney,	McCusker,	Wade,
Blass,	Kessler,	McPherson, Jr.	Wagner,
Chapman,	Kopriver, Jr.	Miller,	Walker,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Peelor,	Wolfe,
Freed,	Mahany,	Propert,	Wood,
Hare,	Mallery,	Stevenson,

So the question was determined in the negative.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING DUQUESNE SERBIAN BASKETBALL TEAM UPON WINNING NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP OF SERBIAN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 5, 1953.

The presence of a National Championship Basketball Team in any city is a rare distinction and an honor. The City of Duquesne is, therefore, justly proud, for the Dupesne Serbian Basketball Team was crowned the National Champion of the Serbian Basketball league in Milwaukee, Wisconsin on March 23, 1953.

The team has had phenomenal success within its league. The club was organized in 1936. Since then it has participated in 12 championship tournaments within the past 17 years. They have won seven second places, and three third place positions and one fourth place position, in addition to the National Championship won by them in 1953.

The success of the team is due to the expert tutelage of Dan Brdar, coupled with the fine sportsmanship, keen competition and love of the game on the part of the members.

The honor bestowed upon the Duequesne Serbian Basketball Team redounds not only upon the city but also upon the Comonwealth and it, in turn, points with pride to the enviable athletic achievements of this fine organization, now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate extend to the Duquesne Serbian Basketball Team its heartiest congratulations upon their great victory in the sports field and wish them continued success in the future; and be it further

Resolved, That certified copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate, to Nick Belich and Dan Brdar.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the longer I serve in the Senate, the more convinced I am that it all depends on whose ox is being gored.

Mr. President, the other day we Members of the Senate oted unanimously on a resolution criticizing the Federal uthorities for trying to abolish Indiantown Gap. Here, oday, we are voting on something which means something o the soldiers and members of the Armed Forces in the nited States, and the Majority Party objects. I under- and they objected because the word "crackpot" was sed as a part of the resolution. I say to you, Mr. President, hat was good language to use in their because that bsolutely is the fact. I doubt very much whether the ommittee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics will ever eport out that resolution.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that all of us should think ist a little bit of the veteran, the wounded veteran, who erves his Country, and we should do everything in our ower to assist him. This resolution should have been dopted.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am becoming convinced hat we get more foolish in our arguments every day. do not like to characterize another man's argument, ut the Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs nd Aeronautics certainly should be interested in the eteran. He is none other than General Sam Wolfe. He also a General in addition to being a Senator, and ertainly if anybody is interested in the veterans and heir problems, I believe that General Wolfe would be. f there is anything in this resolution which is in favor f the veterans and can do anything for them, I believe hat Senator Wolf will see that the resolution is re- orted on the floor.

Mr. President, sometimes we can accomplish more by raming our language as we would like to have it be- ome effective to those who receive our message. It was hat thought which prompted me to object to the im- nediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. President, we criticize Congress, as I recollect some f the wording of that resolution, for inviting crackpots o testify before Congress. Certainly we are not going o get very far with a person or a group if we criticize he manner in which they are doing business.

Mr. President, I often thought that resolutions memorial- zing Congress are not of very much effect anway. I be- eve one time in a former Session, Senator Holland stated hat to be a fact. He said, "I remember when I was in he Congress of the United States, when we received a nemorializing resolution from a State Legislature, we hrew it in the wastepaper basket." Now, he desired mmediate consideration of this resolution. It seems that e breathes hot one year and cold the next. If they are ot worth anything, why is he so anxious that we get down there in a hurry?

I say to you, Mr. President, I am satified that if this esolution has any merit, it can become more effective by aving the Committee on Military Affairs report it out eal soon and we will have an opportunity to vote on it.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent o address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have said it was oolish to memorialize Congress, but if the Majority eader read the resolution that was offered thoroughly, e would find that copies are being sent to each Con- gressman, whether Democratic or Republican, in the State of Pennsylvania, and to both Senators. The word "mem- orialize" starts in the beginning, but as far as the resolu- tions is concerned it does not send it to Congress. It sends it to the President of the United States, to Mr. Martin, the Majority Leader of the House, and the two Senators from Pennsylvania, and to the Members of Congress from Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I have a great deal of respect for Gen- eral Wolfe, as Chairman of the Committee, and I know he has a very fine war record. The man who wrote this resolution was not either Senator Wade or myself. It was written by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Penn- sylvania. It is the request of the State Commander, in line with the request of the National Commander. It is what the Veterans of Foreign Wars have asked us to do, and anyone knows that in order to be a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, you must have seen foreign service; you must have seen some type of action or been bombed in some way. I think these groups know more about the veterans' problems because they are serving the veteran every day, and they have lived a veteran's life.

Mr. President, I do think that today's delay means a lot. I went along yesterday very willingly, because I knew the undesirability of delay on Indiantown Gap, but here we were yesterday and I felt the same way, that here was a place that was needed to train soldiers. With that thinking, all the Members of the Senate went along with that resolution.

Here is a case, Mr. President, that when the Flag waving is over and the boy comes back and needs hos- pitalization, he cannot get it. There are many veterans today in police stations throughout the State who have had mental collapses and who are not able to get into a hospital. I think these delays mean a lot. If it was your son or your brother who was waiting to get into a mental hospital in the veterans' bureau, and he was lying in jail, in the jails of this State, and that was his reward for serving his Country, then I say this should be done immediately.

MOTION FOR RECESS

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I move for a recess and ask that the Committee on Military Affairs and Aero- nautics have a meeting immediately to consider the resolution.

Mr. LANE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. It has been moved by Senator Hol- land, and seconded by Senator Lane, that the Senate have a recess for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Military Affairs, for the purpose of con- sidering the resolution just referred to this Committee a few minutes ago.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we have had many resolu- tions submitted here in past Sessions, but, generally speaking, a Democratic resolution such as this would never see the light of day and I do not suppose it will.

Mr. President, it was not long ago that Senator Dent and I sponsored a resolution here memorializing Congress in regard to the big steal.

Mr. MAHANY. Point of order, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the Majority Floor Leader.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Are we not on the Order of Business of Original Resolutions, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recalls that there was a request for unanimous consent for the Senator from Washington to make a brief statement.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I did not hear that.

The PRESIDENT. There was no objection offered, and that is the business we are on at the moment.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, did the Senator ask for unanimous consent?

Mr. LANE. Are you interrogating me?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes.

Mr. LANE. I do not recall; I do not believe I did. I am not exactly sure, but when I got up here—

The PRESIDENT, Now you have the Chair confused. Are you talking about today, yesterday or last week?

The gentleman just now asked for recognition and started to speak. Now there is an objection, and the Chair, of course, feels forced to rule that the objection is well taken.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, several weeks ago Senator Dent and I sponsored a resolution memorializing Congress in regard to the big steal, the big oil steal in the United States, whereby there was legislation in our National Congress which would override the Supreme Court of the United States of America. That resolution was objected to, and it was referred to committee. I have not heard of it since, and I doubt if it will ever see the light of day.

As I said before, Mr. President, it seems to me that regardless of the merit of a resolution, if there is a Democrat's name on it, it does not come out of committee.

Mr. President, I suggest to Senator Holland that he remove his name from that resolution and have another member of the Majority Party place his name on there, and we might get something accomplished.

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. First of all, Mr. President, I wish to correct my colleague from Crawford County when he objected a moment ago to my colleague from Washington County because when he rose in place he failed to ask unanimous consent to speak. He kept right on talking, which is number one.

Number two, Mr. President, I must find fault with both sides of the Senate on such resolutions. While I voted to uphold my colleague from Allgeheny, Senator Holland, I did not believe in what I voted for, because yesterday I objected to a similar resolution.

If my memory serves me correctly, Mr. President, when the Session first convened, we agreed about Senate Rules, that only privileged resolutions shall be acted upon without first going to committee. We now find that rule being violated. Day after day, we have original resolutions coming before this chamber which are not privileged, and I think that all resolutions, unless they are privileged, should first go to committee. Those are the Senate Rules. Why can we not abide by them? Yesterday was a violation, but the gentleman from Schuylkill played upon my heartstrings, and I withdrew my objection. However, in the future, I am going to object to any resolution being voted upon unless you change the Rules of the Senate.

We shall abide by those rules or we shall amend them.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 35, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 1 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 723) entitled "An act regulating the investment of funds by administrative departments boards commissions and officers of the State Government" by expanding the investment powers of State administrative departments boards commissions or officers.

And said bill having been read at length the third time On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, about three weeks ago there was a Committee on Banking meeting held on Senate Bill No. 35. It was agreed at that time that we invite the bankers to come in from the Philadelphia Savings Fund Society and tell us something about Senate Bill No. 35. A few days ago, there was another meeting held and the bill got out on the floor.

Mr. President, I am not so sure about Senate Bill No. 35, because it gives the right to the banks, the saving deposits, to go out and invest money. That is something new. I thought the banks were doing all right, since they were closed some years ago and that now they were doing all right. It seems to me that this bill will give the bankers a chance to run wild and invest in anything they see fit.

Mr. President, it seems that I have been advised that I am on the wrong bill.

The PRESIDENT. Well, the Chair commends the Senator. He is alert; he does not intend to let the bill he is against get by without making a few observations.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to state that I cannot vote for this bill and I will attempt to give a number of reasons.

Mr. President, about two weeks ago, I think, I rose in place and objected to the passage of the bill, because in my opinion it did not have the proper safeguards. I do not want any Member of the Senate to think that I am opposed to expanding the sources for the investment of State funds, provided they are accompanied by proper safeguards.

Mr. President, when this bill got on the Calendar, I was reminded of a convention of the National Association of State Auditors, Controllers and Treasurers, of which I am the Executive Director. We had a national convention last year at Phoenix, Arizona, and one of the subjects for discussion was the investment of State funds. Mr. Margetts, Jr., the State Treasurer of New Jersey, delivered a paper on the subject. Mr. Margetts is in Harrisburg today. He happens to be a very personal friend of Mr. Barber and is here to attend the induction ceremonies. I tried to reach him, but he is busy with his friends.

Two weeks ago, Mr. President, when I asked for this bill to go over, I wrote to Mr. Margetts and sent him a copy of Senate Bill No. 35, and asked for his appraisal of it. He gave me a reply which I turned over to the sponsor of the bill. I just want to read what he has to say about it. He said:

"With respect to your Senate Bill 35, obviously the investment powers granted exceed, I believe, the powers granted in most every, if not all, states. The prudent man rule on corporate bonds is very broad. As you will note in New Jersey, we are limited to investments legal for savings banks. In any prudent man form of legal restriction, the original risk selection must be undertaken professionally and secondly, supervision of such purchases is of equal, if not paramount, consideration, for which apparently no provision is made in your Senate Bill 35.

"Nowhere in the Bill does there appear a specific provision such as we have for the employment of the Director and staff who shall be qualified by training and experience to direct the program of investment. Nowhere in your Bill do I find provision for publication of the transactions had with respect to such a program. From my experience, it is absolutely essential to have full and complete publication with respect to all transactions, whether purchases or sales."

Then, Mr. President, he goes on to offer to come to Harrisburg, together with Gordon S. Kerr, the Director of the Division of Investment, and discuss the system they have in the State of New Jersey. New Jersey has a very, I would say, unique setup in so far as the investment of State funds is concerned. It has been in operation for about three years now and is being used as a model by other States. It is a separate unit set up in the State Government, whose only function is the investment of State funds. I understand from its first report that the commission is doing well. It has increased its earnings on investments, and generally has improved the investment policy of the State of New Jersey.

Mr. President, I was not exactly satisfied with Mr. Margetts' statements, and I also wrote to a gentleman who is reputed to be the Dean of the State Treasurers of the entire United States, Charles Johnson, State Treasurer of the State of California. He has been the State Treasurer of California for about twenty-five years. He just made the following note:

"The integrity of the investment authority is of primary importance in the administration of any such law, requiring study and decision on the part of the administrator. In this connection, it would seem that section (i) page 8, does not add anything to the law, but does not detract therefrom. The reasoning for this statement being that probably the respective oaths of office taken by each administrator includes this presumption.

"The problems of investment of public funds are always of great concern throughout the nation. These problems are under study in California, with the thought toward centralization of all investment functions into one agency, such as a Department of Investment, to be directed by an Investment Board."

Mr. President, goes on to say that the University of Cornell is now conducting a survey on the entire problem of investment of State funds.

Mr. President, I also wrote to another State Treasurer, who has been in office for about twenty-five years, the Honorable George B. Hamilton, State Treasurer of Georgia, whose wisdom I respect and whole ability I respect. He made the folloiwng comment:

"When the State invests in such securities"—he is referring to corporate securities—"to properly safeguard the market values of such investments, the State would have to hire a bond expert to constantly check corporation statements and bond markets. You are also opening up a field of corrupt practice whereby a public official with funds to invest might find the opportunity to invest in private corporation securities where he holds an interest and in fact, provides necessary capital to operate his own corporation with tax money and if loss resulted therefrom, I see nothing in the Act to indemnify the State or place responsibility for such loss.

"I think Section 15 providing for the investment of mortgages of individuals on Pennsylvania real estate is particularly vicious and a public official having money to invest could acquire private property in his own name by the use of public monies."

Mr. President, I wrote to one more of the State Treasurers in one of the largest states in the United States, the State of New York. He made some comment on the bill, and I wish to read it for the information of the Senate. He outlines first the types of investments in which the State of New York can participate. He names bonds and notes of the United States, bonds and notes of this State, obligations for the payment of which the faith and credit of the United States, or of this State, are pledged; judgments or awards of the court of claims of this State. Then he goes on to say:

"The Comptroller is responsible for the investment of all New York State funds derived from revenues thru general taxation, bonds of other states or their subdivisions also corporate bonds are not a legal investment for these funds.

"The Comptroller is permitted to invest in bonds of any tax district of the State counties, cities, towns, villages and school districts. However, Section 99 of the State Finance Law permits the Comptroller to withhold public funds in cases of any default in payment of principal or interest.

"There are many other funds in the custody of the state such as Retirement Funds, State Insurance Funds, Reserve Funds of the Insurance Department, where the legislature in creating the fund named the securities which are legal for investment and the broadest provision is 'any security which is legal for a New York Savings Bank.' However, to the best of my knowledge, no investment in corporate bonds have been made.

"Apparently"—and this is very, very important here—"the New York State Legislature have been more concerned regarding the preservation of the principal amount of the fund instead of the income which might be obtained thru the investment in lower grade securities. In my opinion, this policy is sound."

Mr. President, I call your attention to the fact that funds which the State invests are school employees' funds, they are State employees' funds, they are State Workmen's Insurance Funds, the Agricultural College Law Fund, the State College Extension Farm Fund, the Conrad Weiser Memorial Park and the Pennsylvania Historical Commission, as well as the State School Fund. However, the majority of funds which cannot be invested are the funds of the school employees, the State employees and the Workmen's Insurance Fund. They total about a half billion dollars.

I just do not believe, Mr. President, that we should open the door for every Tom, Dick and Harry to come in and be eligible for investment in State funds, especially trust funds. I have an interest in it because I have a nominal sum in the State Employes' Retirement Fund, and I want to see those funds invested safely. There are some investments included in this bill that are not supported by the full faith and credit of the taxing authority. For that reason, the investments are questionable.

I believe, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that this matter should be given additional study so that the safeguards and a competent investment council be set up, before we broaden the types of investments which can be used in so far as State moneys are concerned. For the reasons stated, I will not vote for the bill.

Mr. President, I call your attention to the fact that because of a gamble in some investments which have already been made, as of March 31, there has been a default in about a quarter of a million dollars in investments. With the expansion of the types of investments in which the State could participate under this act, this could stretch into millions, and I do not think we should take that chance.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I regret exceedingly that I am not the expert on the subject that the gentleman who just spoke purports to be, and probably is.

Mr. President, I do, however, want to call the attention of the Members of the Senate to the fact that I did discuss this rather thoroughly with the gentleman, and I put in certain amendments to the bill myself, which were printed and appeared upon the desks of the Senators. They were not all, but part, of the suggestions that he had made with reference to amending this bill.

Lo and behold, Mr. President, the bill then appeared upon the Calendar as amended, and Senator Dent offers amendments which amend it right back to where it was originally when it came before the Senate.

Mr. President, I am not an expert at all on this particular subject. I am perfectly willing to give the bill all the study which it requires. I do want to say, though, it has appeared upon our Calendar for about a month, and so far I have not seen anybody come forward to offer the amendments which they say will improve the bill.

Mr. President, today I am asking that this bill go over in its order, but when it comes up on the Calendar before a full Senate the next time, I would ask the gentlemen who are so deeply interested to hand me some amendments and we can look them over, and maybe we can get together on it.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 35, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, in my remarks I did not want to say anything about Senator Berger, because I did not want him to think that I was getting personal.

I am sure Senator Berger will admit, Mr. President, that I tried to supply him with all of the data necessary, and I did say to him, and I think we had agreed, that we would sit down and discuss amendments. Then, he called me one day and said, "I have prepared amendments, I am going to put them in." He did this, not with my cooperation or collaboration, because if we would have sat down to prepare these amendments, I would have added a few safeguards to this bill which, at least, wou'd have made it acceptable to me and I am sure to others.

Mr. President, I am still willing to sit down with Senator Berger, or anybody else, to work out amendments to safeguard the funds of school employees, State employees, the Workmen's Insurance Fund and all other funds of the Commonwealth which are available for investment.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not wish to imply in any respect that Senator Yosko did not offer me a great deal of information on this subject, and we had some very cooperative discussions on it. I thank the gentleman, and did thank him at the time. I appreciate his assistance.

Mr. President, I am not prepared to say that we would accept all of the amendmehts which Senator Yosko suggests in the bill. I did prepare some amendments which were drawn from the suggestions that he made. Undoubtedly he has others, and quite likely all of the amendments he might suggest would not prove acceptable. After all, the bill has been here a good while and, as I say, one of his colleagues amended it right back to where it originally was when it appeared before the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not like to rise again, but when Senator Dent saw the amendments which were presented, and he took a look and realized that there were so many authorities that were still included in the bill, and he had a few in which he was interested that were stricken out, he said, "I am going to put them back in." Unler the circumstances, I do not more or less blame him.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am thoroughly convinced that if we vote on this bill today, the bill will fall.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator yield? There has been a request made that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. BARR. I know that, Mr. President, and I want to speak on that request. I have a suggestion to make to the sponsor of the bill.

The PRESIDENT. I think the gentleman from Allegheny is requesting something that certainly is in violation of the rules. How in the world are you going to debate a bill which is not under consideration? Request has been made that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. BARR. Then I will make a statement later, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Berger has requested that Senate Bill No. 35, Printer's No. 171, go over in its order. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in regard to Senate Bill No. 35, which has just gone over in its order, I was positive that if the bill were voted upon today that it would fail.

Mr. President, there are many fine features in this bill, and I concur in Senator Yosko's concern that there are not proper safeguards. He has spent considerable time and effort, and had quite a lengthy discussion with the gentlemen who are responsible in the Legislative Reference Bureau for trying to help us out of some of our dilemma, and they had prepared for him a number of amendments which would put the proper safeguards in this bill.

Mr. President, what I was going to attempt to do before the bill went over was to try and get unanimous consent to offer those amendments and then, with a gentleman's agreement in the Senate, if they did not meet with the sponsor's approval entirely after he read the bill with them in, that we would all agree to give unanimous consent to have them stricken out. It is too late for that, but the next time the bill comes up I will leave the amendments with the sponsor, Mr. Berger, and see whether they satisfy him.

STUDENTS OF ALLENTOWN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is pleased to note the presence of the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth grades of the Allentown Elementary School, who are the guests of Senator Freed. They are accompanied by Mr. Frank Fendrick, Mrs. Laurie Keiser and Miss Ruth Knecht.

Will they please rise in place and take a bow?

BILLS ON THIRD READING AN FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 68, as follows:

An Act to amend the title and to further amend the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 1012) entitled "An act regulating the business of loaning money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities fixing the rates of interest and charges therefor requiring the licensing of lenders and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act" by increasing the maximum loan to six hundred ($600) dollars fixing the rates of interest on balances in excess of three hundred ($300) dollars and extending the maturity limitation on loans

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 112, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 1 of the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 34) entitled "An act to promote the health and efficiency of firemen in cities of the second class by providing for a two-platoon system for firemen in the department of public safety of such cities" by further regulating the hours of duty of firemen in cities of the second class

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enact as follows

Section 1 Section 1 of the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 34) entitled "An act to promote the health and efficiency of firemen in cities of the second class by providing for a two-platoon system for firemen in the department of public safety of such cities" as last amended by the act approved the seventeenth day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1285) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the head of the department of public safety or of the department having charge of or supervision over the fire department or bureau in each city of the first second and third class shall from and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred twenty divide the officers and members of companies of the uniformed fire force in the employ of such cities or in the case of a volunteer fire department the firemen and drivers regularly employed and paid by the city excepting the chief engineer and assistant chiefs into two shifts bodies or platoons one to perform day service and the other to perform night service The hours of day service shall not exceed ten commencing at eight o'clock in the morning the hours of night service shall not exceed fourteen commencing at six o'clock in the afternoon In cases of riot serious conflagration or other such emergency the chief engineer of the bureau of fire or the assistant chief deputy or chief officer in charge at any fire shall have the power to assign all the members of the fire force to continuous duty or to continue any member thereof on duty if necessary No member of either of said shifts bodies or platoons shall be required to perform continuous day service or continuous night service for a longer consecutive period than two weeks nor be kept on duty continuously longer than ten hours in the day shifts body or platoon or fourteen hours in the night shift body or platoon excepting as may be necessary to equalize the hours of duty and service and also excepting in cases of riot serious conflagration or other such emergency as above provided Provided however That this act shall not apply to employes who are employed subject to call In any consecutive period of two weeks no member of either of said shifts bodies or platoons in any city of the second class shall be kept on duty for a total period which shall average over [sixty] fifty-five hours in any one week of the consecutive period of two weeks

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-four

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, with regard to House Bill No. 112, I want to say to the Members of the Senate that I realize what is going to happen to the bill. It is going to be passed and sent back to the House for its concurrence in the amendments which were put in by the Senate Committee.

My main objection to this bill, Mr. President, is that the bill has no place in the House or Senate of Pennsylvania. This should be a matter of an ordinance before the city council in Pittsburgh and we, in Harrisburg, should not legislate for another legislative body unless we provide the funds.

Mr. President, I remember just last week my friend from Titusville, Mr. Mahany, said that too many people were prone to vote for appropriations and not for the taxes. I want to tell him today that he is being guilty of this nefarious crime, because that is exactly what he is doing.

Mr. President, the problem in this bill should have been presented to the city council of Pittsburgh by the local firemen and officials of their firemen's union. This they did not do. This is not just an idle statement by me; it was brought out at the hearing which was held before the chairman of the committee that had this bill over in the House, Representative Ewing. They did go to city council and ask for an increase in pay, and received a little more of an increase than any other city employee. Then they immediately, a few weeks later, run up to Harrisburg and immediately get a bill such as this sponsored.

Mr. President, I want to tell the Members on the other side that we have three metropolitan newspapers in the city of Pittsburgh, and each one of them has not only written news stories but has written editorials against this type of legislation.

Mr. President, I could stay here most of the afternoon talking about this bill, but I realize that what I say is not going to change the vote, so I would now suggest that maybe we should call the roll.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate the comments of my colleague from Allegheny County. Of course, as he suggested, the bill was amended in the Senate, which I think changes the approach of the bill entirely as far as the fiscal problem of the city of Pittsburgh is concerned. The effective date was changed so that it is the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred fifty-four, which will give the city ample opportunity to adjust whatever differences might arise with regard to an increase or a decrease in the budget because of this bill.

There is a distinct difference of opinion, Mr. President, as to how this will affect the city budget, and, of course, those differences can be resolved by the finance committee in city council.

This, Mr. President, is a similar action as was taken in the 1951 Session by the General Assembly with regard to the firemen in cities of the third class. At that time, if my memory serves me correctly, the hours of the firemen in cities of the third class were reduced from fifty-five hours per week to fifty hours per week, and that bill passed the Senate unanimously. In that bill, the effective date was made to operate as of the first day of January, 1952, so that the councils of the cities of the third class could prepare for the matter in their budget. That has been done here, and I think that alleviates most of the problem which would confront the city of Pittsburgh in adjusting their budget.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think that the bill should receive the very favorable consideration of the Senate, and I am going to request that the roll be called.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Barr's contention, I believe the problem is a home rule problem. I believe that is where the problem should have been taken, that is where it should have been started and that is where they should alleviate the situation. This problem is akin to all the people who come from home rule areas, such as Philadelphia, where this very problem is also going to be taken up in very short order in this body, because, I understand, bills have been started over in the House which deal with this very problem.

Mr. President, I think that all of us should direct our attention to the fact that if this bill is good for Pittsburgh, or, in turn, later on for Philadelphia, I think it is good for the whole State. I think they should not limit themselves to just legislating on behalf of Pittsburgh or Philadelphia. I think we should legislate for the whole Commonwealth in reducing hours of people who work for a living.

Mr. President, I feel that this bill in the main, or the purport of it, was to embarrass Pittsburgh, because the budget there was closed and they will have to find some way out of this dilemma. Of course, this amendment, as the Senator from Allegheny stated, will alleviate the situation somewhat, but I do not believe it is the answer to the whole problem, which is a local problem. I believe city council—I think I am stating it correctly—is made up mostly of labor people who are conversant with this problem, sympathetic to it, and would have certainly given it their full support had it been brought up there instead of bringing it here to embarrass the administration.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Philadelphia that there is no desire on our part to embarrass the incoming Republican administration in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, there are three third class cities in Allegheny County. The city of Clairton has forty hours a week for their firemen, the city of McKeesports has forty-eight hours a week for them and the city of Duquesne has forty-eight hours a week.

Mr. President, the Minority is always the champion for labor. What happened this time? The story that it is going to cost more money for the city of Pittsburgh is not true. The firemen, themselves, will say that it will not cost any more money. They fight fires differently than they did twenty-five years ago in this day. I know that if there is a will, there is a way.

The truth is, it is politics, Mr. President, on the city of Pittsburgh's part and not on the part of the Senate. If the city of Pittsburgh will not correct it, we have to.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am not trying to legislate for third class cities because I have none in my district. I do remember the bill two years ago, and I remember the Pittsburgh bill two years ago where we cut the hours of our firemen six hours, and I am for cutting them down to forty hours a week, if they can be cut. When you have so much money, you can only go so far. If Senator Kopriver, who happens to be the Mayor of a third class city, can tell us of any new taxes to put on in Pittsburgh next year, the door is wide open down there and we will be glad to hear from him.

Mr. President, another thing he forgot to say in regard to third class cities is that the great majority in this Commonwealth are manned by volunteer firemen. I am quite positive, unless they have changed, and Senator Taylor can tell me if they have changed here, but I think the only paid firemen in the city of Harrisburg are the drivers. The rest are volunteers.

I do know, Mr. President, that the firemen in the city of Duquesne, where Senator Kopriver is from, are on call twenty-four hours a day, and that is not true in the city of Pittsburgh. If he can tell me where we can cut fifty-five hours off a week, and do it with the same type of men, he is the Houdini who has been looked for in every miunicaplity in this State.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 474, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section one of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 318) entitled "An act to regulate the sale and possession of penicillium (penicillin) and its derivatives preparations and compounds in the interests of public health" by providing certain exceptions to said act

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 318) entitled "An act to regulate the sale and possession of penicillium (penicillin) and its derivatives preparations and compounds in the interest of public health" as last amended by the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 955) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 The drug known as penicillium (penicillin) and any of its derivatives preparations or compounds of the same except penicillin teat dilators and veterinarian ointment for mastitis and penicillium (penicillin) its derivatives preparations and compounds when used in the supplementation of animal or poultry feeds and animal or poultry feeds when so supplemented not intended for human consumption shall not be sold at retail or dispensed to any person except upon the written prescription of a duly licensed physician dentist or veterinarian compounded or dispensed by a registered pharmacist or under the immediate personal supervision of a registered pharmacist and no pharmacist shall dispense any such drug without affixing to the container in which the drug is sold or dispensed a label bearing the name and address of the pharmacist the date compounded and the consecutive number of the prescription under which it is recorded in his prescription files together with the name of the physician dentist or veterinarian prescribing it Provided That the provisions of this section of this act shall not apply to a duly licensed physician dentist or veterinarian Provided however That they keep a record of the amount of such drugs purchased and a dispensing record showing the date name and the quantity of the drugs dispensed and the name and address of the patient No physician dentist or veterinarian shall dispense any such drug without affixing to the container in which the drug is sold or dispensed a label bearing the name and address of the dispenser the date dispensed the name and address of the patient and the directions for the use of the drug by the patient

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, this bill would provide only that farmers may buy penicillin, which is used in supplement of feed for poultry and animals. They would not have to get a written prescription in order to buy it at the drugstore, when it is prepared for use in conjunction with feeds.

Mr. President, I believe this is sensible legislation. I think all of us know that the farmers of Pennsylvania are working under many handicaps today, and this would save them some little money. I certainly hope that my colleagues here will vote favorably on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committe at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LETZLER, from the Committee on Mines and Mining to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Letzler and Peelor, on April 15, 1953, reported the same without amendment as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE SAFEGUARDS IN TARIFF AND TRADE LEGISLATION

In the Senate, April 15, 1953.

Whereas, The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability;

Whereas, The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our own smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous pricecutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment;

Whereas, Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedent high level, or close thereto, lest we become insolvent;

Whereas Pressure that cames from imports of residual fuel oil, having risen from an average of fifty million barrels in the 1946-1948 period to more than one hundred twenty-five million in 1952, or the equivalent of thirty-one million tons of coal; from imports of pottery, watches and parts, glassware, lace, carpets and other textiles, hats and millinery, chemicals, scientific apparatus, cutlery, dairy products, wall paper, luggage and leather goods, and many other articles, will render the upholding of the economy at its high levels most uncertain and difficult, unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom this contained; and

Whereas, A maximum of such trade results from a prosperous domestic economy freed from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standards of our workmen, and the stability of our economy of unfair import competition and that existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United State Tariff Commission, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, May 5, 1953

The House met at 12:00 noon EST.
The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Charles F. Trunk, Jr., guest Chaplain and pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

O God, we thank Thee that we are privileged to serve Thee in a special way. Thou knowest the high purposes of our youthful days, and Thou knowest how little we have lived up to them. Make us masters of the fine art of living, lest we become victims of our own lack of faith. Make us also to be good servants of Thy will, so that we do not give way to despair. Teach us to rule our own selfishness, so that we can overrule the selfishness of others, for in Thy Name we serve and pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. SCHWARTZ, TOLL and HERSCH. RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1953.

Chief Justice Horace Stern of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court has ably stated the loss to Pennsylvania and to the legal profession occasioned by the death of Judge James Gay Gordon, Jr., with these words: "Every member of the Bench and Bar of Pennsylvania will subscribe to the fact that he was one of the ablest jurists of the Commonwealth—not only at the present time, but in all history.

A resume of Judge Gordon's life confirms the variety of Justice Stern's eulogy.

James Gay Gordon, Jr., was the second son of the late Judge Gay Gordon, Sr. He was born January 20, 1887 in Philadelphia, and received his early education at Episcopal Academy and Phillips Exeter Academy. At the age of sixteen he entered Princeton University and graduated in 1907 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree. He immediately entered the University of Pnnsylvania Law School and graduated in 1910 as a Bachelor of Laws.

In 1911 he was appointed Assistant City Solicitor for Philadelphia; a post he held until 1916 when he was appointed an Assistant District Attorney. He gained fame as a law enforcement officer by his relentless and highly successful campaign against the illegal sale of narcotics in the city.

At the age of 35, Governor Sproul, in 1922, appointed him to the Bench of Common Pleas Court Number 2 in Philadelphia. He was one of the youngest men ever appointed to a judicial post in Pennsylvania. He was elected to the office in 1923, with the wholehearted support of both political parties. A favorable commentary upon his fairness and judicial ability is evidenced by the fact that in every succeeding election he has enjoyed this bi-partisan support.

Perhaps the reason for his popularity as a man and as a jurist was his ceaseless struggle to improve the administration of justice, as exemplified by the crusade against "Straw Bail," which resulted in a revision of the court rules that greatly reduced this evil practice. His work as Chairman of the Parole Commission for Governor Earle paved the way for our present parole system. Recently, he served as a member of the advisory committee of the Joint State Government Commission which revised the criminal code and the code of criminal procedure. His last efforts were directed toward the passage of legislation which would guarantee accused persons freedom from police coercion.

The high literary style of Judge Gordon's opinions were as famed as his legal reasoning. His decisions are outstanding examples of legal and literary masterwork.

The Commonwealth has truly suffered a great loss in the fields of law and human relationship by the death of Judge Gordon; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate extend its heartfelt condolences to the family of Judge Gordon, and its sincere gratitude for his tireless endeavors to make the law just and equal to all who seek relief and protection under it; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to transmit a copy of these resolutions to Judge Gordon's widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Keller Gordon.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1953.

Whereas, the Tidelands Oil property is the rightful property of all the people of the United States and has so been declared by the Supreme Court of the United States; and

Whereas, the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania support the concept of the ownership of Tidelands Oil properties by all the people of this country; and

Whereas, legislation is now active in the Senate of the United States opposing the public ownership of the tidelands oil property; and

Whereas, amendments have been offered to the legislation so as to benefit all the people of the United States with respect to the use of income derived from tidelands oil for common defense and for education; and

Whereas, the General Asembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is now engaged with the problem of raising additional revenue to adequately provide for the educational needs of the people; and

Whereas, various forms of taxation have been suggested including a sales tax so that the people of the Commonwealth contribute for the purpose; and

Whereas, the Senate of the United States is currently considering legislation in connection with the ownership of tidelands oil which would provide funds for Pennsylvania to be used for educational purposes; and

Whereas, the Anderson Amendment which would provide funds for education was defeated in the Senate of the United States on April 27, 1953, by a vote of 56 to 33; and

Whereas, U. S. Senators Martin and Duff of Pennsylvania voted with the senators who opposed the amendment favoring educational needs; and

Whereas, the vote also adversely affects the proposal by U. S. Senator Lister Hill to earmark the funds for aid to schools in all the states; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that this General Assembly does herewith memorialize the U. S. Senators from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to vote against legislation which will deprive the people of the Commonwealth of any funds earmarked for educational purposes and which will enure to the benefit of the Commonwealth and particularly to support any amendments to the tidelands oil legislation which will benefit education in Pennsylvania, and be it further Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to U. S. Senator Edward Martin and U. S. Senator James H. Duff, and a copy to the President of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. TOLL, WELSH, HERSCH and SCHWARTZ.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1953.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Laws first were enacted in the year 1915 and numerous amendments and changes were made in the period which will cover forty (40) years by the time the next session of the Assembly begins, and

Whereas, Said Workmen's Compensation Laws should be carefully studied and codified and revised in order to make the language clear and make it more effective for its intended purposes to benefit injured workmen, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to survey, investigate and consider all of the Workmen's Compensation Laws of the Commonwealth and to completely revise and restate such laws into codified form and to report its findings, conclusions and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly, with a bill embodying a codifiication of the Workmen's Compensation Laws of the Commonwealth to be introduced at the next regular session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

INDIANTOWN GAP MILITARY RESERVATION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 4, 1953.

Whereas, Congress proposes to inactivate the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation; and

Whereas, This reservation is the only military installation in Pennsylvania used for training very large groups of soldiers; and

Whereas, Subsequent to the cessation of hostilities after World War II, Indiantown Gap Military Reservation was inactivated and was activated again about February 1, 1951 at a great cost to the Federal Government; and

Whereas, The reservation is ideally located from the standpoint of obtaining supplies, civilian employes, housing for officers and enlisted men, transportation and recreation; and

Whereas, The inactivation of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation will have a great adverse effect on the economy of the communities within a radius of thirty miles of the reservation; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to reconsider the inactivation of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representatives from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 343, as follows:

An Act exempting owners operators and licensees of radio or television stations and their agents servants and employes from liability for publication of defamatory matter in certain cases

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Liability shall be denied and no recovery shall be allowed against the owners licensees and operators of any visual or sound radio and television station or network of stations or against the agents servants or employes of such owner licensee or operator for the publication utterance or broadcasting of any defamatory matter where the publication utterance or broadcasting thereof is not subject to their censorship or control by reason of any Federal statute or any regulation ruling or order of the Federal Communications Commissions

Section 2 All actions for damages which have accrued in cases in which liability is denied as set forth in section one of this act shall be commenced within sixty days after the effective date of this act and if not so commenced shall thereafter be completely barred

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Van Sant.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Van Sant, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VAN SANT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman please explain the necessity of this bill? What does it add to the present law of Pennsylvania, if anything?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. Speaker, in recent years under a federal act passed by the Congress of the United States, a Federal Communications Commission Act has been changed. No longer does a radio station have the power to censor any radio broadcast. The station, of course, is operated in the public interest, convenience and necessity and is available alike to all who have a message of public interest. Therefore, anyone can demand broadcast time; but since the station has no nower of censorship, we do not feel that they should be held liable for any remarks of the speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say that under the FCC regulations in the federal law the stations have no power of censorship?

Mr. VAN SANT. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, none whatsoever?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. Speaker, to the best of my knowledge, they have no power of censorship.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. Mr. Speaker, I doubt very much the correctness of the gentleman's answer, that a broadcasting or televison station has no power whatsoever of censorship over a broadcast. I think the gentleman probably would be more correct if he would say that the federal regulations prohibit a station from censoring certain programs, such as a political speech by a candidate, for example. Unless I am entirely wrong in my conception of the law of Pennsylvania, there are certain cases—and many of them—in which a broadcasting company can demand a copy of a speech to be given or a play to be produced. And if it deems it not fit or slanderous in some manner, it can rule it off.

I think the law of Pennsylvani is now that if a broadcasting company is not guilty of malice in helping to produce a slander over its program, or is not guilty of negligence in allowing it to be done, it cannot be held liable in damages to anybody. And certainly if a federal regulation made under the law regulating these companies forbids censorship of certain types, as this bill expressly sets forth, I fail to see how anybody or any company could be held liable for damages for doing exactly what the law says it must do.

I had hoped that perhaps some reasons might be advanced for the need for this bill which is not now embodied in the present law of Pennsylvania. But I have not seen any evidence of a need for this and therefore I think it should be voted down.

There are times when we write in the statutory law the common law of this state as embodied in the Supreme and Superior Courts' decisions; but on a matter of this kind which, to me has been well defined by the courts, I think we had better not venture into this field and we had better let the law the way it is.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am inclined to believe that the statement of the gentleman from Lehigh was a little broad. The federal statute which he speaks about involves political candidates only.

Under the federal statute, political candidates are to be given radio or television time without censorship. There are some cases, of course, where local broadcasting stations do reserve that right. Nevertheless, if they do censor it and a complaint is made to that effect under the FCC regulations, they may lose their license. If they do not censor it and a candidate makes some remark that might be libelous, then the radio stations can become involved in a lawsuit.

I will agree with the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, that we do have some judicial opinion in this state relating to the lack of malice on the part of a broadcasting station. That, however, does not prevent the broadcasting station from being made a party to the suit in defending itself in court in order to show there was a lack of malice where it involved political candidates.

We come down to the rather anomalous situation that if they insist upon censoring the candidates' broadcast, they are subject to a probable loss of their license. If they do not censor the broadcast and a libelous statement is made, the station may be sued.

Now this is a limitation only of protection to the broadcasting station in connection with political candidates' speeches. And under the FCC ruling, where a political broadcast is made, the opposition must be given equal time and opportunity to answer it.

This bill is designed to enact into law, such as Mr. Readinger has said, judicial opinion of this state, although it is not common law, yet at the same time it is judicial opinion and to give the broadcasting stations the additional advantage of not having to be brought into court in a lawsuit in order to defend the fact that they were without malice or with malice, or what have you, when such a speech is made. It is already the law in 22 states of the United States, and I have word today the State of Ohio just yesterday passed this law finally in the Senate of the State of Ohio, which makes it the twenty-third State in the Union to have such a law in order to protect those broadcasting stations.

We feel it is good legislation in order to clarify the atmosphere and we have asked that this bill be voted into law.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the jury who has listened to the lawyer's contend I must for at least once agree with the gentleman from Cameron, no matter how much I regret disagreeing with the Member from Berks.

I have occasion to make frequent use of radio, and of course the gentleman from Cameron is right when he says that stations have a right to censor much of the material that comes to them. If you are offending any of the rules and regulations of the federal body they can cut you off right in the middle of a broadcast, or if you use certain offensive words that are prohibited by federal regulations, they can stop you.

But it is true that when I speak as a candidate, if the station has given time to my opponent then I can demand time for myself, and I am not required to submit script in advance to the radio station and they cannot stop me and they cannot censor me, unless I use words that are prohibited over the air by the federal controlling body. To save the broadcast station the annoyance of suits that could be brought, I believe I shall render the verdict as a member of the jury that this bill is desirable legislation.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, much as we revere the jury system in this United States the juries in times past have been wrong, and I think are wrong today.

At the risk of appearing redudant in this matter I would like to repeat, that if any radio or television station follows the federal law, or a lawful regulation made by the federal government and in doing so allow somebody to make a statement over the radio or television which is slanderous, they cannot be held liable under Pennsylvania law for damages.

We speak here today about the annoyance of suits and so forth. This bill does not prohibit a suit against the station. If this thing happens it simply says there shall be no liability. I say to you that any time one of our citizens, or a broadcasting company or anybody else is obeying the federal law which applies to all of us, he cannot be held liable under a state law for doing so. If the law were otherwise we would have a terrific conflict and we would not know whether to obey the federal laws or the state laws.

But as you know we are all bound by federal law and if we follow it we cannot be held liable. I say there is no need for this bill. In my opinion it will not do any harm, but there is just no need for it. I am opposed to passing bills here which say the same thing as the present law.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 504, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation from the State Workmen's Insurance Fund to the State Employes' Retirement Board to meet the obligations of the Commonwealth to the State Employes' Retirement System with respect to State employes receiving compensation from the State Workmen's Insurance Fund

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of one hundred thirty-nine thousand eight hundred sixty-five dollars ($139,865) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated out of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund to the State Eemployes' Retirement Board for the two fiscal years commencing the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-three for payment from time to time into the State Employes' Retirement Fund to meet the obligations of the Commonwealth to the State Employes' Retirement System with respect to State employes receiving compensation from the State Workmen's Insurance Fund

Section 2 Of the sum appropriated by this act there shall be paid into the State Employes' Retirement Fund to the credit of the State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two the sum of thirty-seven thousand nine hundred ninety-six ($37,996) and to the credit of the Contingent Reserve Account the sum of one hundred one thousand eight hundred sixty-nine dollars ($101,869)

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of the bill what is meant by it. I never remember of a bill like this during my entire time as a Member.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker. What does the gentleman want to know?

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). Will the gentleman from Westmoreland tell the gentleman from Erie what he wants to know?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman to please explain just exactly why we have to have this bill. I never remember of a bill like this before, and I just can't fathom why such a bill is needed.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman which bill he is inquiring about. I was consulting my physician and I am really not up on this legislation.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). We are now on House Bill 504, Printer's No. 148.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. In reply to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I really could not answer that question. That bill was given to me and I do not know what it is all about. I hope that answers the question.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will endeavor to answer the question. This session we have had numerous bills of this nature wherein we transfer from the various funds to the retirement fund the contribution of that fund to the retirement fund to take care of the state's share of the employes retirement annuities. We have had them out of the fish fund, out of the game fund, out of the banking fund, out of the manufacturers fund, and here is an instance where the State Workmens Insurance Fund is matching the contribution of the employe which goes into the retirement fund. I would say it is a customary and usual bill every session and we do have a separate bill for practically every fund that is a separate fund from the general fund.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Erie on his frank remarks and explanations of the bills. In the second place I want to say to the Majority Leader that to my knowledge we have never had such bills—maybe I am a little lax at times—but to my knowledge I do not remember a bill such as this before the Legislature.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, on all future bills those who want a little treatment please step back here into this row 168 is the number.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 4 Imposition of Tax Exemptions and Deductions A permanent State tax of three cents a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed upon all liquid fuels used or sold and delivered by distributors within this Commonwealth excepting liquid fuels delivered to the United States Government on presentation of a duly authorized United States Government exemption certificate or other evidence satisfactory to the department and such liquid fuels used or sold and delivered as are not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States Provided That the tax herein imposed and assessed shall be collected by and paid to the Commonwealth but once in respect to any liquid fuels

In addition to such tax an additional State tax of two cents a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed upon all liquid fuels used or sold and delivered by distributors within this Commonwealth for the period beginning [on] the first day [this act becomes effective] of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and ending on the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred [fifty-three] fifty-five

Distributors shall be liable to the Commonwealth for the collection and payment of the tax imposed by this act The tax imposed by this act shall be collected by the distributor at the time the liquid fuels are used or sold and delivered by the distributor and shall be borne by the consumer

The tax shall be payable upon liquid fuels sold and delivered to or used by the Commonwealth and every political subdivision thereof

The department shall allow such handling and storage losses of liquid fuels as are substantiated to its satisfaction

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 819, as follows:

An Act to further amend section seventeen of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are practically and commercially suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" by extending for an additional period the right to partial reimbursement of taxes paid on liquid fuels consumed in the operation of certain tractors and machinery for agricultural purposes

Section 1 Section seventeen of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are practically and commercially suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" as temporarily amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 2028) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 17 Refunds The Board of Finance and Revenue may refund to distributors taxes penalties and interest paid by them on liquid fuels delivered to the United States government or paid as the result of an error of law or of fact or of both law and fact Claims for such refunds shall be made under the procedure prescribed by The Fiscal Code

Any person who shall use or buy liquid fuels on which the tax imposed by this act shall have been paid and shall consume the same in the operation of any non-licensed farm tractor or licensed farm tractor when used off the highways for agricultural purposes or non-licensed powered farm machinery for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products shall be reimbursed one-half the amount of such tax

All such claims for reimbursement shall be made upon a form to be furnished by the Board of Finance and Revenue and shall include in addition to such other information as the board may by regulation prescribe the name and address of the claimant the period of time and the number of gallons of liquid fuels used for which reimbursement is claimed a description of the farm machinery in which such liquid fuels have been used and the purposes for which such machinery has been used the size of the farm and part thereof in cultivation on which such liquid fuels have been used Each such claim shall contain statements that the liquid fuels for which reimbursement is claimed have been used only for purposes for which reimbursements are permitted that records of the amounts of such fuels used in each piece of farm machinery have been kept and that no part of such claim has been paid except as stated Each such claim shall contain a declaration that it and accompanying receipts are true and correct to the best of claimant's knowledge and shall be signed by the claimant or the person claiming on his behalf Every claim shall be accompanied by receipts indicating that the liquid fuels tax was paid on the liquid fuels for which reimbursement is claimed All records of purchases of liquid fuels and use in each tractor or powered machinery shall be kept for a period of two years Every such claim shall be made annually for the preceding year ending on the thirtieth day of June and shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue not later than the thirtieth day of September of each year and the board shall refuse to consider any claim received or post-marked later than such date The claimant shall satisfy the board that he has paid the tax and that the liquid fuels have been consumed by him [in the operation of a tractor or piece of powered machinery for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products] for purposes for which reimbursements are permitted under this section The board may require any claimant to furnish such further information proof or fuller explanation as it shall deem necessary The action of the Board of Finance and Revenue in granting or refusing reimbursement shall be final The board shall deduct the sum of one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) which shall be considered as a filing fee from every claim for reimbursement granted Such filing fees are hereby specifically appropriated to the Board of Finance and Revenue and to the Department of Revenue for expenses of any nature whatsoever incurred in the administration of the reimbursement provisions of this act The Board of Finance and Revenue shall have the power to refer to the Department of Revenue for investigation any claim for reimbursement filed under the provisions of this act and it shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue to investigate such application and report to the Board of Finance and Revenue relative thereto Any person making any false or fraudulent statement for the purpose of obtaining reimbursement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both

and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund in amounts equal to the original distribution and payment of such moneys into said funds Provided however That reimbursement for taxes paid on liquid fuels consumed in the operation of tractors and powered machinery for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products shall be paid out of the Motor License Fund

As much of the moneys from time to time in the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Board of Finance and Revenue for the purpose of making refunds and reimbursements as herein authorized Estimates of the amounts to be expended from these funds for refunds and reimbursements from time to time by the board shall be submitted to the Governor for his approval or disapproval as in the case of other appropriations to administrative departments boards and commissions and it shall be unlawful for the Auditor General to honor any requisition of the Board of Finance and Revenue for the expenditure of moneys hereunder in excess of the estimates approved by the Governor

The provisions of this section relating to partial reimbursement of taxes paid on liquid fuels consumed in the operation of tractors and powered machines for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products shall apply only to liquid fuels purchased on and after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and before the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-five

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NOT VOTING—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1108, as follows:

An Act to amend clause (3) of Section 5 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" by removing the five year financial experience requirement as to obligations of authorities constructing public school buildings

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Clause (3) of Section 5 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 5 Obligations of Pennsylvania Governmental Organizations Obligations of the following Pennsylvania governmental organizations shall be authorized investments

* * * * *

(3) Municipality Authorities Obligations of any municipality authority issued pursuant to the laws of the Commonwealth relating to the creation of operation of municipality authorities if the obligations are not in default and if for the period of five fiscal years next preceding the date of acquisition the income of such authority available for fixed charges has averaged not less than one and one-fifth times its average annual fixed charges of such obligations over the life of such obligations As used in this clause the term "income available for fixed charges" shall mean income after deducting operating and maintenance expenses and unless the obligations are payable in serial annual maturities or are supported by annual sinking fund payments depreciation but excluding extraordinary non-recurring items of income or expenses and the term "fixed charges" shall include principal both maturity and sinking fund and interest on bonded debt In computing such income available for fixed charges for the purposes of this section the income so available of any corporation acquired by any municipality authority may be included such income to be calculated as though such corporation had been operated by a municipality authority and an equivalent amount of bonded debt were outstanding

The eligibility for investment purposes of obligations of each project of a municipality authority shall be separately considered hereunder and if the project of a municipality authority is a public school building no earning record shall be required as a condition of eligibility for investment by fiduciaries

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to state the reasons why I find it necessary to oppose this bill.

The law that is being amended here in fiduciary law, the main purpose of which, of course, is protection for those funds which are entrusted to fiduciaries. The purpose of the bill is to liberalize the requirements of the Fiduciary. Act so as to make it possible for them to purchase the bonds of local authorities constructing public school buildings.

I think it is quite possible that this bill might be to the advantage of the local authorities of local school districts in this respect. However, as I pointed out, that is not the main purpose of the act that is being amended. I do not think that the bonds of those authorities are a suitable investment in all cases for this kind of funds.

Experience shows that in bad times there were school districts forced to default, many of whom did not have the funds with which to pay salaries and other operating expenses, therefore, of necessity were unable to meet their obligations. It is in just such a time that the person who is sponsor-protected needs the most protection. It is just at that time when this kind of protection would fail in this sort of investment.

For that reason, although I think the intent of the bill which the sponsors had was to benefit the districts, I think from the standpoint of fiduciaries, it would not be the best. Therefore, I am opposed to the bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few short words in support of the bill. Under the present law we have a requirement making it necessary to have five years' financial experience. Authorities such as these public school building authorities invariably can not present five years of experience because they are newly created, and the chances are they have only one venture, one building and then they are through. While there have been times when municipal bonds have been in default, I do not believe any person in this group can mention one time that a municipality has not, in the final analysis, paid off. Whereas other bonds, of a commercial nature, through bankruptcies and one way and another, have at different times failed to pay off. The type of security as furnished by a public school authority is the kind of security that a great many trusts want. They are particularly proud of municipal bonds and authority bonds because of the fact that their past record of performance has been excellent. I do not feel that we should penalize either the purchasers of these bonds who want to buy them because they do not have a five-years' experience clause, and on the other hand I do not think we should penalize the authority by not being able to have those additional bidders when they are ready to sell their bonds.

I think, personally, this is a good bill, I do not think it endangers the security of the fiduciary at all, and I think it is a good bill for which to vote.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I regret that I have to disagree with my colleague from York, Mr. Seyler, but I want to point out to him that fiduciaries are not forced under this bill to buy these securities. After all, money is their business, and I have confidence in most of them that they do a good job. I want to remind him that before these bonds are ever issued they are given a great deal of consideration and a great deal of thought.

In the first place the project must be approved by our Department of Public Instruction; it must be approved by the board within the county in which the project is to be built; it must be approved by the local attorney, who in turn calls in a so-called bond attorney, and there are only a few of them in Pennsylvania. They have made a study of bonds all their life. Then, finally, the bonding house that sells these bonds certainly is not going to put up this amount of money unless they are definitely sure that they are going to get a return on their investment also.

As the gentleman from Cambria pointed out, this bill will definitely help local school boards. It is definitely going to help the people who are interested in buying these bonds, I think, because as he stated, they are definitely tax-free, which is quite an incentive to buy them, and from every standpoint I think it is a very sound bill. I do not see that any person stands any great chance of losing through the purchase of these bonds. I respectfully request all the Members of the House to vote for this bill.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, there have been some arguments made that I would like to attempt to answer.

In the first place, the argument was made by the gentleman from Cambria that these bonds will probably be paid off eventually. Of course that is true, and it is precisely the reason why large investors can afford to take them.

However, if they do not pay off for several years, that cuts off the income of the people who are being protected by the trust funds. In other words the people who derive income from the trust funds do not need that income eventually, they need the income currently. That is one reason why I object to it.

The point has been made by my colleague from York that the bonds are very safe because various people pass on them. Well now, we all know that the purpose of the authority is to enable the local municipality to raise money which the Legislature refuses to allow the district to borrow. It is only because the borrowing power of the local school district is limited by the Legislature in its wisdom that we avoid defaulting and that we have authorities. The authority is the way of circumventing that limitation, and there had been many cases in which school districts, without this authority angle, have been unable to meet their ordinary borrowing capacity under the regular law during depression times.

Then the argument that fiduciaries are not forced to buy, strikes me to be beside the point. The whole purpose of the Fiduciaries Act is to set a legal standard. Using the same argument that the gentleman advanced, perhaps we should do away with all the laws restricting fiduciaries from buying if he has such supreme confidence in them that they will not make anything but wise investments.

The whole thing in the Fiduciaries Act, in this section, is to see that they do not buy certain things. In other words, we have not been willing to rely upon their wisdom.

Therefore it still seems to me, in spite of the arguments advanced, that the bill is not a safe one, and I will therefore oppose it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am going to oppose the bill simply because I think it is another step in the same direction of making it too easy for school districts to build the palaces they are building today.

I realize that that may be opening the thing up to a very wide field, but I believe that school districts should be able to show through their local citizenry, and through their local taxes on real estate, that they are able to bear their rightful burden for their own school buildings the same as any other person or company or municipality has the right to show.

It seems to me that we are just taking a step a little bit in the same direction that we have taken in the last four years of encouraging the school districts, especially in the third and fourth class districts, to go overboard on the school buildings that they are erecting.

Therefore, I am going to vote against the bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, there is one question in my mind on bills of this type, protecting and making it easy for the authorities to secure the bonds to build the buildings, not only the school authority but in your general state authority and in other authorities. I think we will find after the buildings are built that the school boards, or the particular institutional district in which it has been built comes to Harrisburg the next session of Legislature asking for an increased appropriation in order to take care of the new buildings and stuff that we have made it so easy and so possible for them to create under the authorities.

That is the point that I am a little afraid of. I think the time has come when we should call a halt and say to these people, "Now, the state has given just about as much as it can afford to give. If you want to go into all this other construction, you find the revenue back home or somewhere else, because we are just not going to increase your appropriation."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 21, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 594) entitled "An act establishing certain townships roads as State highways authorizing their construction maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities persons associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act" by changing a certain route in Armstrong County

Section 1 The following route established by the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 594) entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways authorizing their construction maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities persons associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act" is hereby amended to read as follows

Route 03004 Beginning at the Shrader's Grove Crossroads on Route 69 thence easterly and southeasterly in South Buffalo Township to a point on Route 378 at B S Van Dyke's Crossroads thence southerly along Knapp Run to a road intersection in Armstrong County a distance of about [2.0] 3.00 miles

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediatly upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boise, for presiding, and commends him for a very excellent job.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, just to clear the record, over the week end an Erie paper carried an article inferring that on the last day of last week's session at the last moment bills were reported to the floor of the House and it infers that there was some skulduggery afloat. I wish to assure whoever it was that got that impression that that was not the case.

These two bills came out of a regularly called and stated meeting of Municipal Corporations and were reported by the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Quisenberry, under perfectly regular routine. At the time this meeting was called, it was not the intention of any of us or our idea that we would adjourn on Tuesday.

The statement said that the intent was that the bills would lay quietly, no one knowing they were out until Monday, then Monday they would get first reading, Tuesday, second, and Wednesday they would become law without anyone ever having a chance to do anything about it.

I think it was a direct slap at the Committee. I think it was a slap at the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Quisenberry. I think it was a slap at me and at the House in general—at the House leadership. I do not know where they got the information. They said most of the gentlemen of the Press had left and that it was only by the very diligent work of some representative of theirs that this was found out.

Just to clear the record I would like to say that these two bills certainly had regular treatment. There was no intention of trying to keep anything from anyone, they were not sleepers. It was just a regular piece of business. We just do not play that way.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I regret as you regret, as we will regret the delay that has been incident to this session. I admit and concede the right of the majority party to initiate and enact a legislative program, including of course a tax program. I respect your convictions as I have a right to expect that you respect our convictions.

You had elected to contend upon a field on which there can be no compromise. As long as it is within your power to enact a tax program by and through the members of the majority party, it is your responsibility so to do.

Up to the present time it would have been impossible for a minority party to enact a tax program, and up to the present time it has been impossible for the majority party to enact a tax program. Unless the situation changes the time must ultimately come when there will be a meeting of minds making possible enactment of a tax program which will adequately finance the needs of our Commonwealth.

We propose on this side to stay here until the needs of our educational system are properly financed; until our welfare program is properly financed; until our health program and all the essential activities promoted by and through the Commonwealth are adequately financed.

I do not maintain that in the future any one tax that may be submitted to this House will have the unanimous support of the minority, or the unanimous support of the majority. But I do maintain that by canvassing the possibilities it will ultimately be possible to bring about a meeting of minds that will make it possible for this House to furnish a constitutional majority for a tax program.

I do not blame the majority leadership for clinging to the hope that ultimately it may need to enact the sales tax. That may be possible but nothing that the Governor of this Commonwealth can do, nothing that the Majority Leader can do, nothing that the Speaker of this House can do, will change one single vote for the sales tax program.

We have been committed to such a program definitely since 1945. We have campaigned up and down this state on the appeal that we would not write into the tax structure of this Commonwealth a sales tax until the people of Pennsylvania had been given the opportunity to turn either a red light or a green light on a graduated income tax.

We do not propose as a party to recede from that position, and neither do we propose to sit here day after day, purely as a group devoted to the philosophy of negation. And as, if and until the majority elects to contend upon some field where compromise is possible, the present situation must continue. I repeat the field upon which you have elected to contend is a field upon which there can be and upon which there will be no compromise.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous permission to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I might say at the outset that I appreciate the indulgence of the minority side while we on the majority side have been making a good faith attempt to pass a revenue program which will balance the Governor's budget so that we can have an early adjournment of this session. I realize that we have been working at this problem, I believe, it is now the fifth week. There were, of course, many parliamentary maneuvers that the minority could have thrown at us, shall I say, during this period when we have had illness on our side, and again I say I appreciate the indulgence of the other side while we have been trying to work out a program within our own family.

I realize there has been a delay in getting a revenue program on the calendar. We were at the outset delayed by the receipt of the so-called "Chesterman Report." We were delayed in the receipt of the Governor's "Tax Study Report." As soon as we received those two reports we on the majority side had quite a discussion of both the reports and the budget needs and the revenue problems.

I was surprised when the proposition came from our caucus, and it seemed to be spontaneous, wherein the Members on our side, the majority of them said: "Let us once and for all put a broad-base tax into the tax structure of Pennsylvania. Do a job and show the people of Pennsylvania that we on this side are able to give them a tax program which will for the next 25 years settle the financial affairs of this Commonwealth." Several of the Members said they felt that a sales tax was the only way that we can do it.

We were instructed to go ahead and introduce the program which was introduced in the House and, as I say, has been on this calendar.

I am not apologizing for the sales tax bill. I think it is a fair bill. I think it is a just bill. I think it is an equitable bill. It has given the man in the street in this Commonwealth finally once and for all an opportunity to share in the obligation of helping to support the many institutions of this Commonwealth.

The bill has been so amended and so drafted that the average person pays but very little under the bill. I have some figures to show that the average unskilled laboring man makes about $2100—that's a median salary. Skilled workers make a median of about $3200. By the time you deduct from their pay their shelter and their food, their respective medicines and the other things that are deducted in the bill, laundry and insurance premiums and all the various things that would not be taxed, the average unskilled laboring man would pay about $5 a year—I think it comes to $5.87 a year under the sales tax. And, of course, the person making more would pay a little bit more.

It seems to me that that is a slap on the wrist for the average person, which if they would pay that much, in the aggregate would go a long way toward helping to solve the financial problems of this Commonwealth.

I realize, and you all realize, too, that there is just a small group on our side that is looking at the problem a little differently and feel that perhaps it would not be the best thing for them in their districts to vote for this sales tax. Be that as it may, I repeat, I feel it is a good tax. I think it is a fair tax. It is a tax in most of the States—in fact some 28 or 31 States have adopted it, and I believe around 23 of them have been Democratic States. I think it is more a policy of Democratic State administration to adopt it than it is Republican. I believe there are about four Republican States that have a sales tax—somewhere in that neighborhood.

I am not going to say anything against the minority party because it is true it is up to the majority party to raise the revenue. It is our problem on the majority side. I think Mr. Andrews is going a long ways in saying to us that when we have finally exhausted our revenue raising propositions on this side he will be glad to sit down with us and try to compromise the matter.

I might say, too, that we have gone over the budget. I agree with Mr. Andrews, we must finance our schools; we must finance our hospitals, take care of our welfare institutions, amortize the $500 million dollars worth of bonds we have issued to pay the soldiers' bonus. Anybody that thinks that we can cut $150 million out of this budget and go home, does not realize that two and two make four. Of course, we could probably cut it ten percent; but we cannot cut ten percent from the 60,000 inmates in our state institutions and put them out on the street.

We have had a little taste of an austerity proposition here this week with the Senate not going along on the Welfare deficiency appropriation, and with the banks of this town offering to lend state workers money to tide them over because they have not been paid for the last month. If we cut that budget $150 million, that type of thing is just the beginning of what you will see here in the next two years.

Therefore, I say we need this money. We hoped to be able to adjourn the first of April, and a lot of the members would like to get out of here the 29th of May. But I think that that will be impossible until we have raised the revenue. We have the problem of not being able to be here during June on account of the hotel situation. But we are going to stay here, and we are going to try to solve this revenue problem.

Again I say I thank Mr. Andrews for coming forward with the suggestion that we try to get together. I know that the Members on the other side realize that there are hospitals in their counties, they have big school buildings and school programs in their communities that are democratic in their majority. They have to have money to run just as well as our Republican counties do. To finance these various institutions is just as much a problem of the minority as it is of the majority.

When the proper time comes, if it is necessary to have a compromise tax program, I certainly hope that we will be able to count on the Members on the other side to join with us in arranging the financial affairs of this Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLASKI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to clear the air a little bit on the statement made by Mr. Waterhouse, my distinguished colleague from the east side of Erie County.

As a matter of fact, the two House Bills in question about which he happens to be worried and I am concerned about them, too, were released last week in the dying moments of the session. And since I had noticed that fact, I had procured copies of the two bills on Wednesday morning and sent them to the two local papers with some few notations; very objective, however. I merely stated fact that the bills were reported in the dying moments of the session. I did not wish in any way to infer or to place any construction on those facts.

However, I wish to point out to the gentleman that, faced with facts, it is the privilege of the press and radio to place any construction upon those facts they see fit.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it certainly was not my idea to leave any thought in the minds of the Members of this House that the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Polaski, knew anything about it. In fact, I did not know that he did. I do not know how they arrived at the idea they did and I want to assure the gentleman that I am very sorry if he thought that I thought he was undercutting the House, because that was not my idea. I merely wanted to clear the situation in the mind of whomever did think it was skulduggery on our part, because it was a regularly called meeting of the Committee, the bill was reported out, and it certainly was not the fault of the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Quisenberry, or myself or this House that we adjourned Tuesday instead of Wednesday. Frankly, I wish we would have had a session Wednesday.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to congratulate Members on both sides of the House on the fact that up to this time there has been a lack of recriminations and allegations that would be possible under the circumstances.

We have, I doubt not, persons of violent temper on our side of the House, and there is a possibility—a remote possibility I admit—that there are persons of some temper on your side of the House. It would have been quite possible for you to have risen and reviled us upon the position we take. You could have said some harsh things.

On a showdown whether you could have said any meaner things about us than I could have possibly said about you is a matter of opinion. I would have regretted a rough and tumble tangle on this floor But, members of the House, I would not have retreated from it.

I thank you for your consideration. I compliment the Members on this side for their decorum and I hope we can continue to respect our respective positions and travel along in the sweet fellowship that has characterized us up to this moment.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. CLAPPER offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

Mr. CONNER offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

Mr. SCOTT offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Senate Bills for concurrence Nos. 68, 70, 219, 325, 468, 474 and 489.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. THOMAS asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, May 6, 1953, at 9:00 a.m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 5:46 p.m. EST) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1953. 140th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, 1953. No. 36.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 6, 1953

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. L. HERDMAN HARRIS, III, Rector of St. James Memorial Church, Titusville, offered the following prayer:

O God, the Fountain of Wisdom, Whose statutes are good and gracious and Whose law is truth, we beseech Thee to guide and bless the Senate of this Commonwealth, that it may ordain for our governance only such things as please Thee. Enable those of its different parties to see that they serve Thee best through their divisions, but grant that they may sit down together in the final action to prove that Thy will is being done. Where personal differences come into public view, grant that they may ultimately be overcome by the desire to give way to the decision of the majority and enable that majority, through Thy Holy Spirit, to be so inspired as to represent the hopes and aspirations of all members of this corporate body.

In all things, most gracious God, permit each of us to serve Thee before we serve ourselves, and ultimately bring to all men the blessing of Thy help and guidance which has been shown toward us in our deliberations, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HARE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. At this time, the Chair invites the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. HARE asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. KEPHART for today's Session, because of important personal business.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SNOWDEN, due to serious illness in the family.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. At this time, the Chair wishes to present to the Senate a group of students from the Osceola Mills Area Joint High School, of Clearfield County. The students comprise the Junior American History Class, and they are here under the direction of Violet M. Williams and Mrs. Elizabeth Redding.

Will the guests of Senator Letzler please rise in place and take a bow?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WOLFE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I would like to advise the Senate that this resolution is being reported from committee as the result of a unanimous vote of the committee. I would also like to say that this resolution is being reported from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics within twelve hours from the time it was referred to this committee.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WOLFE, from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Wade and Holland on May 5, 1953, reported the same without amendment as follows:

MEMORALIZING CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO CONTINUE POLICY OF PROVIDING MEDICAL AND HOSPITAL CARE FOR VETERANS

In the Senate, May 5, 1953.

Whereas, Hugh H. Hoke, Commander, Department of Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, brings to the attention of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania attacks in the Congress of the United States upon the government hospital and medical treatment program for veterans as well as payment of compensation, and

Whereas, These attacks were subjected to pointed and categorical criticism by James W. Cothran, Bishopville, South Carolina, Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, and

Whereas, the Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States declared that these attacks neglect to present all the facts and thus shamefully cast a shadow of suspicion upon the entire program for providing hospitalization, medical treatment and compensation for disabled veterans, and

Whereas, With the entire United States—yes, the entire United Nations—thrilled over the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners; with the American press, radio and television cooperating to promptly furnish the names of American boys returned from the hell of prison camps and anxious parents, wives and relatives prayerfully watching for the names of their loved ones, yet these attacks daily belabor the program of government care of American's veterans, and

Whereas, With the United States Senate conducting an exhaustive investigation to determine whether our fighting men have enough ammunition to defend themselves with the greatest margin of safety and other investigations solicitous of the welfare of our sons and brothers engaged in deadly combat in Korea it is ill-becoming to cast a shadow of suspicion over the care program for America's disabled veterans and to invite the support of crackpots and cranks who never lose an opportunity to attack the expenditure of money for the care of veterans, and

Whereas, In attacking the hospital and medical program for veterans, a few cases have been cited of well-to-do veterans who have received medical treatment in a Veterans Administration hospital for alleged non-service-connected disabilities, but those few cases are exceptions to the rule and that the great majority of veterans receiving medical treatment at government expense are either service-disabled or unable to pay even a small portion of today's high cost of hospitalization, and,

Whereas, The hospital records of the Veterans Administration as publicly reported by the V. A. Director of Medicine and Surgery indicates that ninety-five percent of all veteran patients in Veterans Administration hospitals are either service-disabled, tubercular, NP or chronic cases, requiring long periods of hospitalization for which they cannot afford to pay. It was further pointed out by the V. A. Medical Director that unless the Federal Government provides the care for those men who have served their country in time of war or national emergency, the states and counties will have to assume the burden or let them die on the streets, and

Whereas, The Veterans Administration, because of inadequate funds, according to their own public reports, has been forced to close down hundreds and hundreds of hospital beds, terminate related personnel and defer providing out-patients treatment to veterans who have service-connected disabilities and who have been approved for treatment. Even now hundreds of tubercular veterans and veterans suffering with mental conditions are walking the streets constituting a menace to their families, friends and the general public because they are unable to obtain hospitalization and medical treatment, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives Concur) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby memoralizes the Congress of the United States to continue this country's historical record and policy of providing medical and hospital care for every veteran suffering from service-connected disabilities, or if not so connected, such veterans are without personal funds for such medical and hospital care, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States; Speaker of the House of Representatives, Joseph W. Martin, Jr.; Senator Edward Martin, Senator James H. Duff, and each member of the Pennsylvania Congressional Delegation.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

Mr. KESSLER, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed House Bill No. 99, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 2 of the act, approved the twenty-second day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 912) entitled "An act providing for the payment of the costs incurred in the trial of convicts and prisoners escaping, or attempting to escape, from the several penitentiaries and reformatories of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by the respective counties from whose courts the said escaping convicts or prisoners have been committed; and providing for the maintenance of such convicts under sentence for escape, et cetera," by extending the provisions of such act to fix responsibility for the costs incurred in proceedings and appeals on habeas corpus, coran nobis and other writs arising out of escapes or crimes and trials therefor.

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany, do I understand that the deficiency appropriation bill that was just reported by the Committee on Appripriations applies to the ten State owned medical and surgical hospitals?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the second paragraph of the bill provides "For the payment of the deficiency in the appropriation for the payment of salaries, wages or other compensation of the superintendents and other employees, for the payment of general expenses, supplies and printing, for repairs,. for the purchase of equipment, furniture and furnishings, for the payment to fire companies of costs of fighting fires, upon approval of the institution and the department for expenses of the board of trustees and incidental expenses and for all other expenses of maintenance and operation necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the Ashland State Hospital at Ashland," and the other State owned hospitals.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany, that is not too clear to me. I would like to know specifically—if you do not know, I would like to make a request—what the $400,000 is for, how it is going to be allocated, how much to whom and for what?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the Senator voted on this very same appropriation last week in a House Bill. That part was not one that was eliminated by an amendment. The Senator voted for this last week, and I cannot understand why he is now raising any question about the same thing this week. As I understand it, this money is necessary for the payment of salaries and wages to the employees in these hospitals.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I wish to answer the Senator relative to my vote on the bill last week, by stating that the deficiency appropriation bill that we voted for last week was in the form of an omnibus bill. That is, there were a number of departments that were involved in it. Because one department, at least, merited a deficiency appropriation, you had to vote for all of them. I, myself, would prefer, and I am sure other Members of this Senate would prefer, to have appropriation bills brought in in individual bills and not lumped together in one bill, in order that we can consider each deficiency appropriation on its own merits.

Now that we have one of that type, Mr. President, I would like to know how much of this $400,000 is going to whom, for what. I will expect, if you do not have that information available now, that on Monday, the departments involved, or the department involved, or institutions involved, will prepare a statement to indicate how much of the $400,000 is being allocated to the different divisions which you enumerated and for what.

Mr. President, If it involves the ten State medical-surgical hospitals, I would also like to have produced here on Monday a statement of the write offs in those hospitals during the current biennium, together with the names and addresses of those who are involved in the write offs, so that we can look into them and find out whether or not there was included on the list persons with ability to pay.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I will try to get that information for the Senator, and perhaps it would be better, if he wanted more information than that, to talk directly to the Secretary of Welfare, Mr. Brown. If he wishes, perhaps I can contact Mr. Brown, or his Controller or anybody else whom the Senator wishes, to attend the Democratic Caucus and give him that information.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am always a little bit suspicious when somebody asks for a deficiency appropriation in round figures. This is exactly $400,000. I would like to know who computed those figures and exactly how and what would be applied, so that we know exactly what we are doing here.

Mr. President, I may as well serve notice on you now that when the appropriation bills come up here for the next biennium, I, for one, will expect, and will consume considerable time before this microphone in an effort to have all appropriation bills itemized as they were submitted to the Budget Bureau, so that whatever funds are asked for by departments, boards and commissions can be earmarked and applied only to those purposes for which the budget request is made.

As it is now, Mr. President, they submit an itemized statement and we make the appropriation; give it to them in a lump sum. They spend it as they please, and then they come in here close to the end of the biennium and request deficiency appropriations. Up to this point, I understand there is about $11,000,000 worth of them. Whether that is the end of the line or not, I do not know. It is about time we begin to do a little bit of checking here before we approve these appropriations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I somewhat hesitate to inject myself into this debate, but if I understood the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, correctly, he made a demand on our Majority Leader that he furnish certain information which is available to all Members of the General Assembly, either the House or the Senate, in the Auditor General's Department .Why one Member, who has assumed the leadership of the Majority side, would be required to get this information for another Member, is beyond my comprehension.

Mr. President, that information is public information, as to who paid bills or who was exonerated from paying bills in these ten State hospitals. That is public information, I repeat. The gentleman from Northampton has on various and sundry occasions quoted from reports in the Auditor General's Department. Why can he not get firsthand information there himself, rather than ask a man who is as busy as our Majority Leader to get it for him?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, in answer to Senator Wade, I disagree with him that the information which I am requesting is available in the Auditor General's Department. That information, so far as the write offs are concerned, and the names and addresses of those involved, should be available from the Department of Revenue because it is the Department of Revenue which has its Revenue Agents at these hospitals to approve these write offs. The only thing the Auditor General's Department does is go into the institutions and make the audits.

Mr. President, getting back to the request I made to the Majority Leader, I think the Majority Leader should be respected enough by any head of a department here to make a request and have that request complied with. As a matter of fact, the statement which I am requesting should be accompanied with the request for the deficiency appropriation. How anybody can go into the Appropriations Committee meeting and approve a $400,000,000 appropriation without supporting data is a mystery to me. I cannot understand it. I do not believe anyone in good business practice would approve anything along that line, as is being approved here today. I am making a request for that information.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, just so the record is corrected, the figure that Senator Yosko has stated that we approved of is a little bit exaggerated, like Mark Twain's death. The figure is $400,000 and not $400,000,000.

Mr. President, for Senator Yosko's information, I will be glad to supply him with whatever information I can, or that any department head can, on this particular item or any other item in the bill. If he and the other Senators are not satisfied with it, they may put in an amendment to knock this amount down or cut it out completely next Monday, when it appears on our calendar for second reading.

STUDENTS FROM NORTHEAST JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL, BETHLEHEM, PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair at this time wishes to present to the Senate a group of students from the ninth grade of the Northeast Junior High School, Bethlehem, Northampton County, who are the guests of Senator Yosko. They are here under the direction of Mr. John Saurina.

Will Senator Yosko's guests please rise in place and take a bow?

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, May 6, 1953

The House met at 9:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our Heavenly Father, Almighty and Everlasting God who hast brought us to the beginning of this day; Defend us in the same with Thy mighty power; and grant that this day we fall into no sin neither run into any kind of danger; but that all our doings may be ordered by Thy governance, to do always that which is righteous in Thy sight; through Jesus Christ Our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, May 5, 1953?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, May 5, be postponed until the Journal is in print.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. CONNER and ZEITZ. RESOLUTION No. 55.

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1953.

Whereas, The House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is entrusted with the obligation of providing the ways and means to permit the collection of necessary operating revenues; and

Whereas, It is the responsibility of this body to prevent excessive tariffs and protect the interest and equity of the citizens in this great State; and

Whereas, There is at this time in the Senate of the United States a bill commonly termed, "Tideland Oil," an act designed to allocate certain coastal States valuable submerged properties now under the preservation and protection of the United States; and

Whereas, The passage of this bill in its present form would perpetrate an injustice against the citizens of this State and deprive them of their rights granted by the Constitution and reassured by the Sepreme Court; and

Whereas, These lands belong to the citizens, the States, and the Republic; it is, therefore, mandatory that revenues collected therefrom should be distributed in equal proportions; and

Whereas, The educational needs of this Commonwealth exceed existing budget allocations; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of this body be directed to notify the United States' Senators, representing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that it is the feeling of this House that off shore lands should remain the property of all the people and that revenues collected therefrom should be disbursed to the States for educational purposes on a pro rata population basis as determined by the 1950 census; and be it further

Resolved, That should the present bill be enacted into law on an unequal basis, that is, the granting to one or more States rights, privileges or concessions not granted to each of the other States, then the Attorney General of Pennsylvania be and is directed to take legal recourse by instituting the necessary judicial procedures to test its constitutionality on behalf of the people of this great Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Attorney General of this State.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. SCOTT. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 56.

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1953.

Increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability; and

The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our own smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous price-cutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment; and

Our National obligations have heached such extreme proportions, that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedented high level, or close thereto, lest we become insolvent; and

Pressure that comes from imports of residual fuel oil, having risen from an average of fifty million barrels in the 1946-48 period to more than one hundred twenty-five million in 1952, or the equivalent of thirty-one million tons of coal; from imports of pottery, watches and parts, glassware, lace, carpets and other textiles, hats and millinery, chemicals, scientific apparatus, cutlery, dairy products, wall paper, luggage and leather goods, and many other articles, will render the upholding of the ecenomy at its high levels most uncertain and difficult unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom thus contained; and

A maximum of such trade results from a prosperous domestic economy from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standards of our workmen and the stability of our economy by unfair import competition and that existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice-President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. CLAPPER. RESOLUTION No. 57.

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1953.

Whereas The courses of study and methods of instruction followed and used in the schools for the deaf are regarded as an antiquated process and not in keeping with the advanced forms adopted by other States as far back as 1910 therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a careful thorough and impartial study and examination of the various methods of instruction used in teaching the deaf and be it further

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the Governor and the General Assembly at the next regular session of the General Assembly as to such changes revisions or improvements as it may find to be necessary or desirable to correct any imperfections insufficiencies and defects in the methods of instruction followed in the teaching of the deaf of this Commonwealth

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 112.

An Act to further amend Section 1 of the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 34) entitled "An act to promote the health and efficiency of firemen in cities of the second class by providing for a two-platoon system for firemen in the department of public safety of such cities" by further regulating the hours of duty of firemen in cities of the second class

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 4, lines 1 and 2 by striking out on line after the word "effective" the word "thirty" and on line 2 the words "days after final enactment" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-four."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Senate together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 885.

An Act to further amend Section 171 of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" by authorizing in certain cases appointment of registered surveyors not resident in the county to boards of viewers in counties of the eighth class

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. HELM from the Committee on Rules reported as committed a Senate Resolution relative to the inactivation of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

SENATE MESSAGE

INACTIVATION OF INDIANTOWN GAP MILITARY RESERVATION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 4, 1953.

Whereas, Congress proposes to inactivate the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, and

Whereas, This reservation is the only military installation in Pennsylvania used for training very large groups of soildiers; and

Whereas, Subsequent to the cessation of hostilities after World War II, Indiantown Gap Military Reservation was inactivated and was activated again about February 1, 1951 at a great cost to the Federal Government; and

Whereas, The reservation is ideally located from the standpoint of obtaining supplies, civilian employes, housing for officers and enlisted men, transportation and recreation; and

Whereas, The inactivation of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation will have a great adverse effect on the economy of the communities within a radius of thirty miles of the reservation; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to reconsider the inactivation of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I certainly did not propose to stand before this microphone this morning, but as the Clerk was reading that resolution the thought occurred to me—how inconsistent can we become in this House and Senate?

I have heard the word "economy" used here more this year than I ever have, I think, since I have been here. Here is one place that the Federal government is trying to economize, and who are we that we should tell them not to do it?

I do not know how anyone else feels in this House, but so far as I am concerned I am voting against the resolution.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a prophet has been born in Israel. For the first time in this Session I have heard what should be the Democratic position; what should be the Republican position concerning resolutions of this kind.

It had not been my thought as a member of the minority party to oppose this resolution, although I am so thoroughly in agreement with what the gentleman from York has said that perhaps I would have been remiss had I not risen in my place to say what he has said.

We are all for economy in Indiana, in Ohio, in Oklahoma and California. And we are all for the program and policies of the Eisenhower administration and the wonderful crew of businessmen he has rallied to his support, if they do not step on any of our local toes.

I agree with the gentleman from York that it is sheer effrontery for the gentlemen in the Senate or the Members of this House to express official disagreement with the mature plans the military may have made for the training of the enlisted personnel comprising our armed forces.

We have just as much right to memorialize the Congress that if they are sending anybody to Korea, the military shall be forbidden to send anyone from Pennsylvania, as we have to tell Congress that those in charge of our military program, those who are supposed to minimize expenses in the foreign field, shall not, because of a minor local inconvenience, and because we might show a loss of face because we cannot perpetuate a military situation that the military authorities have said is no longer useful.

Since the question has been raised, Mr. Speaker, in my opinion this is a measure that should be passed upon by the entire membership of this House. It is not a measure, since the issue has been raised, upon which I desire that the minority Members be recorded as a whole. And since the issue has been raised, it is my thought that there should be a roll call that will record the sentiment of this House upon this question. We shall not consent to a voice vote or to a vote that records every Member of this House in favor of this resolution.

COMMUNICATION LAID ON TABLE

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Senate be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PEIFLY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, May 11, 1953 at 3:30 p.m. E.S.T.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:24 a.m. E.S.T.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1953. 140th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 11, 1953. No. 37.

SENATE

MONDAY, May 11, 1953.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock p, m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. L. HERDMAN HARRIS, III, Rector of St. James Memorial Church, Titusville, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God, the Father of our Lord, Jesus Christ, our only Saviour, the Prince of Peace, give us grace seriously to lay to heart the great dangers we are in by our unhappy divisions. Enable us to see that we may contribute to the advancement of Thy kingdom only in so far as we represent Thy opinions and thoughts.

Take away all hatred and prejudice and whatsoever else may hinder us from Godly union and concord, that, as there is but one body and one spirit, one hope of our calling, one Lord, one faith, one God and Father of us all, we may be all of one heart and one soul, united in one Holy bond of truth and peace, of faith and charity, and may with one mind and one mouth glorify Thee, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HARE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. HARE asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. KOPRIVER, JR., because of important personal business.

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. McCREESH, who is in Philadelphia receiving an award from an organization for the blind.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, these are two bills designed to provide expenses for animal shelter in localities. All of us these days are asked to contribute funds to a great many worthy causes. This is one way to help a worthy cause without costing any of us anything directly.

Mr. President, the purpose of these bills is to allow each county to retain one-quarter of the moneys collected by the county treasurers in the sale of dog licenses, and the other is to authorize county commissioners to appropriate from those funds retained in the general county funds all or a part of that to nonprofit organizations, within each county, which have as their purpose the care and shelter of animals, particularly dogs.

Mr. President, in each county there are humane societies, and animal rescue leagues, and societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals and that sort of organition, which are all very worth-while organizations, in my opinion. I think any of us who, on a cold wintry night, have seen a cold, shivering, hungry little dog will certainly feel sympathetic to the purpose of these bills.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. McMENAMIN, WATKINS, BARR and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 568, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

At this time, the Chair invites the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Letzler, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (A. H. Letzler) in the Chair.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, the bill which I am about to report from committee is one of the bills dealing with the changes in the adoption law. The committee has been working on it since the public hearing, and these are the amendments which have been suggested by the committee at this time.

I would like to say, Mr. President, for the information of the Members of the Senate, that it is the recommendation of the committee that after the bill is printed as amended it remain on the Second Reading Calendar for a couple of weeks, until the Members of the Senate have had an opportunity of checking the bill and checking the amendments to see whether or not the committee has met all of the objections which were voiced at the public hearing.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as amended Senate Bill No. 480, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 127), entitled "An act relating to adoption," by defining certain terms; imposing powers and duties on the Department of Welfare, requiring reports concerning receiving children for adoption, and investigation thereof, changing contents of petition for adoption, providing procedure for the voluntary relinquishment of, and for the finding of abandonment of, certain children; eliminating certain consents to adoption; and further providing for hearings and investigatory powers of the court.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, no one can deny that the unsolved financial situation of our Commonwealth has already extended the length of this Legislative Session, nor that it is by far the most important problem facing us in our deliberations.

For several bienniums, Mr. President, we have been generous in our dealings with the Commonwealth's political subdivisions. Some believe, and are quite outspoken in this belief, that we have been generous beyond proper prudence. As for myself, I have favored and voted for better educational facilities, good hospitals and other welfare services, clean streams and a soldiers' bonus. However, I have ofttimes criticized the large expenditures for these programs without the proper current revenues or income program paralleling the expenditures

Mr. President, an article appearing in the May 9, 1953, last Saturday, issue of The Philadelphia Inquirer, page 20, written by Mr. Leonard J. McAdams, Inquirer Financial Writer, has come to my attention. This writer reported a meeting of the New Jersey Bankers' Association on May 8, last Friday, which was addressed, among others, by Governor Driscoll of New Jersey, and quoted him under the subheading "Driscoll Praises Bankers" as saying:

"The bankers were praised by Governor Alfred E. Driscoll for their help on State financial problems, 'illustrative of the contributions that public-spirited citizens make to the cause of good government.'

"During the past six and one-half years," the governor said, "we imposed neither an income tax nor a general sales tax. The unemployment tax was adjusted downward and we completely abolished the State tax on real estate. To offset this loss in revenue, we imposed a modest tax on cigarettes. New Jersey taxpayers enjoy the smallest per capita State tax collection of any State in the Nation.

"It is a poor government that can only meet the demands of its adherents by overwhelming indebtedness year after year. We have balanced our budget in New Jersey and we have lived within our income."

Now, gentlemen, to accept this short statement by the distinguished Chief Executive of our neighboring State of New Jersey, without further explanation or detail, could be quite disturbing to all, Republicans and Democrats alike, and might lend solace to any who make their own quick and ofttimes prejudiced analysis of our Commonwealth's General Fund Budget, especially if they are looking for an escape from voting for taxes. Of course, Governor Driscoll did not specifically mention Pennsylvania. His, rather, was a general indictiment of governments which he says only meet the demands of its adherence by overwhelming indebtedness year after year.

I should not say "ofttimes prejudiced," Mr. President, without going into a little more detail. It is easy, extremely easy indeed, for members of any minority to vote for all popular expenidtures, then vote against unpopular revenue raisers, alleging that income from present tax measures are underestimated, even though biennium after biennium rolls around with proof that they were estimated about as closely as humanly possible for anyone to predict thirty months ahead.

I am alarmed, Mr. President, as you are, at the present cost of government, at its accelerated increase over the last decade, but I am more alarmed about the increased percentage of National income that all governments, National, State and local, are taking from the American taxpayer whether he be an individual, corporation, unincorporated business or other, and whether it is in direct or hidden taxes. Reliable sources maintain that we have been taking about 30% of the National income and at the same time going in debt. Yes, the last decade has shown tremendous debt increases on the National level, $35,000,000 every time the sun went down for twenty years. I repeat, every twenty-four hours.

Now, let us get back to the statement, or boast, Mr. President, of Governor Driscoll as to New Jersey, and make some comparisons of our own Commonwealth.

New Jersey State has a lower per capita state tax collection than Pennsylvania. This is shown in the recent report of the Pennsylvania Tax Study Committee to be $33.73 compared with $50.87 in Pennsylvania. I repeat State tax collection. However, it should be said that in Pennsylvania the State supports functions of government to a much greater extent than does the State of New Jersey, or, putting it another way, New Jersey shoulders upon local government the financial responsibilities of carrying on government functions to a much greater extent than does Pennsylvania.

Public Assistance is a good illustration, Mr. President. Pennsylvania carries the whole load. In New Jersey, local governments are chiefly responsible. Of course, in both States the Federal government contributes a portion. In Pennsylvania, in 1951-1952, the State paid 42% of the total current cost of the public schools. New Jersey paid only 17%, less than one-third as much. When State and local tax collections are taken together, we find, as shown in the Tax Report, that Pennsylvania has a lower per capita than New Jersey. Pennsylvania in 1951 had a per capita of $99.55 as compared with $118.21 in New Jersey.

The Pennsylvania Tax Study Report shows that of the fifteen States compared, California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin, the per capita cost of State Government in Pennsylvania was third from the bottom, and in total State and local taxes the Pennsylvania per capita was fourth from the bottom; Virginia, West Virginia, and North Carolina only having lower per capitas.

Mr. President, the Pennsylvania Tax Study Report refers to a study made by the Michigan Tax Study Committee. An analysis by the Michigan Committee compared total taxes with population and income payments recently in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin. The study concluded that, both on a per capita and an income basis, total taxes, including liquor store profits, were lower in Pennsylvania than in any other of the several States compared.

Pennsylvania has never imposed an income tax, Mr. President. True, we had a sales tax, but it was limited by law to only six months. The unemployment tax was adjusted in 1943 by establishing the merit rating system, saving employers about $150,000,000 in the 1943-1945 biennium. The State real estate tax was abolished in Pennsylvania back in the last century.

As Governor Fine said, addressing the Tax Institute here recently, last Thursday to be exact, "Pennsylvania is not the only State that has tax problems. All the States have them. State costs went up rapidly during the inflationary period following the war along with all other costs. In 1945, the States spent $3.7 billion. In 1951, a total of $10.020 billion was spent. This is an increase of 170%.

The Pennsylvania Tax Study Report shows that the increase in Pennsylvania was 94%, as compared with the increase in California of 247%; New York 128%; Maryland 323%; Michigan 223%; and North Carolina 354%.

Now, Mr. President, with your indulgence, I should like to talk about ourselves very briefly, our very own family. If there is any one trait that runs through the entire group of so-called politicians, regardless of party affiliation, regardless of what district or section they represent, it is their love for a good clean contest, a good clean competitive sport, whether it is a football game, a hockey contest, baseball, boxing or wrestling match, a horse race or what have you. It holds a genuine interest for all Members of our Legislative body, so long as it is clean, competitive and wholesome.

Now, admitting that is true, let us apply it to our present situation, Mr. President. We have a red-blooded Pennsylvanian over in the front office, human like the rest of us, never claimed by anyone to be superhuman, who was proudly inaugurated as our Chief Executive a little over two years ago. Hardly had he occupied the office than fate dealt him a crushing blow. Then, when he needed a friend, those of his Party who had cheered the loudest seemed to expect the superhuman. Individually, I had been a candidate on the opposing side in the primary. I did not vote for or support him then, but I did support him in the fall election. Many of you, my fellow Republican colleagues, undoubtedly helped him in both primary and general elections, which was your privilege. To my Democratic colleagues, you are somewhat in a similar position as I was in the primaries, but now, May 11, how about fair play? It is your Pennsylvania, the same as it is Governor Fine's.

Answer this, please, to yourself. Did you vote on the Senate floor and/or in the booth for the soldiers' bonus, and tell the boys who were fresh back home from protecting you and me, and our way of life which we love and talk about so much? I am prepared to tell you just how much of that bonus went to the boys and girls in your district, and how much is due to meet the debt this biennium. The over-all total is $58,110,000.

Did you advocate during campaigns or vote in the Senate for better salaries for teachers, better school buildings, generally a better educational system, for those kids at home that you talk about helping when campaigning?

Did you ever complain about hospital facilities, either State or local, when constituents appeals to you to help them gain admission to an already filled State institution or local hospital? Of course, you know a generous amount of their maintenance comes from the State level.

Regardless of which political party you adhere, have you tried to appease every whim of your constituency when they approached you for these valued State services which we enjoy in Pennsylvania? If you did, in doing so you recognized that State appropriations were necessary to furnish them.

Mr. President, here we are now face to face with this situation. Former Sessions imposed upon this Session obligations because of previous grants which local subdivisions have an inherent right to expect will continue. As to these obligations, we can excuse only those members serving their first Session.

Recently, the Legislature established a precedent, Mr. President, perhaps not a good one, of mandating teacher salary increments and assuming a portion of the local requirements for school buildings, returning certain funds for police protection, returning certain other funds for police and firemen's pensions, making cash payments to local hospitals for free services, caring for the aged, the blind, the dependent children, and those on relief, to mention just a few of the obligations.

Two alternatives, therefore, face us, Mr. President. First, we are going to meet our obligations as previously agreed upon, or we are going to cause complete disruption of local governments, and tremendously increase their financial burdens. In addition, our failure to meet these obligations will seriously disrupt State services to the people. This combination will bring down a torrent of criticism, the like of which we have never experienced. This criticism will fall on all heads, Republican and Democrat alike. The only classification necessary is that you are a Member of this present Assembly, either the House or the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, last week I was detained at home for some very urgent business. While I was away, a statement was issued to the press calling to the attention of the citizens of Pennsylvania the so-called dereliction of the Democratic Minority in the General Assembly.

Mr. President, I do not know whether it was intuition or what prompted me to do so, but Wednesday morning I dictated to my girl a statement which I intended for release today. It so happens that the statement fits in very nicely with the events as they have occurred.

The Democratic Party, Mr. President, as represented in the General Assembly by the eighteen Democratic Senators and the ninety-eight House Members, is not unmindful of its duties or its obligations to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. However, in keeping in mind the present day needs and requirements, they are also very apprehensive about the future and what it brings to Pennsylvania if an unlimited, illogical tax program is foisted upon the people during this Session of the Legislature.

Mr. President, your Democratic Minority in the House and Senate has studied the requirements, as well as the possible means of meeting these requirements for the present, without placing too great a burden upon any segment of our population, whether it be business, agriculture or upon our industrial activities in the Commonwealth.

We believe Mr. President, that before a tax, such as a sales tax, is put upon the statute books with all of its hidden pools of danger left unprotected, there should be a Constitutional Convention called. During this convention, deliberation on a broad range of taxes could be discussed and if, in the wisdom of the delegates assembled, a particular tax or taxes are found to be advisable and necessary, then that Constitutional Convention can place a ceiling upon the amount of taxes that can be charged in any Session of the Legislature. Then, any future increase in the percentages of taxation under any broad base plan would have to pass a referendum of the people of this Commonwealth. We will not be intimidated or bullied into passing any legislation that will create taxation without limitation.

After much study and deliberation, Mr. President, we find that because of deliberate contradictions of all of the counsel and advice offered by the Minority Party in the past sixteen years, relating to the fiscal problems of this State, we find ourselves in such a mess that in order to meet the Duff mandated mortgage payments on the government of Pennsylvania, we must do two things. First, we must, to the best of our ability, put expenditures through the wringers and squeeze in every economy that can be put into effect on such short notice without damaging needed services to the people of the Commonwealth. Second, we must take into consideration relative ability to pay. We must also recognize that the present financial emergency has been inherited from the Duff administration.

Mr. President, the Republican Party, with its majority in the House and Senate, failed in the first biennium of Governor Fine's administration to pass the needed required revenues to maintain the payments on the Duff mortgage, and to date in this Session of the General Assembly it has failed utterly and miserably to provide a comprehensive, sound or even haphazard or unsound program that would bring an end to the financial dilemma into which the Commonwealth has been thrust.

Mr. President, the records clearly show that during the Duff administration, the Democratic Minority demanded that revenues be provided for the payment of the soldiers' bonus and the mandated teachers' subsidy increases.

There is no secret formula, Mr. President, that can solve the State's problems. The State government is big business. Rightly or wrongly, the State's business is in hock. The responsibility for this financial distress must be placed squarely where it belongs, upon the shoulders of the Republican leadership. However, having recognized these facts, it comes the duty of all of the Members of the General Assembly to work towards meeting the interest payments, as well as paying upon the principal of the Duff mortgage.

Up until this moment, Mr. President, the Democratic Minority has not participated in any discussions designed to solve the State's fiscal problems, because the Republican Majority first took the position that any tax program must be a Republican program. Having failed in this, they now seek to place the blame for their failure upon the shoulders of the Democratic Minority. We are fully aware of the needs and are more than willing to make our contributions toward an early solution of the problem.

In doing so, however, we will not as a party desert our historical position, Mr. President, of placing the greater cost of government upon those best able to pay and of rendering service that will give the greatest good to the greatest number.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we are again faced with the situation that we headed up just about two years ago. During that time, there was a great deal of talk. It was in again, out again, off again, back again. We ended up by staying in Session a full year. At the end of that time, we still had to go into a haphazard tax program, a patchwork job. I am very fearful that we are heading in the same position.

The reason for this, Mr. President, is because someone takes the position that this is the only type of a program that we can advance. That is not true. There are 258 Members of this General Assembly. They do not all have to be for one particular type of a program. With the fine men which they have in the House, why has there not been more than one set of tax legislative programs put forth so that a choice could be made, so that a selection would be had. You cannot blame the Democratic Minority in the House or in the Senate for your failure to mass sufficient votes to pass a sales tax, because that is the only program which you have advanced up to date.

Mr. President, the worthy gentleman who just spoke, I think, pointed up some very fine points in his talk before the Members of the Senate. I noted here, as he was going through his talk, one point in particular, where he said, and I would like to quote from it. He said: "Republicans and Democrats alike, to any who make their own quick and ofttimes prejudiced analysis of our Commonwealth's General Fund Budget, especially if they are looking for an escape from voting for taxes."

Mr. President, I have asked one of the members on my side, not having the time myself, to go back into the record books and to bring to the Senate floor this afternoon a record of how we have voted on tax legislation, in order to show to the Members of the Senate that the Minority has not voted against all tax measures and for all appropriations. We have taken the sound position that when a tax was sound, we voted for it. When appropriations were sound, we voted for them, too, but, Mr. President, we cannot be put into a wholesale category of voting for all appropriations and against all taxes. It simply is not true. The records prove that it is not true.

Mr. President, he further said, and I quote: "I should not say 'ofttimes prejudiced' without going into a little more detail. It is easy, extremely easy indeed, for members of any minority to vote for all popular expenditures, then vote against unpopular revenue raisers, alleging that income from present tax measures are underestimated, even though biennium after biennium rolls around with proof that they were estimated as closely as humanly possible."

Mr. President, in 1947 I took the floor and said that the budget was a false vehicle. I said that the expenditures were being overestimated and the revenues underestimated. In 1949 I took the same position and what happened, Mr. President? The outgoing Governor of the Commonwealth said that there would be a surplus of sixty-eight millions of dollars, and no person in this room can tell me what the surplus is in Pennsylvania because, under the bookkeeping setup which we have in this Commonwealth, nobody knows how much money is left in the till at the end of any biennium. The expenditures overlap, the drafts overlap. No person makes any accounting. We give blanket and blank appropriations to the departments. They are not accountable to the General Assembly; they come in and ask for $3,300,000 and they break it down something like this, Mr. President. Here is a department asking for $411,000, and they go on to say:

"Grade 23 Director, $8,100; for the biennium $16,000. Board Members, $11,000 for two and $12,000 for another is $68,000 for the biennium."

Mr. President, all I have to say is this. If you will take this and you will look at it, you will find that all of this shows a grand total of $411,950, and everyone of the items is nothing but a payroll expenses. There is nothing in here whatsoever for overhead, there is nothing in here whatsoever for stamps, for transportation or for any of the other incidental expenses that go into the running of a department. That is all we are given as Members of this Senate to vote upon when we have an appropriation asked for from any department. This is just one of the instances. You do not know and you cannot know how much money these departments spend or for what they spend it. No person in this room knows, because when we ask for any details this is all that we can get.

Mr. President, I repeat now, as I have time and time again upon the Senate floor, that we overestimate our needs and underestimate our revenue. It has been the trick which has peen used for the eighteen or nineteen year sthat I have been here. That is exactly what we are up aginst today. It is one of the basic reasons for us finding ourselves in this dilemma. You cannot expect this group of members of the Democratic Party to vote for a broad base or any other type of a State-wide tax without first placing upon that tax a constitutional limitation.

Oh, yes, Mr. President, you talk about a one per cent income tax without any limitation or any restriction on a future General Assembly. If we have had the courage in the past to pass on to the future Legislature a mandated mortgage, which we are now facing the difficulty of meeting the payments on the principal and the interest, then is there any reason why we would not just, by the same method, give them a carte blanche of an income tax or sales tax which they could just keep raising gradually and gradually until the time that it became a burden that could not be carried by the people of this Commonwealth?

So, Mr. President, I, speaking for the Democratic Minority, believe that the only way in which we can put Pennsylvania back on a sound fiscal basis is to hold a Constitutional Convention to separate those particular bills which belong to the local communities and those which belong to the Commonwealth, in order to establish the fields of taxation and the fields of activity for both local and State government. By so doing, we will know our responsibilities when we come to Harrisburg, and local authorities will know their responsibilities.

You sit here and you, just as Senator George Wade did during his talk, decry the fact that we spend a great deal of money in Harrisburg, and give it back to the local communities and assume a great many of their responsibilities. Yet, you sat right in this Senate, last week when I was not here, and you voted to send back to the city of Pittsburgh a mandated increase in their budget totaling hundreds of thousands of dollars and not one man had the courage on the other side to stand up and say, "This is improper, it is wrong." How can Pittsburgh meet its budget if we, in the Legislature, mandate the increases? You did not tell them where to get the money, you did not make any provisions, but if you keep on mandating expenses, if you keep mandating the salaries of local employees, if you keep doing that, then sooner or later you are going to take over the responsibility, because if you call the tunes you are going to pay the fiddler. That is as true as we are in this room.

Mr. President, we are not going to stand idly by and be condemned by the people of Pennsylvania because someone said that we are ducking our responsibility, that we are not cooperative. What do you mean "cooperation"? There is a great difference; there is a great, great difference between cooperation and capitulation, Mr. President. We will cooperate, but we will not just take a blank tax and say, "Either you take this or you take nothing." Then, because we will not take it, because we believe it to be unsound and we believe it would pe the wrong thing to do for the future of Pennsylvania, we are not going to stand by and be condemned for it. We are trying to use the best that we have in us for the good of the people of this Commonwealth.

Further, Mr. President, I think that it was a very interesting speech which the gentleman had thrown together for us this afternoon.

One of the things I like particularly, Mr. President, is when he went on to say that public assisstance is a good illustration. If the gentleman will remember, in 1945 I appealed to the Senate of Pennsylvania to take the Department of Public Assistance, take the categorical reliefs and put them back into the Department of Welfare where they belong, and make public assistance to those who were out of work, through no fault of their own, employable persons, make the responsibility of administration of that phase of relief the responsibility of local government.

At that time, Mr. President, I pointed out that we were spending something around $30,000,000 a biennium for administration of public assistance. Mr. President, that has not been cut down very much, It seems that no matter what we do, if the employment rolls go down and public assisatance costs go up, the average administrative cost stays pretty true around ten per cent. It seems that somebody has established that so long as they do not spend over ten per cent on a biennial pasis, they are in all right with the Appropriations Committee.

Now, Mr. President, all of us know that it should not take that amount of money to administer public assistance in Pennsylvania, especially during the wars years, because the greatest majority of the number of those who were on public assistance during these years were those who are in the catergoical groups that cannot get off of public assistance because, more or less, Mr. President, they are permanently on those rolls. They are the blind, they are the aid to crippled children, the mothers assistance and so forth. The employable persons were at a minimum during these years. However, you still kept the department, and mainly because it affords a nice billet for political patronage. That is all it is; every one of us knows it. If yop keep it, I assure you that sooner or later you are going to find it a millstone around your neck.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Cunmberland, Senator Wade, said that we pay forty-two per cent of the total current cost of public schools. That is very true, Mr. President, but this General Assembly could have taken care of that, because when the Duff bills were up, this side of the Senate was on its feet and asked that the necessary tax legislation be passed to pay that bill. We said it was unfair to pass the bonus bill and ask another General Assembly to pay for it. We said it was unfair to pass a mandated school subsidy, the increased subsidies, without putting in the legislation to provide the revenue, but would have been an unpopular political thing to do with an election coming up and Governor Duff seeking the United States Senatorship. He went into the cheapest of all political tricks, spend the money and let somebody else pay for it in the future.

That is exactly what has happened to us. We are now in this political dilemma, and this financial crisis in Pennsylvania, because of the fact, Mr. President, that we have to pay the interest and the principal on the Duff mortgage that he left on the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. You have to have eighty-one millions of new dollars this year for school purposes alone. They were mandated by Senator Duff, and not by Governor Fine.

Mr. President. this is an interesting booklet here. He said that we have passed the unemployment tax which was adjusted in 1943, and that we saved industry $150,000,000. Which industries did we save $150,000,000? We saved the favorite industries in Pennsylvania. We did not save the whole gamut of industry in Pennsylvania, Mr. President, because the only fair way to save all of industry any appreciable amount of money in the unemployment compensation was pointed out right on the floor of the Senate by the Minority.

Mr. President, there has to be a floor and a ceiling placed on the unemployment compensation fund, and when you reached the ceiling there was a reduction for all the employers of the Commonwealth, not those who have static employment by the nature of the industry that they are in, but those who added a great deal to Pennsylvania's wealth by taking seasonable occupations, seasonable industries in this Commonwealth, and employing persons during the busy seasons and, of necessity, must lay them off.

That particular kind of industry has been driven from Pennsylvania during the last years of the merit rating, Mr. President, We have stable industries, yes. However, remember these fringe industries also create a great deal of employment and wealth to this great Commonwealth.

Mr. President, you will never have a sound unemployment compensation policy in Pennsylvania until you get to the point where you have a common fund paid into by all and paid out to all. Under those conditions, Mr. President, all industry is treated alike and not the favorite few.

Mr. President, he also quoted that Maryland has increased 323 per cent; Michigan has increased 223; North Carolina, 350; California, 247; and Pennsylvania, 94 per cent. Does the gentleman realize that that is an indictment of the State of Pennsylvania and not a credit? These States have enjoyed the greatest amount of expansion since 1945 than they ever hoped to achieve in their history before, and that is the reason for the increases, Mr. President. Pennsylvania has not enjoyed that type of an increase since 1945. I am talking about increases in activity.

Now, of course, I come to the point that appeals to me, Mr. President. He said something about "a red-blooded Pennsylvanian over in the front office." That is very nice. He is "human like the rest of us"; we agree on that, too. He said he was "proudly inaugurated," and I think anyone can be proud to be inaugurated. Mr. President, I think the gentleman is going a little far afield when he looks over to the Democrats and says to us, "Don't you think it is time we play fair?"

Mr. President, if you sit in a game, a game that most of the men know something about, say, poker, and they start to play a wild game like they do in politics, and somebody decides in the game that he happens to have five aces and, being that he is host for the evening, he determines that five aces beats a straight flush. Then, a few hands later, when he gets the flush and you have the five aces, he says that a flush beats the five aces. That is what we are in now. Senator Wade wants the minority to carry the ball for the Majority, and yet it was the Majority that promised the people of Pennsylvania that there would be no new taxes. It was the Majority who promised the people of Pennsylvania that in order to get out of the financial dilemma we are in, we would have a Constitutional Convention. Both promises have been broken during this Session of the Legislature.

We cannot help you keep your pledges, Mr. President. We can only say to you that we are willing to do that which is best for Pennsylvania, but not that which is best for the Republican Party. Will you people forget that you are Republicans long enough to treat us as citizens? We will then, in turn, forget that we are Democrats long enough to treat you as citizens. You cannot stand over here and want the credit for that which is good and place the blame for that which is bad upon the Democratic Party. The Democratic Party wants to do everything it can to have an early adjournment of the General Assembly. However, as I said before, Mr. President, you cannot just say to us, "This is fish soup, and if you do not like fish soup, you get nothing to eat at all."

Mr. President, we do not like a sales tax. We will not vote for it because it has no limit. It is not a tax that can be stopped or controlled. If you have any kind of a tax from now on, any tax on a broad base, it must have within its original contents a limitation that can only be changed by a referendum to the people of Pennsylvania. Then you will have sound legislation upon the books.

I do not want to go back to it, Mr. President, but 99.66 per cent of our trouble at this time is caused by the passage of Act No. 481, which allowed all of the municipalities in Pennsylvania to jump into the preserves of taxation that up until Governor Duff were always kept for State purposes, knowing that the State was being called upon to pay more and more and more of the local tax problem, more of the local cost of government. It was sound, Senator Wade, it is absolutely sound, and I will tell you why it is sound. It is sound, Senator Wade, because we had a great industry in Pennsylvania.

That industry, Mr. President, if it has not died completely, is certainly on a withering vine. I am talking about the coal industry, the antharcite, particularly, and the bituminous is close on its heels. I am talking about these great communities which were built up during he heyday of this great activity of the mining industry of Pennsylvania. They found themselves in a dilemma; they found themselves where they could not maintain their schools. They could not maintain their local governments to the nature and to the tune that they were accustomed to up until that moment. Therefore, the State had to step in and, under the law, when they stepped into those communities, they had to step into all the communities of the Commonwealth.

Finding that to be true, Mr. President, the State has more and more and more interested itself in the local problem and, therefore, has been taking the money from the local communities into Harrisburg and then doling it out according to the needs in the local communities. There is nothing unsound about that. If a father has ten children and two are sick, he has to take care of the sick. He must take care of the sick if he has to do it at the expense of the well. That is exactly what we are doing in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. All of the counties are part of the family and we, as the parent, must take care of them.

Mr. President, I want to say, in closing, that we are not against cooperation. We are against, Mr. President, capitulation. We are not against taxation; we are against taxation without limitation.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I have listened with interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, and with many of them I must agree. In the first place, his statements regarding economies in government, I think certainly that this side of the Senate has demonstrated time and again that they stand for every sound economy that can be practiced in our government.

Mr. President, this gives me the opportunity to state, as you well know, that during the last Session of the Legislature economies of some twenty-three million were effected from the Governor's budget. Of course, we all have our pet projects which must be brought in toward the end of the Session, and that increases the budget, but twenty-three million of dollars was cut from the Governor's recommendations before the budget was finally approved.

This time, as we went into Session, we were faced with decisions on the so-called Chesterman or State Government Study. I am particularly pleased to have the opportunity to tell the Members of this Session that economies have been promised by both the Appropriations Chairmen, in the House and in the Senate, to the extent of upward of thirty millions of dollars.

The Chesterman Report advocated economies by legislative action, that is in addition to those by administrative action, of some $19,915,000. Our chairman and the various members of those committees have assured us that we will, before the Session adjourns, have economies upward of thirty millions of dollars.

Now, Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland, as has been the custom in this Session for some time, immediately, when an issue is evolved, talks about shifting the departments or a Constitutional Convention. We all know that a Constitutional Convention is not going to bring any funds to the Commonwealth. As a matter of fact, estimates were given us that a Constitutional Convention would cost the taxpayers of the State of Pennsylvania somewhere around three-quarters of a million dollars.

The shifting of the departments, Mr. President, talked about by the gentleman, is another offside play. If you will take just a moment to look at your budget, you will find that the moneys recommended for the running of all the departments under the control of the Governor require or have recommended appropriations of some $78,055,000, which is only seven and three-quarters per cent of our total budget. You see, in our total budget are these various and sundry subsidies which are raised on the State level but are returned for local expenditure. With that, again, I agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland. It is a proper method of taxation.

For example, Mr. President, if we wanted to go into detail, we could talk about the school districts in Bucks County where they have recently had a very large United States Steel Plant erected. The plant, as I understand it, is located in one school district, within the confines of one school district, and many of the residents live in another or adjoining school district. That district, where the money must be raised for the education of the children, will not have the privilege of levying taxes against the plant in general. Many other illustrations could be used over the State of Pennsylvania which would point out the advisability of levying many of the taxes for school purposes over a wide area, over the entire State area. So much for that.

Mr. President, in the administration of Public Assistance, our administration stays well in line with the National pattern. A statement recently released by Mrs. Evans, the Secretary of Public Assistance, says, in substance, among other things, Pennsylvania ranked fortieth among the forty-eight States in the assistance cost per capita. We are well in line with that. We know it is going to cost something for administration, and perhaps that administration would be lower, as Senator Dent pointed out, if it were administered at a local level. So long as the public assistance program is to be administered from a State level, we can expect rather large, larger than I like to see and larger than he likes to see, larger than any Member of this Senate wants to see, administrative costs.

Mr. President, I now desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. Senator Dent, did I understand that you would indict the State of Pennsylvania because it has not increased the State budget or, in other words, spent more money?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I said the fact that Pennsylvania had shown a lesser degree of increased taxation was was an indictment of the State in the face of the growth of the other States, and that was the reason that their budgets had grown so high.

Mr. President, if you know the conditions in California and Michigan and North Carolina, you know that there has been a great deal of Federal expenditure in those States for airplane factories, atomic plants and so forth. Therefore, their budgets have increased tremendously on a State-wide basis because of the increased activity within their borders. Therefore, the fact that Pennsylvania's has not increased is an indictment of the fact that we have lost a great deal of the prestige we once formerly held.

Mr. WADE. Thank you very much.

I must admit, Mr. President, that the gentleman is correct. Those States were favored by the Federal Government, and were favored politically as well, during the recent administration.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may I interject right here and say that maybe now we will get something in Pennsylvania?

Mr. WADE. Well, I hope so, I hope that is right, Mr. President.

Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Senator permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I should like to ask the gentleman how long he has been a Member of the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Well, Mr. President, I am a grandfather now, so I guess there is no reason to hide it.

Mr. WADE. I congratulate the gentleman and ask him —Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this is my fifth term.

Mr. WADE. Your fifth term, which would be, according to my multiplication, about twenty years.

May I ask the gentleman further, Mr. President, if, in his recollection, he ever voted against an appropriation bill?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I might answer that very simply and say this. Usually you find, and I think the gentleman is being—well, I would not say unkind, because we do not expect that, but I would say that I voted against as many appropriation bills as he did.

Mr. WADE. Thank you very much.

Mr. President, may I continue further by saying this? So long as I vote for appropriation bills, I feel it is my obligation to find the source of that money to meet those appropriation bills. We just cannot appropriate money and Senator Dent, I am sure, in the interest of fair play will agree that we cannot continue to give almost over $400,000,000 in subsidies to the school districts back home, and we cannot continuously make these commitments without raising the money from some source or other.

Mr. President, I certainly cannot reconcile, in my own mind, any justification or any fair play in a game where you receive the benefits, or your district receives the benefits, where you vote for the benefits and at the same time refuse to go along with the financial program to raise the money.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland tell us whether he would vote for the sales tax? Will the gentleman from Cumberland vote for the sales tax?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I believe that this is the best possible method of raising the needed State funds at this time and, therefore, I will vote for the sales tax as the bill is currently drawn.

Mr. DENT. Thank you very kindly.

Mr. President, two years ago, from January until December, the very things that the gentleman is complaining about now, about being willing to vote for appropriations and not for taxation, was one of the reasons that we stayed in Session from January until December. If I remember rightly, if the newspapers had any truth in them at all, it took him from January until December to make up his mind on the income tax.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not want to protrude myself in this very illuminating discussion between the gentleman from Westmoreland and the gentleman from Cumberland, but politics is a very peculiar thing. I have said repeatedly that regardless of how a political speech is dressed up, it boils down to this. When you are talking about our side, you point with pride; when you are talking about the other side, you view with alarm. Mr. President, that is what we get every time we have one of these dissertations on the floor.

Mr. President, I would like to suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland, with all of the humility and kindness at my command, that we all appreciate the fact that as soon as somebody gets their name in the newspapers, indicating that he might be a candidate for high public office, immediately he becomes the center of attention. When the distinguished District Attorney from the county of Philadelphia was mentioned in the Philadelphia papers as being gubernatorial timber, naturally he became the object of attention from the Majority Party on this side of the aisle. Recently the newspapers have been discussing the question as to whether or not a former distinguished Chief Executive of the Commonwealth, who is now the Junior Senator from Pennsylvania,, the Honorable James Henderson Duff, might be a Republican Candidate for Governor in 1954, and immediately former Governor Duff becomes the target of attention by the distinguished Minority.

Mr. President, this very adept method of suggesting that all evil which might be permeating Capitol Hill is the result of the Duff administration is something that I do not think is borne out by the facts in the case, and I think that just for the record we should keep them straight.

If the gentleman from Allegheny will permit me to have the undivided attention of the Minority Leader, who needs no prompting in dissertations on the floor of the Senate, when Governor Duff's administration—he is going to get it whether he wants it or not.

We have radio and television programs where they say, "No prompting from the audience." If all of the plays have been explained, Senator Dent, if I might return to the discussion of Senator Duff's administration, may I respectfully suggest to you that if you will cull the record of the 1949 Session of the General Assembly, much of this accelerated educational program, which has been the source of much discussion on the floor of this Senate, was not an administration program at that time. It was promulgated by the General Assembly very late in the Session.

With regard to the bonus bill, Mr. President, which was passed in the 1947 Session and then in the 1949 Session and submitted to the people, I listened with a great deal of interest to Senator Dent's comment in which he said that on the floor of the Senate, at that time, he objected to passing the Senate bonus bill unless the tax was also attached in the bill.

Mr. President, I am so sorry that my recollection is not as good as that of the gentleman from Westmoreland and I would appreciate it if, either publicly or privately, he would give me the page number in the Legislative Journal so that I could read those pearls of wisdom which he dropped at that time.

Mr. President, I have before me the Legislative Journal for 1949, at the time that the bill passed the Senate. Mr. President, I find, in perusing that particular page, which is the Session for Tuesday, January 25, 1949, and it is on page 175, of Volume 1, for the 1949 Session, at that time I called up Senate Bill No. 100, which was the amendment to the Constitution, taking its second lap around the track, to be submitted to the people, I called it up, there was no debate, no discussion and the bill passed unanimously. I am confident that wherever the discussion is which the gentleman had, I would be glad to read it at any time.

Mr. President, let me say again, if the gentleman from Westmoreland will recall when the Duff administration terminated in January of 1951, there was, and the records will show this, a surplus in the Duff administration. The exact amount, of course, as the gentleman so frankly and truthfully says, is always difficult to determine, because that seems to be an elastic term which meets budgetary requirements at any time. Of course, there was a surplus. The question of the Duff mortgage on the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is nothing but a political idiom which is used to attempt to discount one of the finest administrations we ever had on Capital Hill.

Mr. President, when the bills were passed to place this school program upon the General Assembly, and passed and placed on the statute books, they were not administration bills. Therefore, by no stretch of the imagination could that be laid at the gentleman's door. I just wanted to keep the record straight on that because

I do not think it is fair, regardless of the political party which might be represented, to indirectly suggest that the individual who had that was responsible at that time for the educational program which was placed on the books.

I think, Mr. President, if the records are consulted, we will find that everybody in the Senate, and I may be wrong about this, voted for those school teachers' salary bills in 1949, which was the start of this accelerated program. I feel that if they are done in that way, perhaps it is true that we should solve these problems as we come along.

Mr. President, I distinctly remember, with regard to the bonus bill, an attempt that was made at one time to attach to the constitutional amendment a provision which would also compel the people to determine the tax method which would be used to raise that, and it was royally eliminated from the resolution by an overwhelming opinion of the gentlemen who were in the Senate at that time.

Mr. President, in regard to some of the economy measures suggested by the gentleman from Westmoreland, with many of those I agree with him wholeheartedly. I would like to see, for example, public assistance transferred to the county level. I would like to see a forthright attempt made to put the accounting system of the Commonwealth on a business-like basis. I would like to see whatever we could call "fat" in any budget that is presented to us eliminated, and I would like to see the bare essentials of government presented to the people just once, I think it should be done, and I am repeating, I assume, the thought of the gentleman from Westmoreland, on a constructive basis and not on a political basis.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have not time to go through all of the messages that I have given to the Senate, and I do not think anybody wants me to, but I just want to read one line.

Yes, Mr. President, the soldiers' bonus bill passed on final passage without any debate. It does that quite often. I think the gentleman knows we usually debate bills on second reading. That has always been the history of it. Incidentally, if you want to know the tax program which was advanced, it was a graduated income tax for the specific purpose of paying for the soldiers' bonus and educational purposes. Senator Elmer Holland put a resolution into the Senate to discharge the committee that was holding the bill in committee. The Republicans voted "nay" and the Democrats voted "aye."

Mr. President, I can also say this. I would like to quote from one of these. I am quoting from the last page of a speech given on the Senate floor when we were discussing the so-called mandated school teachers'—mandating the future subsidies, and I said:

"Personally, I believe the state should carry a larger share of the school cost relating to salaries of teachers. I have always believed in a standardization of teachers' salaries, educational opportunties and scholastic standards. The funds for doing this are or can be made available. There are still untapped sources of revenues if we must have them. For the moment, I believe we can easily add $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 to our appropriation for school purposes if we follow one of the two courses available. First, let us economize in departmental expenditures and, secondly, let us finance school construction for which the Governor requests $26,325,000 this biennium, (page 9, Fourteenth Message)," in case the defender of the truth wants to look it up in the book.

Mr. President, you will also find in this statement, which I would like to give a copy to the Senator from Allegheny County so that he can read it at his leisure, that I had this to say:

"I have come to the conclusion, and I am willing to to listen to arguments to the contary, that our problems can readily be solved on a more enduring basis if we will do three things." This was recommended in 1947 and repeated in 1949.

"(a) The Governor is willing to re-submit his budget.

"(b) The Legislature is not blindly subservient to departmental demands.

"(c) The private interest law be less selfish."

Mr. President, basically, if we had attended to those three items in 1947, we would not be faced with the problem we have today.

In here, I give the entire program for the financing of the soldiers' bonus, Mr. President. If you will remember—and I do not want tto try to draw too much from memory, because my wife will tell you that I am known to be of short memory. However, when we talked about financing the bonus, I called attention to the fact that Governor Martin had taken something like $48,000,000 in surplus funds, and had paid off the authority bonds that were then being financed by a long range program. He had also removed the bank share stock; he had also removed two or three other of the so-called Earle taxes.

Mr. President, each of these taxes were the type of taxes that increased the wealth of those who remained at home during the war. I said then, and I repeat now, that the soldiers' bonus should have been paid out of those taxes which gave the type of wealth in which the soldier could not participate because he was not at home. I thought it was only fair to take that particular tax item, or those tax items, and put upon them a certain amount of increase, or rather to re-establish them after Governor Martin had taken them, in order to pay the soldiers' bonus when they refused to allow the graduated income tax.

Mr. President, I may be accused of many things, and some of them rightly so, maybe many of them. However, one thing I want the Members of the Senate to know, and that is that we have never failed to any time to come up with a tax program for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at any Session of the Legislature, except two years ago, and at that time we were handed the same story which we are handed now. We were told, "You will either take fish soup or you will take nothing." We will not take fish soup.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I dislike very much to continue this discussion, but I just want to put on the record this brief statement that is talked about so much in the Senate, and that is the matter of econmies in the departments. Again I say that we all, on both sides of the aisle, are very much in favor of every possible economy. However, if every dollars of appropriation to run the departments were eliminated from the budget, every dollar of appropriation recommended in the budget were eliminated, that is the departments under the Governor, we would still need $80,000,000, if every nickel of it were taken out.

Second, Mr. President, and with this I must take issue with my friend from Allegheny, Senator Walker. At the same time, I agree with him that we need an accounting system, and it is only because of that that I read from this statement. We do need a more modern accounting system, and I hope that this Session will not adjourn until we have it. He is exactly right.

With that in mind and with that only in mind, Mr. President, let me read from Governor Fine's statement to the Tax Institute last Thursday, here in Harrisburg, at the Zembo Mosque, and I quote:

"One of these arises from laws imposing obligations upon the succeeding Legislature—a practice given definite trends during the last decades. When I came into office"—this is Governor Fine speaking—"in 1951 I found a $440 million Soldiers' Bonus unfinanced and other obligations up to a total of $112 million.

"When we set out to make up the Budget for the 1953-1955 biennium we found additional obligations of $95 million on the books. And due to the acceleration of the corporate net income tax for one-half of 1953, there was a $53 million advantage in revenue in the present biennium which would not reoccur."

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am glad Senator Wade did admit there was no mortgage handed to the Fine administration, just as he is reading from Governor Fine's speech, but the thing I want to talk about is a gentleman that—I have been here I guess thirteen years in the Senate, and I have heard the Republican Party attacked many times from this side, and I have never heard him once get up and defend his party from the floor of the Senate.

Mr. President, last Wednesday, after we left Harrisburg, he gave the hit-and-run stuff. I call him "Hit-and-run Harvey." He handed out something that looks as though Lefty Lush may have written it to the press. In it he told a lot of half-truths, and half-truths, to me, are worse than untruths. I am glad that he is on the other side so that I can give it to him and give it to him in facts. He said that he was very tired, that he has been here too long and we have been voting solidly for appropriations, and sitting back and doing nothing to help raise the money. I just want to give the Republican State Chairman the batting average for the year of 1951.

Mr. President, House Bill No. 841, known as Act No. 108, the vote in the Senate, 50-0; House Bill No. 842, known as Act No. 109, the vote in the Senate, 50-0; House Bill No. 843, known as Act No. 110, the vote in the Senate, 50-0; House Bill No. 844, known as Act No. 11, the vote in the Senate, 40-10; House Bill No. 845, known as Act No. 112, the vote in the Senate, 50-0; House Bill No. 846, known as Act No. 113, the vote in the Senate, 50-0; House Bill No. 848, known as Act No. 115, the vote in the Senate, 50-0; House Bill No. 1303, known as Act No. 345, the vote in the Senate, 50-0; House Bill No. 1348, known ast Act No. 421, the vote in the Senate, 50-0; House Bill No. 1349, known as Act No. 233, the vote in the Senate, 50-0; House Bill No. 1692, known as Act No. 468, the vote in the Senate, 46-2; House Bill No. 1693, known as Act No. 469, the vote in the Senate was on strict party lines, 29-19; House Bill No. 1694, known as Act No. 43, on party lines, 28-20; House Bill No. 1695, known as Act No. 474, the vote in the Senate, 47-1; and House Bill No. 1697, known as Act No. 455, the vote in the Senate, 45-3.

Further, Mr. President, I concur that the Republican State Chairman is so interested in education here in Pennsylvania that he, I am sure, has some influence on the two Republican United States Senators, namely, Senator Martin and Senator Duff, who just last week, by their votes on the tidelands oil, threw out the Hill Resolution which was returning all the money from tidelands oil to the various States for educational purposes and educational purposes alone.

Mr. President, three years ago, we said in our platform that we pledged a Constitutional Convention. The Republicans said the same thing. You have not kept your promise, and we have tried, Mr. Taylor, to keep our promise. We have tried to have you keep your promise. Three years ago we promised no sales tax, and we have tried to keep that promise and we will try to do everything we can to see that there is none. Last year, again, we promised the same thing. If at all possible, we will see that there is no sales tax enacted.

The only way, Mr. Taylor, for you people to show your faith in the people and to the people is to keep your promises of the platform, at which you presided at the meeting in Pittsburgh when the platform was adopted in 1950. You pledged to them that there would be a State Convention for the purpose of having a new State Constitution, and that you have not done.

Mr. President, I have been here fourteen years and I have never heard Senator Taylor defend himself or his party from any attack from this side. If he does not concur in what I have said, I am ready and willing, Senator Taylor, to give you the answers if I have them.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KESSLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, the resolution which I am about to offer has to do with a request for the Joint State Government Commission to re-study the Penal Code.

As I understand it, Mr. President, in 1947 such a study had been made, and a bill was introduced and vetoed finally by Governor Duff, I believe. In 1951, I believe a similar bill was introduced and got lost during the last few days of the Session. I think it is time we had the Penal Code revised again.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO CONTINUE STUDY OF PENAL LAWS

Mr. KESSLER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General:

In the Senate, May 11, 1953.

Whereas, by direction of the General Assembly, the Joint State Government Commission has surveyed, investigated and studied the penal laws of the Commonwealth, and reported thereon to the General Assembly; and

Whereas, it is deemed desirable to correct present inconsistencies and overlapping provisions in existing law, and to revise and codify the said penal laws; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur),

That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to continue to survey, investigate, and consider all of the penal laws of the Commonwealth and to completely revise and restate such penal laws into codified form, and to report its findings and conclusions to the next Regular Session of the General Assembly, with a bill embodying a codification of the penal laws of the Commonwealth to be introduced at the next Regular Session of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, that the Legislative Reference Bureau shall prepare the necessary drafts of all bills agreed on by the Commission and shall furnish such advice and assistance as it may be called upon to furnish.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 130 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 130 for consideration at this time.

Mr. President, for the information of the Members of the Senate, this is the resolution introduced last week by Senator Holland and myself, and it has to do with memorializing Congress regarding the reduction in veterans' hospital accommodations in Pennsylvania.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO CONTINUE POLICY OF PROVIDING MEDICAL AND HOSPITAL CARE FOR VETERANS

In the Senate, May 5, 1953.

Whereas, Hugh H. Hoke, Commander, Department of Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, brings to the attention of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania attacks in the Congress of the United States upon the government hospital and medical treatment program for veterans as well as payment of compensation, and

Whereas, These attacks were subjected to pointed and categorical criticism by James W. Cothran, Bishopville, South Carolina, Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, and

Whereas, the Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States declared that these attacks neglect to present all the facts and thus shamefully cast a shadow of suspicion upon the entire program for providing hospitalization, medical treatment and compensation for disabled veterans, and

Whereas, With the entire United States—yes, the entire United Nations—thrilled over the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners; with the American press, radio and television cooperating to promptly furnish the names of American boys returned from the hell of prison camps and anxious parents, wives and relatives prayerfully watching for the names of their loved ones, yet these attacks daily belabor the program of government care of America's veterans, and

Whereas, With the United States Senate conducting an exhaustive investigation to determine whether our fighting men have enough ammunition to defend themselves with the greatest margin of safety and other investigations solicitous of the welfare of our sons and brothers in deadly combat in Korea it is ill-becoming to cast a shadow of suspicion over the care program for America's disabled veterans and to invite the support of crackpots and cranks who never lose an opportunity to attack the expenditure of money for the care of veterans, and

Whereas, In attacking the hospital and medical program for veterans, a few cases have been cited of well-to-do veterans who have received medical treatment in a Veterans Administration hospital for alleged non-service-connected disabilities, but those few cases are exceptions to the rule and that the great majority of veterans receiving medical treatment at government expense are either service-disabled or unable to pay even a small portion of today's high cost of hospitalization, and,

Whereas, The hospital records of the Veterans Administration hospitals are filled with the names of thousands of all veteran patients in Veterans Administration hospitals are either service-disabled, tubercular, NP or chronic cases, requiring long period of hospitalization for which they cannot afford to pay. It was further pointed out by the V. A. Medical Director that unless the Federal Government provides the care for those men who have served their country in time of war or national emergency, the states and counties will have to assume the burden or let them die on the streets, and

Whereas, The Veterans Administration, because of inadequate funds, according to their own public reports, has been forced to close down hundreds and hundreds of hospital beds, terminate related personnel and defer providing out-patients treatment to veterans who have service-connected disabilities and who have been approved for treatment. Even now hundreds of tubercular veterans and veterans suffering with mental conditions are walking the streets constituting a menace to their families, friends and the general public because they are unable to obtain hospitalization and medical treatment, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives Concur) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to continue this country's historical record and policy of providing medical and hospital care for every veteran suffering from service-connected disabilities, or if not so connected, such veterans are without personal funds for such medical and hospital care, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States; Speaker of the House of Representatives, Joseph W. Martin, Jr.; Senator Edward Martin, Senator James H. Duff, and each member of the Pennsylvania Congressional Delegation.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 130 ADOPTED

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to vote "aye" for this resolution, and I just want to call the attention of Senator Wade to the fact that we now have a Republican President in Washington, and not only is he not giving us anything but he is taking it away from us.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. KESSLER and FLEMING (By request) read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 575, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by providing for vocational education through area technical schools; conferring powers and imposing duties on school directors, county superintendents and county boards of school directors; increasing the membership of the board in counties of the second class; and providing for reimbursements by the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

HOUSE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL NO. 122 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 122, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend subsection C of section two hundred twenty-one of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" by exempting certain members of the armed forces from the payment of a fee to the Commonwealth for resident and non-resident fishing licenses.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill as amended will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at today's session.

Which was agreed to.

JOHN S. FINE.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 6, 1953.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following:

MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF KUTZTOWN STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Wililam S Troxell, Allentown, from September 22, 1952, until the third Tuesday of January, 1955, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

JOHN S. FINE.

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr.. WATKINS,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Bane,	Hare,	McMenamin,	Toole,
Barr,	Harney,	McPherson, Jr.	Wade,

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

NOMINATIONS TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I call from the table the nominations by the Governor on January 6, 1953, for membership on the Pennsylvania Securities Commission, for the purpose of consideration at this time.

The nominations were read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 6, 1953.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

MEMBERS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA SECURITIES COMMISSION

Raymond A. Cox, Meadville, from January 23, 1952, until the third Tuesday of January, 1955, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

J. Myron Honigman, Philadelphia, from January 23, 1952, until the third Tuesday of January, 1955, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

JOHN S. FINE.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I believe the nomination of John Conly is still in committee.

Mr. WATSON. It is being held up, Senator.

Mr. HOLLAND. Can you tell us by whom? There are no Democrats against it.

Mr. WATSON. No, I cannot tell you by whom, but it has not been O.K.'D.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, it seems strange that a man who has served on the Commission and has done a fine job, that his name is being held up. I would like to know if there is anything he has done as a Commissioner which should hold up his nomination.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I cannot answer the gentleman from Allegheny because I do not know why.

Mr. HOLLAND. You do not know why he is being held up?

Mr. WATSON. No. sir.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, eighteen members of the Senate here, on our side, are ready to vote for Mr. Conly if his name is put pefore the Senate. I think the best thing which we can do from now on is, I am serving notice, that we will not approve any nomination until we find out why Mr. Conly's being held up.

If there is anything questionable in the carrying on of his business office, we would like to know it, Mr. President. I think that is the only reason why he should be held up, but from all indications and from all reports I have received, he has been a very efficient Commissioner. He has done his job very well, and I would like to know why his name is held up.

Mr. President, I am now serving notice on the Republican Party that I am asking my colleagues not to approve any more appointments until we have received a report on why Mr. Conly has not been approved.

Mr. WATSON. It is perfectly agreeable to me, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as folows, xiz:

YEAS—48

Bane,	Hare,	McMenamin,	Toole,
Barr,	Harney,	McPherson, Jr.	Wade,

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 35, Printer's No. 171, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 48, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 1 of the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 2015) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1043) entitled 'An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties' by extending certain benefits heretofore granted to school employes entering the armed forces of the United States to certain other similarly qualified school employes" by extending the provisions of said act to employes reemployed by any school district or vocational school district by which employed immediately prior to entrance into the armed forces of the United States

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1 of the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 2015) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. Less than a Constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will you repeat that vote? What was the total vote?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. "Yeas" fifteen, "nays" twenty-nine.

Mr. DENT. The bill falls?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is correct.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is too late to do anything about it, but we cannot keep giving lip service. This is a bill which does not interfere with any department—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the next bill on the Calendar is Senate Bill No. 517. As I understand it, we have finished with Senate Bill No. 419, and I think the gentleman is out of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair rules the point of order is well taken.

REQUEST FOR INTERROGATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. No, Mr. President, the next bill is Senate Bill No. 517, and I am ready to take action on that bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, you can take action on that and then I will interrogate him.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President. I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 517, Printer's No. 186, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 519, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 1 of the act approved the tenth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (Appropriation Act page 27 Act No. 19-A) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Commerce out of the Motor License Fund for the use of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission" by providing for the transfer of certain appropriations from the Department of Commerce to the Department of Internal Affairs for the use of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission

Section 1 Section 1 of the act approved the tenth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (Appropriation Act page 27 Act No 19-A) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Commerce of the Motor License Fund for the use of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 So much of the moneys as shall be determined by the Department of Revenue in the Motor License Fund as are derived after May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-seven from the tax on liquid fuels sold for use in aircraft is hereby specifically appropriated to the [Department of Commerce] Department of Internal Affairs for the following purposes (a) for the proper conduct of the work of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission including payment of expenses of the commission and th salaries or other compensation of an executive director and other employes for the payment of general expenses supplies printing equipment an dmaintenance and repairs of landing fields intermediate landing fields landing field equipment beacon sites other air navigation facilities and for the encouragement and development of civil aeronautics and (b) for the development and maintenance of State airports for assistance to political subdivisions and municipal authorities of the Commonwealth in the construction and improvement of airports and other aeronautical facilities including the making of surveys and plans and the necessary construction work and equipment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 519 is similar to Senate Bill No. 419 in one particular, in that they are both designed as economy measures. Under Senate Bill No. 519, which is up before us at this time, we are falling in line with the bill that was passed in the Senate which eliminated the Department of Commerce, and by so doing we have to find now a resting place for the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission.

Mr. President, it is sound to vote for this bill because, as I understand it from the few facts I could get from the Chesterman Committee, this is designed as an economy measure. In following up the study on Senate Bill No. 519, I discovered that Senate Bill No. 419 would have saved and given Pennsylvania probably $1,000,000, in purchasing through a centralized procurement office in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I think the Senate was very lax in talking for economy and turning that bill down.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Bane,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Taylor,

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 61, entitled:

An Act providing for the appointment of a board of visitation in counties of the first class for institutions societies and associations caring for dependent neglected or delinquent children for the making of nominations of appointment thereto and for the duties of such board

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I had intended to make a rather extended statement today but in deference to the latenes of the hour, I will be very brief.

Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow, time drags its way on leaden feet. I wonder whether the majority party is qualifying as the chief attendants in the Temple of Manana. How long, oh how long will you continue to be cruel!

You know when you catch a fish you do not keep him on the hook squirming one month, two months, three months, four months. Why be crueler to the wiggling Members of the majority, hooked on these particular bills, than you would be to some poor fish?

We have no objection to your passing over these bills. That is a part of your policy. But eventually you must screw your courage to the sticking point and march up to the line.

The reason I am talking today is that I notice in a statement issued by the State Chamber of Commerce that there is a movement to entice—they use the word entice—that the Governor is going to entice; or the Speaker is going to entice; or somebody is going to entice Democrats to vote for the sales tax bill. Now, one of the standard definitions of "entice" is to seduce, and I am simply rising today to tell you that I do not believe any member of the Democratic minority is subject to seduction, notwithstanding the charms of the seducer.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 608, Printer's No. 83, on page 17 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Mr. GUTHRIE asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 626, Printer's No. 130, on page 18 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.
